STREETCAR MEN STRIKE.

Philadelphia Traction Company's Lines Tied Up by Employes.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—At 4 o'clock this morning the streetcar lines of this city were tied up in a general strike. This step was decided upon late last night.

The conductors and motormen are waging war for an increase of wages, shorter hours and the privilege of belonging to the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes.

Dissatisfaction has been growing for a long time, but reached a high pitch immediately after the recent consolidation of all the local lines into one company, the Union Traction. Then action was precipitated by the numerous discharges from the company's service of men belonging to the Amalgamated association.

Many conferences have been sought by the various committees representing the railway men, but all have been rejected by President Welsh and the company's board of directors.

A few days ago W. D. Mahon of Detroit, president of the national organization, appeared in this city and took charge of the affairs of the malcontents. A crisis was reached yesterday.

At a meeting, a committee of one was appointed to convey an ultimatum to President Welsh. He did so and returned with information given by the president himself that there would be no answer and that no person connected with any labor organization would be recognized. This report was received last night at a meeting of the committee having charge of the railway men's affairs.

It was finally declared that a general strike on all the lines of the company which controls every car in the city, would be inaugurated either at a very late hour last night or the first thing this morning, when the first day cars started out.

MILLIONAIRES IN PERIL.

Infernal Machines Mailed to Pullman and Armour of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—A bold conspiracy to assassinate George M. Pullman and Philip D. Armour has just come to light and every effort is being made to apprehend the perpetrators of the plot.

Two packages were received at postal station L, of which William H. Hanlon is superintendent, directed to P. D. Armour and George M. Pullman, respectively, and the packages were finally turned over to Postoffice Inspector Stewart for inspection.

They proved to be infernal machines, which, had they reached their destination and been opened without suspicion by the men for whom they were intended, would have probably blown them into eternity.

The packages were taken up by Collector Philip Kirkwood of postal station L. One of them he found on the mailbox at Wabash avenue and Fourteenth street and the other at Wabash avenue and Twenty-first street.

The arrest of Albert Reaser was made on the strength of the statements made by Collector Kirkwood, who said that the man whom he saw place the package on the box resembled a man whom he had seen arrested last summer for throwing stones at Mr. Pullman's windows. He was under the impression that the men were one and the same, and Reaser, who was the stone thrower, was at once brought in.

He denies in the strongest manner that he sent the packages through the mail.

MORTON A CANDIDATE.

A New York Paper Says His Announcement Will Soon Be Made.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The Morning Advertiser this morning says:

Levi P. Morton is an avowed candidate for the presidency. The Advertiser is able to make this announcement on what may be termed the best authority.

During the present week, a distinguished party leader told an Advertiser reporter last night, the governor may conclude to take his friends into his confidence and declare to them just how he feels about 1896.

"A leader who saw the governor at Ellerslie on Friday last came back with a firm conviction that Mr. Morton does not propose to toss away the honor offered him at the last Saratoga convention, and that while he does not propose to personally exert himself, he will be pleased to have the New York delegation stand as a unit for his nomination at St. Louis as did the famous 306 for that of Grant in 1880."

Most of the stock was choice grade or thoroughbred, mainly Jersey. Fifteen dollars a head is said to have been the average price. Already many of them are sick of their bargain and want to buy back some of the stock, as prices recently have advanced materially.

KIND WORDS FROM ALL.

Universal Regret at the Death of Judge Thurman.

THE "OLD ROMAN'S" LAST HOURS

Serenely and With No Sign of Suffering, He Passed From His Deep Slumber to the Sleep That Knows No Waking.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 15.—The long and useful career of Judge Allen G. Thurman came to a close yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at his residence, corner of Rich street and Washington avenue.

The end was peaceful in the extreme and the soul of the great man left the earthly habitation without a sign of physical distress.

In the midst of the volumes of knowledge he prized so dearly and amid the scenes where he has spent so many pleasant hours of his happy old age, the vital spark took wings from the image of clay. Judge Thurman died in his beloved library which looks toward the setting sun.

Shortly after his fall several weeks ago Judge Thurman's bed was moved from the adjoining bedroom to his library and he remained there.

Judge Thurman has lived with his son, Allen W. Thurman, since the death of his wife several years ago, and being unable to leave the house he occupied apartments in the second story of the residence, where he spent the last days of his life in a remarkably pleasant and agreeable manner.

The beginning of Judge Thurman's fatal illness dates from Nov. 7 last, when he fell heavily while walking across the library floor. A few days after the fall his life was despaired of but he rallied from the shock and at times apparently seemed to have regained his old-time vigor.

