VICTIMS OF THE HEAT.

Over a Hundred Die In New York City.

DEATHS IN MANY OTHER CITIES.

Ambulance Gong Rings a Constant Knell Through the Streets of the Metropolis, Horses Fall in the Traces, Men Droop and Die.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The number of deaths caused by the heat in Greater New York for the day makes a total of about 100 and additional victims are being recorded hourly. The prostrations are almost innumerable and no accurate estimate of them can be made. Ambulances and patrol wagons have been rushing about all day, the clamor of their gongs becoming a familiar sound. Street car horses have dropped in the traces by scores. Out of door work has been largely suspended and many factories are temporarily closed.

Sunday night was the hottest of the summer, the climax of the present torrid spell, and one of the hottest known in the city for years. Morning brought no relief, and at 8 a. m. the thermometer stood five degrees higher than at the same hour Sunday, but as the humidity was less intense than on the preceding day there was less discomfort in the atmosphere. Early in the morning there was but 50 per cent of humidity, which is rather below the normal.

The official record of temperature from 8 a. m. follows: 8 a. m., 83; 9, 84; 10, 86; 11, 88; 12 noon, 89; 1 p. m., 90; 2, 88; 3, 90; 4, 90.

These tests were taken on the roof of one of the highest buildings in the city. The street temperature, taken in the shade at a point near the center of the city, was 80 at 9 a. m., rose to 87 at 11, to 90 at 1 p. m., to 92 at 3, and at 6 had fallen to 87 and further dropped to 85 at 8 p. m.

Suffering has been most intense in the tenement sections, where poor people are unable to get breathing space. In these sections the charitable organizations have had their hands full, many infants and children succumbing to sunstroke.

The hospitals were obliged to call on the police departments to aid them in responding to calls, as their ambulances could not cope with the number of cases reported. So police patrol wagons were pressed into service to carry heat victims to the hospitals.

Many other wagons were used to carry away dead and disabled animals.

The death list from the heat continues to grow, the total deaths reported in New York and neighboring cities being 140.

VICTIMS OF THE SUN.

Another Day of Fearful Heat and Scores of Fatalities.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Another day of the fearful heat which is oppressing this section has added a page of fatalities and suffering more remarkable than its predecessors.

In New York city, in Brooklyn and all the adjacent towns and throughout the states of New York and New Jersey the day's reports of deaths and prostrations overshadow the record of any other day in many years.

In this city alone the death list for 24 hours footed up at midnight, contains more than 100 names. Brooklyn adds about 20 to the list and the heat severe in suburban towns brings the total to 140.

Men and women walking along the streets have dropped in their tracks and died before physicians or priests could be summoned and cart horses have died as though stricken by a plague.

Many factories have been closed and outdoor workers have been compelled to drop their tools and find shelter during the hours when the sun was at its height.

Particularly among policemen and letter carriers has the suffering been intense, and many have been compelled to stop work from both forces. Along the business streets men have walked with umbrellas over their heads, with coats on their arms and fans in their hands. The hospitals of this city are crowded to their full capacity, while the doctors and nurses have been kept at work night and day until many of them have succumbed to the strain. The department of public works has come to the relief of the tenement house districts, and forces of men with hose carts are patrolling the streets of these sections and flooding them with water from the corner hydrants. Men, women and children rush in groups under the streams from the hose, and the night scenes among the tenements as the relief parties make their rounds are unprecedented. Unless tonight brings relief, many prostrations are looked for in the Madison Square Garden meeting, and preparations are being made for a special force of medical men and for special ambulances.

The thermometer has for the past six nights fallen but a few degrees from the limits registered during the hottest part of the day. The heat on Monday night held almost stationary at 81 degrees until 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning, and as soon as the sun began to ascend the thermometer did likewise, until all previous records for Aug. 11 were broken. The highest previous record for Aug. 11 was 93 degrees in 1891 and 92 degrees in 1892, while yesterday it registered up on the top of the Manhattan Life Insurance building, where the weather bureau is situated, 93.5-10 degrees, and the humidity, which is far worse than the boiling sun, stood at 70, and down on the streets it was not less than five degrees warmer.

The official temperature beginning at noon was as follows: 12 noon, 90; 1 p. m., 89; 2 p. m., 93; 3 p. m., 93.5-10; 4 p. m., 93; 5 p. m., 92; 6 p. m., 97, and 7 p. m., 93, and up to midnight the temperature did not drop but a few points, registering 85.

Nineteen Fatalities In Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 10.—The heat here was wellnigh unbearable. From noon until after dark there was but slight variation in the reading of the thermometer. The maximum was reached between 4 and 5 p. m., when the mercury rose to a fraction above 97 degrees and at 6 p. m. a relative humidity of 62 prevailed.

Within the past 24 hours there have been reported 19 fatalities and over 80 prostrations.

Terrific Heat In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The continued heat has greatly effected policemen and letter carriers. About 50 of the latter have been compelled to quit work temporarily and two or three may die. Some of the big [illegible] have been during the last few days been practically turned into hospitals.

The girl clerks have fainted by the dozen at their counters and hundreds of them have quit work on account of the heat.

Thirty-six persons died yesterday.

It is estimated that over 1,000 animals killed by the heat are lying in different parts of the city and the authorities admit they are unable to remove them promptly.

One Fatality in Rochester.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 10.—The humidity here was 25 degrees above the average, and the temperature 87, which caused much suffering. One prostration resulted fatally, Gustave Selke dying at the City hospital from the effects of a sunstroke.

Eighteen Deaths at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—There were 18 deaths and 80 prostrations from the heat in this city. It was the hottest day this year. The thermometer reached its highest at 4 p. m., 92, with 92 humidity at 8 a. m. was 72 and at 8 p. m. fell to 65.

