CONNAUGHT.

GALWAY.

Mr. J. W. Brady Murray, High Sheriff of the county of the town of Galway, of No. 16 Pembroke road, Dublin, and Northampton House, Kinvarra, County Galway, has been appointed to the Commission of the Peace for the county of Galway.

With sincere regret we have to announce the death of Mr. Charles Costello, a young, brilliant, and promising member of the staff of the Dublin Freeman's Journal. Mr. Costello's career on the Press was brief, and closed sadly in an early grave. Some few years ago, a boy of less than 20 years, he went up from the county of Galway to Dublin and joined the staff of the Freeman, on which he speedily made a reputation for himself by his efficient work, so that a promising career had opened before him, when death claimed him as a victim. He died after a brief illness, of typhoid pneumonia.

MAYO.

A special police court was opened at Dugort Station recently, to inquire into a charge made against several members of the local constabulary force in connection with the arrest and escape of James Lynchehan. The following members of the force were charged with neglect and failure of duty in the matter: District-Inspector Ross C. Rainsford, Sergeant James Hoey, Constables Philip Kerrigan, John Sullivan, Samuel Gwynne, Patrick Ward, and John Muldoon. Mr. Milling, C.L, prosecuted. The case of Constable Philip Kerrigan, of Keel Station, was first taken up. The trial (which is the same as a court martial), was proceeding at last accounts, but, as the findings will have to be submitted for approval to the Inspector General, in Dublin, the result will not be made known for some time.

ROSCOMMON.

Mr. Willis Sandford, on his extensive property of Ballinlough, and surrounding districts, has given an abatement of 6s. in the pound to all his tenants, judicial and non-judicial. The O'Conor Don, it is understood, is about to give a similar reduction to his Carrick and other numerous tenants in the Parish of Kitulla. The Attorney-General has a property in this parish, and he has given 6s. in the pound to all his tenants. Mr. Crofton, who holds a large property in this and Castelera parishes, has given a reduction of 5s. to all his tenants. Coroner James J. Burke has allowed a reduction of 5s. to the tenants on the Cloonfad property, of which he is agent. Mr. Worthington has allowed his tenants 7s. in the pound on his property near Ballinlough, and Messrs. Moore O'Ferrall are expected to give 7s. or 8s. in the pound.

SLIGO.

The following nominations were made in connection with the municipal elections in Sligo:

West Ward—Mr. Wm. Petrie (outgoing), Tory; Mr. P. A. McHugh, M. P., Nationalist; Mr. V. F. Gilcriest, Tory.

East Ward—Mr. Wm. Connolly (outgoing), Nationalist; Mr. Denis McLynn (outgoing), Nationalist; Mr. Edward Foley, Nationalist; Mr. J. J. McKeenan, Nationalist.

North Ward—Mr. R. B. McNeilly and Mr. E. T. Kelly, Tories (outgoing), were not opposed.

A hard fight was expected in the West Ward, the parties being equal; but recently Mr. William Petrie, the Tory candidate, died somewhat unexpectedly, having been stricken down with Bright's disease, and never rallying. He had been for years a member of the Sligo Corporation, Harbor Board, Board of Guardians, and Fishery Conservators Board.

LEINSTER.

CARLOW.

In Carlow the following nominations took place recently for the Coronership of the county Carlow: Mr. John Hammond, M.P., county Carlow, proposed, and Mr. Michael Molloy, T.C., Carlow, seconded the nomination of Dr. Nolan. Mr. Michael Governey, C.T.C., proposed, and Mr. William Curran, Boshers-town, seconded the nomination of Mr. Edward Thos. Mulhall, solicitor. Rev. James Robinson, P.P., Tinryland, proposed, and Mr. Patrick Kinsella, junior, Ballytarsue House, seconded the nomination of Dr. Colgan. On a show of hands, Mr. Mulhall was declared to have the majority. A poll was demanded on behalf of Dr. Nolan and Dr. Colgan, and the High Sheriff fixed the election for the following Friday.

The polling for the election of County Coroner for Carlow commenced in the Court House at eight o'clock in the morning, and terminated at four o'clock in the afternoon, resulting in a sweeping victory for Dr. Nolan, the Nationalist candidate. The result of the polling was as follows: Nolan, 1,913; Mulhall, 950; Colgan, 233. A vote of thanks to the High Sheriff terminated the proceedings.

DUBLIN.