Nov. 13 Judge Thurman was 82 years old, and on that date several of his old friends called on him and had a pleasant chat. On that occasion he seemed unusually cheerful and bright.

The change for the worse became quite marked shortly after midnight Wednesday, and at 2 a. m. the family became alarmed and sent for Dr. Whitaker. At that time the physician found his venerable patient almost unconscious. Mucus had filled the bronchial tubes and his breathing was labored. Dr. Whitaker aroused him sufficiently to ask him if he was thirsty, and Judge Thurman nodded his head in assent.

He seemed to be partially conscious of what he was doing. He then sank into a heavy stupor from which he was never aroused.

It was known at 9 a. m. that the beginning of the end had set in and the family were so notified.

At 10 o'clock Dr. Whitaker found the patient gradually sinking. Judge Thurman was perfectly unconscious and remained so until he passed away at 1:15 p. m.

At the final scene all of the immediate family were at his bedside. He seemed to be free from all distress.

Those present at the death scene were Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Thurman and the following grandchildren: Lee, Miss Katherine, Allen G., Jr., Daniel C. and Sterling Thurman, all children of Allen W. Thurman.

Funeral of Judge Thurman.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14.—The funeral of Allen G. Thurman, while conducted as privately as possible, in deference to the wishes of the family, owing to the great popularity of the dead man, partook of the nature of a public function. Flags all over the city, county and state were at half mast, buildings were closed and a general air of gloom prevailed. The actual exercises, however, were of the simplest nature. Rev. J. L. Grover, the aged friend of the deceased, officiated. The public was given an opportunity to view the remains. Interment took place at Greenlawn cemetery.

REPUDIATED THEIR CONTRACTS.

Clothing Contractors Precipitate Another Big Strike In New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The members of the Clothing Contractors' Mutual and Protective association have repudiated the contracts entered into by them with the members of the United Garment Workers' of America in this city last July, and a big strike, involving 10,000 tailors in this city, Brooklyn, Brownsville and Newark, is precipitated.

The contractors held a meeting and resolved not to permit organized labor men to run their establishments. They contend they have a right to hire and discharge whom they please and manage their business without the interference of the walking delegates of the Brotherhood of Tailors.

The executive committee of the United Garment Workers met, and it is more than probable that over 10,000 tailors, pants makers, knee pants makers, cutters, finishers and basters will desert the shops.

Death of a Syracuse Brewer.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 16.—William Kearney, a prominent brewer and maltster of this city, has died. He was attacked with heart disease while in church and hurried to his home, a short distance away. He died almost immediately after reaching there. He was 67 years of age and had been engaged in the brewery business for about 35 years. He was the owner of one of the largest breweries in this part of the state.

CAR BURGLARS CAPTURED.

Buffalo Detectives Arrest a Gang of Six Notorious Crooks.

BUFFALO, Dec. 17.—The police of the Eighth precinct have arrested a gang of six of the most notorious professional car burglars in the country. They are George Freeman, known as "Big Jack," Dan Carey, Chris Vernon, John Lynch, John O'Neill and Ed O'Hare.

The men were all heavily armed with 38-calibre pistols and carried an elaborate general car burglar's outfit. Their capture was effected by means of a "stool pigeon."

The gang, mostly, came from Chicago some time ago and have made Buffalo their headquarters since then. They have operated systematically at robbing cars on the New York Central, West Shore, Erie, Nickel Plate, Lake Shore and Lehigh Valley roads within a radius of 100 miles of this city, and the Central alone claims to have suffered to the extent of at least $1,000 a month from the depredations of the gang.

Many efforts have been made to track and capture the robbers, but heretofore unsuccessfully.

They were cornered in the Lehigh Valley yards at Batavia about two weeks ago, but they drove off the constables by a liberal use of their weapons and escaped.

A few days after they made a considerable haul at Erie, Pa., and, as usual, were not detected.

West Shore Detectives Moorehead and Mandell have been working diligently on the case for months, and it is principally to their efforts that the capture was made.

All the men have bad records. Freeman is known to have served three years in Columbus, O., for car burglary. Carey and Vernon passed two years each in jail in Ohio, while Lynch and O'Hare served terms in the Erie county penitentiary.

Draw the Line at Ingersoll.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14.—A special from Columbia, Mo., says: The senior law class of the state university a few days ago appointed a committee to extend an invitation to Colonel R. G. Ingersoll to deliver an address commencement week. The faculty brought great pressure to bear on the students to secure a withdrawal of the invitation. It was given out by members of the university faculty unofficially that Ingersoll will not be permitted to have a place on the university commencement program.
