

A GIGANTIC PLAN

What The New Street Railway Proposes To Do.—Cable Motive Power.

The JOURNAL is enabled this week, on the best of authority, to state to its readers the plans of the new street railway company.

It is proposed to run a cable from the starting point of the East Main street route to the terminus of the West avenue route. Then, lateral cables will run from this main cable, through Lake avenue, Exchange street, North and South St. Paul sts., University and North avenues and all the other streets where street cars now run; in addition cables will be laid on the street where car lines are now projected. Transfer tickets will be given, double-end cars provided and conductors placed on each car.

Our reporter's informant stated that the fare from Rochester to Charlotte would be six cents next summer and added that it was to be hoped the citizens of Rochester would not impede the new company in securing right of way; also that $1,000,000 in hard cash was in readiness to be used in the projected improvements as soon as the necessary right of way had been secured.

The JOURNAL is also in a position to state that the new management will be composed of men, gentlemanly and polite and who will courteously treat the public when approached. There is no necessity of mentioning names, but our readers well know to whom of the old management we refer when we assert that the strike last summer and the ill-feeling thereby endangered against the old company was due wholly to one man. Suffice it to say that the public are tired of being brow-beaten.

Two Great Fires.
