Citation for Proof of Will.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, by the Grace of God, Free and Independent. To Mary O'Nei, Kate McDonell, William K. Shaughnessy, Mary Hughes, Margaret Fleming, Catherine Crowley and John Shaughnessy, heirs at law and next of kin to Margaret O'Shaughnessy, deceased, send Greeting:

Whereas, Anna FitzPatrick, the executor named in a certain instrument in writing, bearing date March 8, 1886, purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Margaret O'Shaughnessy, late of the City of Rochester, in said County of Monroe and State of New York, deceased, and relating to both real and personal estate, has lately made application to the Surrogate's Court of our County of Monroe, to have said instrument proved and recorded as a Will of personal and real estate, you and each of you are cited and required to appear before the Surrogate of the County of Monroe, at his office in the City of Rochester, in said County of Monroe, New York, on the 17th day of December, 1894, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of said last Will and Testament. And if any of the aforesaid persons are under the age of twenty-one years, they will please take notice that they are required to appear by their general guardian, if they have one, and if they have none that they appear and apply for the appointment of a special guardian, or in the event of their neglect or failure to do so, a special guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings for the probate of said will.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the County of Monroe, to be hereto affixed.

(L. S.) Witness, Hon. J. A. Adlington, Surrogate of said County, at the City of Rochester, this 16th day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four

WILLIAM L. KIEFER, Clerk Surrogate's Court.

Beans and Dollars.

Several customers were chatting in a Lafayette avenue grocery store one evening recently when the grocer pointed to a half barrel of small beans and asked how many of them it would require to make a bushel.

Various estimates were offered. One man recklessly put the number down at 50,000, which occasioned a laugh from all the others who had guessed a much lesser quantity, ranging all the way from 5,000 to 20,000.

"Well, gentlemen," remarked the grocer, "you are all wrong. There are approximately 119,000 beans in a bushel."

No one was inclined to believe him until he showed them that it took 60 beans, selected at random, to weigh half an ounce. The rest of the calculation was simple.

"Now, then," said one of the party, "since we are engaged in guessing contests, how many dollar bills would it take to weigh as much as a silver dollar?"

One said 100, another said 75, while the grocer, who knew all about beans, put the figures at 300.

"All wrong," remarked the man. "It takes just 22." This was proved to be the case by experiment.—New York Herald.

The Mind Reading Boy.

The policeman had been standing on the corner for about ten minutes, and a foxy looking boy sitting on a nearby doorstep was watching him. The boy's curiosity overcame him at last, and he sidled along up to the officer.

"I say, Mr. Copper," he said at a safe distance, "what are you standin on this corner for?"

"That's my business," he replied curtly.

"Well, you seem to be 'tendin to it," ventured the boy.

"That's what I'm paid for."

"Alle samee," chirruped the lad, "I know what you're standin there for."

"I'll give you a nickel if you'll tell me," bantered the officer as he held out a coin to the kid.

"Throw it to me," said the boy, keeping his distance warily.

"Not much. You tell me what I'm standing here for, and I'll give it to you."

The boy came up close enough to reach the coin. "You're standin here fur ten minutes," he said, with a grab at the money, and the officer chased him in vain.—Detroit Free Press.

Recording the Losses.

In primitive times, when men went to fight, it is hardly supposable that anything like a roster was kept, no [illegible] bulletin printed, "Dead, Missing, Wounded." According to tradition, the [illegible] employed to record the losses in [illegible] simple. Before going into the [illegible] took a stone and de[illegible] After the battle [illegible]

CONNAUGHT

GALWAY.

In Ballinasloe an inquest was held on the body of Mary Morrissey, a widow, aged 62, who lost her life through suffocation by a fire which occurred the previous day in a store-room occupied by Mr. Thomas Claffy, grocer and spirit merchant, Main st. As soon as it was known that the old woman was in the burning building a man named Pat Burke made a desperate effort to reach her, and found her lying dead on the lobby outside her own door. He took her up in his arms, carried her across the room, and handed her to two policemen, who were on a ladder. The verdict of the jury was that she died from suffocation, and that no blame was attachable to any one in connection with the affair. On the motion of Mr. Cogavin, one of the jury, a resolution was passed, calling on the Royal Humane Society to make some recognition of the bravery of Patrick Burke.

