Before Painting—Consult Your Skilled Craftsman

When you have decided to repaint, whether it's your entire home or simply a single room, first of all enlist the services of a reputable, experienced Painting Contractor. Your Painting Contractor is a seasoned craftsman. Under his able guidance the work is done quickly, capably. You will also find him a practical and talented artist. So, if you want the job done right, call your Painting Contractor. Experience, too, enables your Dealer to be of great assistance to you. He knows paint thoroughly. He knows paint thoroughly. He will give you sound, practical advice on whatever paint job you may undertake. And, if you like, he will summon a reputable Painting Contractor for you. He knows that good paint is always a good investment—for you, for him. Call on your Dealer. You'll find him friendly, helpful, courteous.

There are a few important points which everyone must bear in mind when planning to have painting done—whether the object to be painted is a broom handle or a complete house. First of all, proper surface preparation is vital. The very life and beauty of the job depend upon the way you prepare the surface. Surfaces must be clean, smooth and dry. When old paint is peeling or chipping, it is often necessary to burn or scape off the entire surface. For it's a rough job to repaint over a poor paint job. If any of the chipped or peeled paint is left it will soon start to peek off the new coats. Start with a perfectly smooth surface; wire brushing and sanding assure a satisfactory surface. When your surface is sanded or scraped smooth, be sure that all cracks and nail holes are carefully filled to prevent moisture from getting into the wood. All loose boards must be nailed down tightly. Once moisture gets into the wood, it pushes the paint film from the surface, causing blisters. Then when the job is ready for the paint, be sure to pick the proper finish.

Q. The color of our wood-shingled roof is beginning to fade. How can it be renewed?

A. A shingle stain of the same color as that originally used may be applied over the shingles. The stain should be applied in a thin even coat. The shingles should be thoroughly dry. Prepared stains can be obtained at most paint dealers.

Ideal Temperature

Most persons think that 70 degrees is the ideal room temperature, but some heating experts say that comfort for many inactive persons requires at least 72 degrees and in cold, dry weather as high as 78 degrees. In very cold weather, it is pointed out, the human body radiates heat to cold walls and windows, causing a chilly feeling. Absence of moisture in the air causes a sensation of cold.

SAVES LABOR—Super Mural-tone is on friendly terms with a wide brush—it just devours wall area. And one coat is usually sufficient.

SAVES MATERIAL—One gallon of Super Mural-tone makes at least 1½ gallons of paint. The "mixing" is done with water.