Recently, owing to the prevalence of smallpox in Dublin, the authorities directed that the men in the ranks of the Constabulary, at the depot, Phœnix Park should be immediately re-vaccinated. The civilians acting as servants at the depot were also obliged to conform to the same order. The epidemic has since been abating.

At the rooms of the Celtic Literary Society, 32 Lower Abbey street, Dublin, classes for the teaching of Irish history to the youth of the city, were inaugurated recently. They commenced at 7.45 p. m. and lasted until 9 p. m. They are free of all charge to the pupils, and are conducted by members of the society.

LOUTH.

A shocking fatality is reported from Jenkinstown, betwen Dundalk and Carlingford. It appears that an old man named James Mulholland, a farmer, aged upwards of 80 years, was left alone in his house, by his son, who had gone to work, and towards evening a neighbor, Mrs. Collins, noticed a smell of burning clothes. She ran into Mulholland's house and found the old man lying across the fire. Mrs. Collins shouted for help, a daughter of Mulholland's came up, and they lifted the old man, and sent for Dr. Blake. When the latter arrived, he found the old man shockingly burned on the head and shoulders, and in a condition of collapse from which he never recovered, dying a short time subsequently.

MEATH.

A meeting was held recently at Whitecross, county Meath, to express sympathy with a farmer named Maguire, who had been evicted from his holding by the Commissioners of Church Temporalities, for alleged non-payment of instalments under the Purchase Act. The tenant made every effort to satisfy the Commissioners; but it is stated that they insisted on obtaining payment in full discharge of their demand, and refused time for payment of arrears, declining to take into consideration the fall in prices of agriculture. Several local speakers addressed the meeting, and a resolution of sympathy with the tenant, and a condemnation of the action of the Commissioners was passed.

WEXFORD.

Mr. James O'Connor, of Wexford, has been sworn in a solicitor of the Supreme Court of Judicature in Ireland. As a student Mr. O'Connor had a brilliant career. He obtained third place and a silver medal in the final examination in May last, and the first certificate for oratory in the '94 session of the Solicitors' Apprentices' Debating Society. He intends practicing in Gorey and Wexford, in partnership with his brother, Mr. Michael J. O'Connor, who enjoys a large practice in the latter town, and with whom he served his apprenticeship.

WICKLOW.

At Bray Petty Sessions, Mr. Nathaniel Scott, clerk in the employment of the Northern Banking Company, who had been arrested at Liverpool, was charged with the larceny of £205, the property of the bank. Great interest attached to the case, the court being crowded to inconvenience. Evidence having been given, the defendant was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

MUNSTER.

CLARE.

At Kilclaren Catholic Church, a few days ago, the pew of a farmer named Dwyer was found sawn in pieces. Boycotting notices against him were distributed the same night. The cause of the outrage is supposed to be the fact that his brother-in-law bought a small property in the county over the heads of the other tenants.

CORK.

At Ballymartle Petty Sessions, an application was considered for building a bridge over the Ringabella river, on the road from Ringabella to Crosshaven. The application was passed at £2,500.

The Most Rev. Dr. Browne, Bishop of Cloyne, arrived at Mitchelstown recently on a private visit to the Very Rev. Dean O'Regan, P.P., V.G., and was accorded a most enthusiastic reception by the townspeople. An address of welcome was presented, to which the Bishop appropriately replied.

KERRY.

At the Killorglin Fair, a man, supposed to be mad, stabbed a number of cows and donkeys and sheep with a knife. He escaped into the country and has not yet been arrested. Five donkeys and two cows died from the injuries received.

At the recent law examinations the name of Timothy E. O'Connor, LL.B., appears among the successful candidates. He is a son of Mr. Edward O'Connor, P.L.G., Tullamore, Listowel, and his career both before and during his study for the legal profession has been one of the most successful on record.

LIMERICK.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Limerick Board of Guardians recently, Mr. John McInerny (Chairman) presiding, a resolution received from the Tipperary Board was unanimously adopted, on the motion of Mr. William Noonan, seconded by Mr. Denis J. McNamara. It stated that as the Judicial Commissioners of the Educational Endowment Act have failed to agree to a scheme for the future government and distribution of the Erasmus Smith's trust or charity schools, they called on the Government to introduce a short bill and pass it into an Act of Parliament to restore the trust estate to its rightful owners, the children of the tenants on the Smith estate. The Chairman remarked that the resolution was one that should be adopted by every Board in Ireland.