MAYO.

In Liverpool Mr. George Ramsay Livingstone, of the well-known firm of Haughton & Livingstone, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver, in his office. Mr. Livingstone, who was well known in the West of Ireland as a member of a distinguished Westport family, had been in ill health for several years. In April last, he suffered greatly upon the death of his brother, Mr. William Livingstone, of Westport, and since he had been subject to fits of melancholia. In view of the condition of his health he had resolved to retire from business, and but a few moments before the impulse which seems to have come upon him to take his own life, he had settled the terms of a circular to be issued the same evening, announcing his retirement.

ROSCOMMON.

At the Castlerea Quarter Sessions, before County Court Judge O'Connor, Lord De Freyne brought ejectments on title against Maria Reid, Anne Duignan, John Giblin, and several other tenants. When the case against Giblin had been called on, Mr. McDonnell said he would like to make an offer which he hoped his Honor would entertain for the sake of the people and that of the unfortunate De Freyne estate. His position was that the same terms be offered the tenants before the court as were offered to other tenants by Lord De Freyne—to pay two years' rent by the 1st of January. Mr. Blakeney said he could not undertake to say that Lord De Freyne would accede, whereupon the Court threatened to put him on court terms and stay all further proceedings. Ultimately the cases were allowed to till January next.

SLIGO.

In the Northern Divisional Police Court, Dublin, before Mr. O'Donnel, Mr. Martin W. Philips, J.P., Postmaster of Sligo, charged on remand with having committed wilful perjury while being examined in the Bankruptcy Court, on the 27th July, 1894, was returned for trial at the City Commission. In consequence, the office of Postmaster in Sligo is vacant, and already there is a crop of candidates in the field, amongst them being Mr. Sampson, Chief Clerk in the Sligo office at present, and Mr. Hudson, formerly an official in the office, and for many years engaged in the postal service.

At the last meeting of the Sligo Board of Guardians, Mrs. Bruen, retired hospital nurse, was allowed a superannuation of £17 10s. per annum subject to the sanction of the Local Government Board.

A woman named McNevin, originally from Sligo, was knocked down by a car at Kilmain, near Ballinrobe, and died next day from the injuries

LEINSTER.

CARLOW.

At Carlow Quarter Sessions before Judge Kane, the case of Caroline M. Orr and others against Matthew Walker and the Carlow Vindicator newspaper, which was an ejectment to recover possession of premises held by defendants and used as a printing and publishing office, came before the court. It appeared that the premises had been taken, in July 1892, on surrender of the previous tenant, at an annual rent of £24, and that no payment had since been made. The case for the defendants was that they were not the tenants. M. E. T. Mulhall, who represented the defendants, said that the house had been taken as committee rooms for the Parnellite Party, at the general election of 1892. A witness was called who swore that, to the best of his knowledge, the signature to an attornment produced by plaintiffs had been signed by Matthew Walker, who was described as proprietor of the Vindicator. The Judge held that the defendants were tenants, and gave a decree for possession, which will also carry a judgment for the unpaid rent against some parties

DUBLIN.

Miss Caroline Perceval has passed the examination of the degree of Bachelor in Music of the Royal University of Ireland. Miss Perceval is a pupil of Dr. Collison.

The Dublin Gazette announces that the Lords Justices have appointed Mr. William Findlater, D.L., to be a member of the Loan Fund Board for Ireland.

KILDARE.

The Countess of Mayo suggests, through the column of the Leinster Leader, the opening of a public laundry in the town of Naas for the purpose of giving employment to the poor women of that town.

KILKENNY.

Mr. M. Shelly, of Callan, and a few other local Gaels, are engaged in the work of organizing a big Gaelic tournament for hurling and football clubs, in Callan. Valuable medals will be awarded to the winning teams, and medals will also be given to the captains. It is likely that a hurling team will compete from Kilkenny, but the football club have not decided to send a team.

