He was born on Jan. 20, 1885, and was educated in the Catholic schools of the city of St. John. He is a graduate in arts of the University of New Brunswick, and in law from King's College.

Judge Lunney is a Past Grand Knight of Calgary Council, Knights of Columbus. He will continue to reside in Calgary.

Clothes For Poor Should Be Pretty London Guild Told

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

London, June 18.—"It is wrong to speak of the warmth of God's love to people who are shivering in the cold," declared Dr. Herbert Vaughan, nephew of the famous Cardinal of that name, speaking at the annual meeting of the Catholic Needlework Guild. The meeting was held in the Mansion House here, historic residence of London's Lord Mayors. Lady Knill, wife of a former Lord Mayor, is the Guild's president.

'We know from experience," said Dr. Vaughan, 'that many Catholics neglect their spiritual duties on account of insufficient and unsuitable clothing.

"We must not be slaves to fashion, but we cannot ask these people to appear among their well dressed brethren in the frayed garments of their extreme poverty."

He suggested to members of the Needlework Guild that they should make pretty clothes for the poor, and not make them as plain as possible. "How would you make them if you were making them for Christ Himself? Let this be your incentive."

Appealing for personal service, Dr. Vaughan recalled that when his grandmother had any gifts for the poor and could not distribute them herself, she always sent her children, not the servants. This showed more respect for the poor and was a good lesson for the children.

The annual report showed that there are 581 branches of the Catholic Needlework Guild in England—32 new ones having been formed during the past year—with an active membership of more than 14,000.

Catholic Auspices Urged For English Emigrant Classes

London, June 18. — Cardinal Bourne has caused a notice concerning emigration to be placed in the porch of every church in the Westminster diocese. In this way it is hoped to get Catholics who decide to emigrate to go out under Catholic auspices, thus safeguarding their faith by securing Catholic contracts at their destination.

It is pointed out by Cardinal Bourne in his Trinity pastoral that the Catholic Emigration Society has been established for the emigration under Catholic guidance of families and men. Similar work for women, and girls over 17 years of age, is undertaken by the Catholic Women's League, whilst that for children is done by the Catholic Emigration Association.

Two Irish Bishops Ordained In Paris

Paris, June 18.—Msgr. O'Brien, Bishop of Kerry, and Msgr. MacNamee, Bishop of Ardagh, presided over the ordination ceremonies at the Irish College here recently. The former ordained eight priests, while the latter placed the tonsure on five seminarians, conferred minor orders upon eight acolytes and received eight sub-deacons.

The Irish College, founded by Louis XIV, continues to function thanks to an endowment administered by the French Minister of Public Instruction. This permits a certain number of ecclesiastical students from different Irish dioceses to complete their studies at Paris.

Many Irish families crossed the channel to attend the ceremonies.

Nuns' Care of Sick Is Extolled By Head Of Jewish Hospital

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)

Cincinnati, O., June 22.—The 2,000 delegates to the Catholic Hospital Association convention here this week heard the self-sacrifice of Catholic Sisters extolled by the head of a Jewish hospital.

Mr. Maurice E. Pollak, president of the Board of Trustees of Jewish Hospital, in the course of an address to the convention on "How the Progressive Hospital Should Meet Its Responsibilities," said:

"To give adequate service demands the expenditure of large sums of money. This would be greater among Catholic institutions were it not for the sacrifices made by the noble sisters who give their lives to the care of the sick without compensation, without reward other than that which may be vouchsafed by the Omnipotent."
