His Holiness said in part:

"Not only for its peace and happiness, but for its very existence, human society must have the spirit of Christ . . .

The children of St. Francis must give the world an example of a spirit of poverty, that abhors luxury and avarice; a spirit of mortification, that restrains all disorderly appetites; a spirit of charity, that forswears all contentiousness . . .

Through such a spirit of love enlivened by a vigorous faith, embracing all classes and all peoples, the Third Order can "help frustrate the overt and covert snares laid by the enemies of Christ and the Church."

"Let there be an end to the discord of faction, to the hatred, personal rancor and vengeance, which are keeping so many families in a state of anxiety and uneasiness."