KING'S.

Mr. Jeffrey J. Fay, LL.B., has been sworn in a solicitor of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Ireland. Mr. Fay was awarded a special certificate at the final examination, having previously graduated with honors in the Royal University, and having also obtained first place with honors at the LL.B. examination. Mr. Fay intends practicing in Birr.

LONGFORD.

Michael O'Neill, who was arrested at Liverpool, charged with the murder of John O'Neill, at Creelaghta, was remanded by the resident magistrate for eight days. The police are searching for another suspected person.

LOUTH.

The results of the municipal elections in Dundalk leave the balance of political parties undisturbed there. Messrs. W. Bryne, and J. Carroll (Middle Ward), James Johnson (North Ward), and John McCartan (South Ward), were returned unopposed. The only contest was in Seatown, where the outgoing Commissioners were John P. Hamill and Bernard Hamill. Both gentlemen are sterling Nationalists and prominent members of the local branch of the Federation, Mr. J. P. Hamill being vice-president of that body. They were opposed by candidates of considerable local influence, in the Redmondite interest, Redmondite vote was cast solid for Messrs. Terence O'Hanlon, Bridge street, and Patrick Byrne, Barrack street; but notwithstanding this the Nationalist candidates beat them by a clear majority of a hundred.

MEATH.

Mr. J. C. Sullivan, of Navan, has purchased the celebrated racehorse Rouge Dragon, by Bend Or, out of Tiger Lily, by Macaroni, her dam Polly Agnes, by The Cure, and he will keep company with Winkfield at the Kilberry stud next season.

QUEENS.

A public meeting was held in Mountmellick Schoolhouse, for the purpose of considering the question of the drainage of the river Borrow, and to advocate the adoption of the esheme with its view. Mr. William Goff Pim, occupied the chair.

WESTMEATH.

A motion to appoint three delegates on a deputation to Mr. John Moley, in favor of amnesty, was carried at the last meeting of the Athlone Town Commissioner.

WEXFORD.

Recently the marriage took place, in New Rose parish church, of Mr. Michael Murphy, of the well-known firm of Palgrave, Murphy & Co., the famous steamship owners in Dublin, and Miss Elizabeth Fitzpatrick.

WICKLOW.

The annual election of the Bray Township Commissioners was held in the Town Hall. There were six candidates for three seats in the East Ward; three candidates for one seat in the West Ward, and two candidates for one in Little Bay Ward. The contest resulted in the return of all the outgoing Commisioners.

WATERFORD.

The result of the Dungarvan Town Commissioners' election has been declared. The following were declared elected for Dungarvan Ward—E. Keohan [N], 118; Thomas Flynn [N], 102; Michael Barry [N], 98; John Mooney [N], 93. The Redmondites canvassed night and day, but all their efforts were unavailing, and the result of the poll showed that Dungarvan is thoroughly Nationalist.

MUNSTER.

CLARE.

At Killaloe Mr. W. J. Fitzpatrick has been elected Petty Sessions Clerk by five votes to three in favor of Head-Constable Hope.

CORK.

There are 2,470 more names on the general Parliamentary list of voters in Cork County this year, as compared with last year. Thus the constituency is increased by nearly three thousand names.

At Passage Petty Sessions, Anne Lenihan, a young girl, was sentenced to two months imprisonment for having stolen a gold ring.

Mr. Thomas Manifold, who has been for the ten last years the principal railway official, next to the station master, at Queenstown, has been promoted to the more important position of station master at Cahirciveen. Mr. Manifold is a Limerick man.

A man named Jeremiah Mahony, living at Inchinassig, near Macroom, who is accused of taking the grazing of an evicted farm, was fired at recently. Several arrests have been made.

KERRY.

Constable George Hewitt, who has been attached to Tralee station for the past eight years, has left to join the reserve force at Dublin.

The election of Chairman of the Tralee Town Commissioners resulted in a prominent and active Nationalist, Mr. St. John H. Donovan, J.P., being elected by 11 to 9 votes.

