In the death of the late Jeremiah Tracy, father of Alderman W. H. Tracy, Rochester loses an old and respected citizen. He was well known and as far as can be learned, had not an enemy in the world. His funeral took place on Monday at 9 a. m. from the Cathedral. Many prominent citizens were present, including the members of the Common Council. Solemn High Mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. P. Kiernan, Rev. J. E. Hartley, deacon, Rev. J. J. McGrath, sub-deacon. The bearers were: Honorary, Hon. Wm. Purcell, James McMannis, Richard Whalen, J. Egan, Wm. Moran, D. Michael Nolan, Sr., of Ithaca, N. Y., is spending a few days in the city with his son, James Nolan, of Rossa & Nolan. Michael Nolan, a student in the North American College, Rome, is his son. Mr. Nolan says his son writes that "la grippe" has been taking hold of nearly every one in Rome. He also stated that he was enjoying the best of health, and had not as yet taken the fever, as is generally the case with foreigners before they before they become acclimated.

Last evening a merry crowd congregated at Miss Marion's No. 20 Gardner park. Notwithstanding the unpropitious weather, not a few couples ventured out. Excellent music was furnished for dancing, and the throng "tripped the light fantastic toe" until further orders. Those who cared not for the merry whirl of the dance, enjoyed themselves by games, etc. It was Miss Marion's birthday, and though the affair was not in the nature of a birthday party, she received many congratulations and good wishes. The throng broke up at a late hour, all too sorry the time had come to disperse.

The funeral of the late John Knapp took place at 9 a. m. yesterday from St. Peter and Paul's church. The Western New York Horticultural Society met in this city on Wednesday. W. C. Barry presided, his father, President Patrick Barry, being unable to be present. He sent an address, in the closing paragraphs of which he said:

And now a word as to the presidency: You have given me this post of honor for a very long period of years—I am no longer able to perform its duties, and lay it down with profound gratitude, and with an affectionate regard for the society and every individual member.

S. D. Willard, of Geneva, arose and said he would suggest that as long as Patrick Barry was able to write "Yours Truly," the society should have no other president. This remark was enthusiastically applauded. Patrick Barry was re-elected president, despite his protestations. This was a deserved compliment, as to Mr. Barry's efforts the society owes much of its success.

The Rochester City and Brighton street railway company applied to the Common Council on Tuesday evening for permission to substitute an electric system in place of the present one. The company proposes, if an agreement shall be made with reference to the conditions for operation by electricity, and if the necessary consents be obtained, to entirely dispense with bob-tail cars, and to put large and handsome cars upon all the lines. It also proposes to entirely rebuild all the tracks of this company where the tram-rail is now laid, with steel girder rails, with first-class and permanent construction throughout. It is the purpose of the company, if the necessary consent to the change from horse power to electricity be obtained, to commence the work of reconstruction and change in the early spring, and to have at least 40 electric cars in operation by the first day of August next, and to change the entire system from horse power to electricity within two years. A committee was appointed by the Council to confer with the street car company.

The police department has done right in calling the attention of officers to the strict enforcement of sections 1 and 2, chapter 583, laws of New York, the same being "an act for the prevention of accidents to children."

It is designed to break up the habit contracted by children of jumping on and off moving steam and street cars. This is a practice becoming far too prevalent, and should be stopped. Parents also should warn their children against jumping on street cars. Sooner or later, one of them will be severely injured and then what a howl will go up from these parents! If a boy has a long distance to go on an errand, give him necessary fare, and thus remove the temptation to steal a ride.

Arrangements have been made between the Peerless Bowling Club of St. Peter and Paul's Y. M. C. A., and the Standard of the Cathedral Y. M. C. A., for a series of games. As there is a great difference in the opinion of the members as to whom the title of champion belongs, these games will be most interesting.