Mr. Thomas E. O'Brien, JP., DL., South Hill, Limerick, has been appointed Deputy Lord Lieutnant and Custos Rotulorum of the County, in the room of the late Lord Emly.

TIPPERARY.

The following are the results of the municipal elections in Clonmel—Messrs. David O'Connor, John O'Donnel, Michael Quirke (Nationalists), have been elected unopposed in the West Ward; and in East Ward (the Tory stronghold,) Messrs. Edwin Fayle, C.E., and Denis and William Toohey have been returned. In a contest for a vacancy in the Aldermanship of the East Ward Councillor D. J. Higgins, solicitor, was elected by a majority of 6 over Councillor Thos. Cashin.

WATERFORD.

The election of Councillor for the West Ward, in place of Mr. L. C. Strange (Redmondite) took place in Waterford recently. The candidates were Mr. J. H. McGrath, proprietor of the Wate ford Citizen, Nationalist, and Mr. John Adair, Conservative, who was put forward by the Redmondites. The result was as follows,—McGrath (Nationalist) 31; Adair (Conservative) 25. Majority for McGrath 6.

ULSTER.

ANTRIM.

After six months' experience of the working of a line of steamers between Manchester and Belfast, the Belfast Steamship Co. have resolved on discontinuing the service. The unremunerative freights from Manchester, coupled with the risks of the navigation of the canal between the Mersey and that city, are understood to have influenced the directors in the resolution arrived at.

Mr. John Milliken, after a service of almost thirty-two years with the Belfast and County Down Railway Company, has tendered his resignation of the Secretaryship of that body. In accepting his resignation the Directors bore high testimony to his long and faithful services to the company. Mr. Milliken will continue in the discharge of his important duties until his successor is appointed.

ARMAGH.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, Dublin, before Justice O'Brien and a City special jury, the case of McGann v. the Great Northern Railway Co., was called. This was an action by Elizabeth McGann, a factory girl, residing in Ulster street, Lurgan, to recover £300 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been caused to the plaintiff by the negligence of the defendant's servants. The plaintiff alleged that on the morning of June 28th last, as she was crossing the level crossing on defendant's railway, at Lurgan, on her way to her work, the gates were, without warning, suddenly closed by the operator in the signal box, and she was knocked down and hurt. The defendants denied negligence, and pleaded contributory negligence and trespass on the part of the plaintiff. The case, at last accounts was still before the Court.

CAVAN.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, Dublin, before the full Bench, the case of Cusack v. Cusack was called. Mr. P. Law Smith (instructed by Mr. L. Smith), on behalf of the plaintiff, moved for an interlocutory injunction restraining the defendants, their servants and agents from selling or disposing of cattle, farm-stock, &c., pending the trial of the action. The plaintiff, Edward Cusack, a farmer, residing at Drummerick, county Cavan, sued his daughter, Anne Cusack, and her husband, John Cusack, to recover damages for trover and detenue of farm-stock and crops. The plaintiff in his affidavit said the stock &c., were on the land of his deceased daughter, Mrs. Duffy, whose executor he was, and the defendant, Anne Cusack, was put in as caretaker, and so continued until married, in October last, when she and her husband seized everything on the lands, refusing to account to the plaintiff. The injunction was granted.

DERRY.

At a Special Court of the Petty Sessions held in Derry, before Colonel Tynte, R.M., and Dr. McCullagh, Mayor, the adjourned investigation into the charges of obtaining goods by means of false pretences against Margaret Oliver, of Limavady, which had been partly heard on a previous day, was further proceeded with; and the Court returned the prisoner to the Winter Assizes, taking bail of two sureties in £100 each.

DOWN.

The directors of Belfast and County Down Railway Company are inviting competitive design from architects for the proposed new hotel at Newcastle, and offer three prizes for the best designs.

FERMANAGH.

A man named Patrick Leonard, Belcoo, about seven miles from Enniskillen, was arrested and detained in custody, charged with fatally assaulting one James Gilmurry.

A man who had cursed fate for many years because he had suffered from a hole in his throat has discovered that the aperture is an inestimable blessing. It saved him from a hanging, which a judge said should continue uninterruptedly until he was dead. The hole, it was feared, would interfere with the efficiency of the rope, and now the reprieved person will pamper the aperture during a long and, possibly, happy life in prison.