Two Death at Albany.

ALBANY, Aug. 10.—Patrolman Gannon, 10 years on the force, was sunstruck on the Hawkstreet viaduct near the Capitol. He died at the City hospital. John Payne, a lumber handler, overcome by the heat on Friday, died at St. Peter's hospital.

ATLANTIC CITY VERDICT

Blame For the Recent Disaster Placed by the Coroner's Jury.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 8.—The inquest on the recent railway disaster has closed. The coroner's jury rendered separate verdicts. The first is signed by the entire six jurors and recites the known causes leading to the collision between the trains. The second verdict is signed by Charles Evans, foreman, Thomas J. Dickerson and Charles E. Adams. These jurors find "that Engineer Edward Farr of the Atlantic City railroad failed to have his engine under proper control in approaching the crossing and that Towerman George F. Hauser, in giving the excursion train of the West Jersey the right of way over a fast express, used bad judgment. We are also of the opinion that Engineer John Grenier of said excursion train erred in not using greater care in crossing ahead of said fast express."

The third verdict was signed by Lewis Evans, L. C. Albertson and J. H. Champion. It says:

"The cause of the collision was the failure of Edward Farr, engineer of train No. 23, to give heed in time to the semaphore signals set against him, and thus failed to have his train under proper control on approaching the signal and crossing under the rules. The towerman, George F. Hauser, may have used poor judgment in his estimate of the distance away of the Atlantic City railroad train No. 23, when he gave the white board to the West Jersey and seashore excursion train No. 70. Hauser, not being held criminally responsible, will be discharged by the coroner.

TRIPLE LYNCHING.

Three Italian Murderers Strung Up by a Louisiana Mob.

HAHNVILLE, La., Aug. 10.—There was a triple lynching in this town and the bodies of three Italian murderers were found swinging from the rafters of a shed near the courthouse. One of the men is Lorenzo Saladino who so foully assassinated Jules Guemard at Freetown last Tuesday night, and the other two were Decino Sorcoro and Angelo Marcuso, who murdered an old Spaniard on the Ashton plantation near Bouttes station some time ago.

Ever since the murder of Guemard this parish has been at a fever heat of excitement over the affair, and even on the first night after the murder it was with great difficulty that Sheriff Cory prevented the lynching of Saladino. He spirited him away in the woods and kept him there over night and then the next day took him to the new jail in Hahnville. In the meantime the evidence grew against Saladino and feeling correspondingly grew in intensity.

About 11:30 o'clock at night the mob, which had concentrated on the outskirts of the town, began to move on the jail. They captured the old negro guard and by the vigorous use of axes, with which they were well supplied, soon demolished the jail and cell doors and took the prisoners out and executed them.

Prominent Young Man in Trouble.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Alfred Edward Foote, son of a wealthy Philadelphian and grandson of Rear Admiral Foote, is under arrest here for grand larceny. He is accused of robbing Miss Martha H. Smith of Norwich, Conn., who was visiting in Hamilton with a family with which Foote was also visiting. Foote, who is a boy of about 19 years, stole Miss Smith's diamonds to the extent of $900 worth and pawned a ring in Utica and the rest in New York. He came back from New York and was arrested here. The pawn tickets were found on his person and he made a full confession.

Toronto Board of Trade In Trouble.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—The Toronto board of trade is in serious financial difficulties. The New York Life Insurance company holds a first mortgage for $280,000 at 4½ per cent and the board is unable to meet the interest payment. They offer to pay 3 per cent and the New York Life has taken the offer into consideration and has promised an answer in a few days. The building has never paid, there being at the present time 48 offices unoccupied. It is within the range of the probable, that the insurance company will foreclose.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—A special from Raleigh, N. C., says: Senator Butler has called a meeting of the national Populist committee, to be held at Washington next Tuesday, to decide on the immediate opening of headquarters at Washington.

REVOLT AT ELMIRA.

Inmates of the Reformatory Attack the Keepers.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Seventy of the lower second grade inmates of the state reformatory were taken out on to the large parade ground to drill under charge of Principal Keeper Sample and Captain Adams.

After the exercises were over and as the inmates were returning to the building some of the men pitched upon Sample and Adams, assaulting them with iron buckets. Both were borne to the ground, but Sample shot one of the convicts in the leg, and in response to a general alarm 25 guards, armed with Winchester rifles, appeared on the scene and succeeded in quelling the riot.

Sample and the wounded convict are in the hospital. Adams was also badly injured. The rioters have been placed in solitary confinement.

It appears evident that a plot had been laid to escape, and had the convicts succeeded in getting Sample and Adams out of the way they would have made a dash for the walls, and some of them might have got over.

Had it not been for the prompt action of the guards the attempted wholesale jail delivery would have been successful. The men implicated are the worst in the institution, having been reduced for some violation of the rules.

REBELLION IN FORMOSA.

Natives Revolt Against the Cruelties of the Japanese.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Mail advices from the Orient tell of a rebellion which has broken out in the center of the island of Formosa. Hoonim, the camphor center, was attacked on June 27. It is supposed the few Japanese there, numbering about a dozen, including the gendarmes, were killed, and it is feared that D. D. Ollis, an European, has also fallen a victim. The town is supposed to have been sacked and the loss to foreigners will be considerable.

This state of affairs is said to be due to the cruelties committed by the Japanese in the country and to the arrogance and the general misconduct of officials.

Murray Hill Bank Suspends.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Murray Hill bank, which has suspended, was organized in 1870. It has been regarded as one of the stronger of the smaller up-town institutions. It is understood that there is due its 1,700 depositors about $1,200,000. The customers of the bank were chiefly local tradesmen and it had some brewery accounts. The capital of the bank was $100,000. E. T. Hopkins is president.
