The children of St. Mary's school will give an entertainment on the afternoon of November 27th.

T. W. Finucane has been awarded the contract for the carpenter work on the new Cox building on North St. Paul street, and Fred L. Hughes will furnish the iron work. The cost of the building will be $125,000.

St. Joseph's hall, on Franklin St., is nearly roofed. The entrance begins to give an idea of its beauty when finished, which will be the latter part of December.

Very Rev. Monsignor DeRegge, chancellor of the diocese, returned from Europe on Monday last, greatly improved in health. His many friends will be glad to hear of his safe return and of his recuperated condition.

We call attention to the Boys' and Girls' column on the fourth page. "Aunt Ruth" will pay particular attention to the young folks, many of whom we hope will try for our prize offered for the best letter. The ones awarded prizes will be published in the Journal.

On Sunday, December 8th, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, will be observed with due solemnity at the Immaculate Conception church. Our Rt. Rev. Bishop will preach the sermon in the morning and administer the Holy Sacrament of Confirmation to a class numbering over two hundred persons in the afternoon.

The members of the Corpus Christi choir, of which John Klubertanz is a member, surprised him at his residence, 436 North St. Paul street Monday evening. Leonard Kempf in a neat speech on behalf of the choir presented Mr. and Mrs. Klubertanz an elegant piano lamp. Although taken by surprise Mr. Klubertanz expressed his appreciation of the gift in fitting terms. An enjoyable evening was passed in songs and games.

The choir of the Holy Redeemer church gave a dramatic entertainment in Germania hall Wednesday night. The first part of the programme contained several pretty musical selections, and the latter part two short comedy sketches called "The Bogus Talking Machine" and "The Dutchman's Ghost."

Comrade John Quinlaven, of Rochester Council, O. B. L., died on November 3rd. The proofs of death were immediately forwarded and the widow received a check for $2,000 on November 14th—ten days after the death occurred. This is one of the promptest payments of a policy by any beneficial organization on record. Mr. Quinlaven was the first member of Council 207, who has died since its organization.

At St. Mary's at 8:30 a. m. mass last Sunday, Father O'Hanlon addressed the confirmation class on the fruits of the Holy Ghost. He also announced that a mission would be held at St. Mary's within the next year, and stated that the girls of the confirmation class would be requested to dress in white when the Sacrament was administered on December 15th.

Seats for the Nye and Riley entertainment at the Academy on Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Rochester Newspaper Guild, are going rapidly. No one should fail to see this famous pair. Nye is the man who always smiles and always has a funny story, absurd though it may be. Riley is more inclined to pathos and his quaint Hoosier dialect adds to the interest. Any newspaper man will sell you a ticket or you can obtain reserved seats at the Academy box office.

We send out a large number of copies of the Journal this week to persons whom we think should subscribe but whom we have been unable to reach by solicitors. If persons receiving these copies wish to have the Journal sent to them for a year or six months they should notify us either by mail or otherwise, else we cannot tell whether they care for it.