LIMERICK.

Owing to the prolonged dry season the river Shannon, at Limerick, is abnormally low for this advanced time of the year, the waters being below even the July level, and the city water supply threatens to be more or less affected. The old works at Rhebogue have had to be set going to keep up the supply.

An old woman, Mrs. Jane Fitzgerald, was burned to death in a house in Henry street, Limerick. It is surmised that she had got out of bed, and getting too near the fireplace, her nightdress caught fire, and being in a very weak condition, she was unable to call loud enough to attract attention of those in the house.

TIPPERARY.

Dr. Thomas Laffan has, owing to some complication in connection with the Town Commissioners, tendered his resignation as a member of that body. He was chairman of the Board for about 16 years.

The elections of Town Commissioners took place in Nenagh, and the Redmondites secured only one seat out of the seven which they boasted at the beginning of the contest they were going to secure.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.

The Right Rev. Dr. Lanigan, Bishop of Goulburn, New South Wales, conferred the orders of diaconate and sub-diaconate on a number of Passionist students attached to St. Mary's Mount, Goulburn. Among those who were raised to the diaconate was the Rev. Father Oswald Donelly, O.P., of Belfast. The Rev. Father Callistus Henry, O.P., also a citizen of Belfast, was one of the assistant priests at the ordination service.

ARMAGH.

An inquest was held by Mr. Thomas Phelan, J.P., Coroner for South Monaghan, on the body of Robert Martin, of Muckno, County Armagh, whose dead body was found in a pool near Castleblaney. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death from drowning.

CAVAN.

In Belturbet an election for three Commissioners took place in room of Messrs. T. Boland, Philip Kennedy, and Peter Fitzpatrick, who were going out by rotation, and were opposed by two Redmondites and one Tory—Messrs. George Reyburn, Jas. Bogue, and Wm. Winslow. The result was as follows—Timothy Boland, Nationalist, 83; Philip Kennedy, Nationalist, 79; Peter Fitzpatrick, Nationalist, 78; George Reyburn, Conservative, 46; James Bogue, Redmondite, 35; Wm. Winslow, Redmondite, 35. The result was received with loud applause.

DERRY.

The Parliamentary revision just concluded in Derry city leaves the Nationalists with a clear majority of 100. The seat was won by the Tories at the last general election owing to the defection of the Redmondites.

DONEGAL.

Mr. James O'Sullivan, of Mountcharles, has been sworn in a Justice of the Peace for the County of Donegal, before Mr. Patrick Gallagher, J.P., Donegal.

DOWN.

The spire on St. Patrick's Memorial Church, Downpatrick, is almost completed, workmen at present being engaged in giving it the finishing touches. The new bell, which is, like the tower and spire, the bequest of the late Mr. Anthony Mechan, Downpatrick, has been received from Byrne's Foundry, Dublin. The weight of the bell is two tons and a half, its cost being £300.

MONAGHAN.

The ladies who had charge of the stalls and tables at the bazaar in aid of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Clones, made their returns to the Very Rev. Canon O'Neill, P.P. The gross total handed in amounted to over £1,300. A prize of a gold watch was to be presented to the lady who had the largest return to make, and it was secured by Mrs. E. P. Murray, who headed the list with a sum of £257 0s. 3d. In connection with this table, also, the Misses Kerr handed in £168 2s. 3d., making a grand total of £425 2s. 6d. for this table alone.

Most Rev. Dr. Owens, Bishop of Clogher has transferred Rev. Patrick Keown, C.C., from Trillick to the Diocesan Seminary at Monaghan. During several years past Father Keown officiated at the Sanctuary of Lough Derg, and rendered valuable assistance to the venerable Prior.

TYRONE.

Mr. John G. R. Porter, Coroner, Omagh, held an inquest in Mullyrudden, Ballygawley, on view of the body of a child named Maggie Jameson, whose death took place by drowning on the previous day. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

Mr. W. J. Glasse, solicitor, Strabane, died after a short illness.
