Al. Smith Pleads For Playgrounds For Metropolis

Urges That $100,000 Be Appropriated for Playgrounds, to Help Decrease Child Fatalities in Streets.

New York, Oct. 17.—In a recent letter to the New York City Board of Estimate, Former Governor Alfred E. Smith urges the board to appropriate $100,000 for the coming year to establish after-school playgrounds designed to reduce further the number of child deaths from street accidents. A resolution recently passed by the Community Councils endorsing such a program is before the board.

The former Governor, who is honorary chairman of the committee, said in his letter:

"The demonstration of public school and park playgrounds which the Community Councils have made in the last five years, with money privately contributed, has convinced me that eventually the city will make full-time use of all its properties where public need requires; but particularly of school playgrounds for safe recreation.

"Any one can see that this is a wholesome and unselfish effort, and the commendable past records of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in following up our demonstrations in this respect make me extremely hopeful that the appropriation will be made for this program."

Bishop Blames Prohibition For American Booze

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 17.—The Rt. Rev. George Finnegan of Helena, Mont., Sunday night told more than 5,000 Catholics from the Pacific northwest that there is more drunkenness in America today than before prohibition.

"We are less temperate minded because we have passed from self-regulation under God to a form of civic regulation," said Bishop Finnegan.

Doctor Begins Seminary Study For Priesthood

Manila, Philippine Islands, Oct 17—Considerable attention was attracted in the Philippine Islands when Dr. Crispin Ruiz, upon recently completing his medical course, entered the seminary to study for the priesthood. He will be the first doctor to become a priest in the Philippines. In explaining his course of action, he maintained that he had studied medicine to please his parents and would now study theology to please God. Dr. Ruiz is a graduate of St. Thomas University.

Columbus Day Well Observed At Mass Meeting

Convention Hall Filled By Enthusiastic Audience On Sunday—Italian Societies Paraded to the Hall.

Columbus Day, Oct. 12th, was well observed in this city last Sunday, and especially by the Italian people. A mass meeting of Italian societies and other people of Italian birth or descent was held in Convention Hall. Parades of Italian societies reached the hall from two sections, those from the east side of the city marching from Hartford Street, and those from the west side from Brown Square.

Attorney John J. McInerney presided at the meeting and gave a splendid talk. The invocation was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Hart, V.G. Speakers included the Rev. D. Robotti of New York and Judge Arthur E. Sutherland of this city.

Speaking in Italian, Father Robotti made an appeal to his audience for their loyalty to the country of their adoption, as well as to the country of their birth.

"It is," he said, "unfortunate that Italy has come so late into the [illegible] Of [illegible], Italy who gave to the world Dante and Michelangelo and [illegible], and [illegible] modern times [illegible] Marconi and Mussolini [illegible] a rightful place, which in [illegible] [illegible] Her [illegible] and she has need of colonies to which to send her people. Italy loves peace, but she cannot maintain peace if justice is not given her."

Columbus, Father Robotti asserted, was a daring discoverer and a Christian of great faith and fortitude, an Italian who had written his name across the page of history.

"Religion consoled him in misfortune and carried him on to success when all men doubted him," he continued. "He is a hero we all admire, and one whom we can all in our own small way imitate."

Cardinal Hayes Speaks On Law When Dedicating New Law School At The University of Notre Dame

Any Law That Is a Violation of Natural Law Is An Attack On Law, the Cardinal Says—God Is The Supreme Source of All Law

Notre Dame, Oct. 17.—His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes made his first visit to Notre Dame University last week, when he came here to bless and dedicate the splendid new law school of the University. Cardinal Hayes made two talks, one to the faculty and students from the steps of the main building, and one in the immense library of the new Law Building. In his address to the students, he expressed pleasant surprise to find Notre Dame so greatly in excess of his conception of the school. He referred to Notre Dame as "an ideal center of learning, carrying forward Christian principles in education."

Cardinal Speaks on Law

Later, at the ceremony in the Law Library, Cardinal Hayes took Law for his subject and here are some of his outstanding observations on the subject.

"Any law that is in violation of natural law is an attack on law."

"Law, after all, is only a light to guide us. Penalties are an excrescence of the law. Loyally viewed and truly understood, law is the light. It is what the Polar star and [illegible] the star to guide [illegible] house to warn him of danger."

"We do not build the law when we make laws. [illegible] must not only be just to every man, but that we must love him. That is charity. That is the great fundamental of the law."

"Man makes law only in the sense of penal codes and traffic regulations. The source of fundamental law is God—the Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes. That is the law that persuades the will. Man made law has no force of will, and it has to do it at the cost of jails and prisons."

"We must strive for an ideal, but an ideal is not always arrived at, because you are going to run against the human average all the time. But without an ideal we won't get anywhere."

The New Building

The new Notre Dame Law Building is of that character known as collegiate Gothic, with walls of an orange texture brick, trimmed with limestone. The roof is of slate and all materials are the most durable that can be obtained. The law library is the room which received the most architectural treatment, the ceiling being formed by a high barreled vault, oak paneled. The book alcoves are marked by [illegible] and each is lighted by a lancet window. The floor is of cork tile.

The building contains [illegible] lecture rooms, the library, the moot court, auditorium, seminars for specialized study, a reading and smoking room, and offices for the faculty of the law college.

New President Appointed For Duquesne Univ.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 17.—The Very Rev. Martin A. Hehir, for 31 years president of Duquesne University, has been replaced as head of the institution. An official bulletin received in the city from headquarters of the Holy Ghost Fathers in Paris did not state what position Father Hehir would be changed.

The new president is to be the Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, who comes here from the Holy Ghost Apostolic College at Cornwells, Pa. He has been superior of that college for 15 years.

Father Hehir ranks next to the provincial of the order in the United States. An appointment which would relieve him of the onerous duties of the college president has been expected for some time.

Duquesne University is conducted by the Fathers of the Holy Ghost, and it has approximately 3,500 students and 150 professors.

October Dainties

By BETTY BARCLAY.

This is the time of year when hot dishes are in order. Our bodies need additional calories so that they may get in shape to withstand the low temperature of Winter. Quick energy fuel such as sugar or other sweets should be eaten in considerable quantity. Vegetables and fruits should also be eaten so that the body may be kept alkaline. Here are two delicious October dainties.

Scalloped Sweet Potatoes and Apples

- 2 cups cold boiled sweet potatoes cut in 1/4-inch slices
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups thinly sliced sour apples
- 4 tablespoons butter
- salt

Put one-half the potatoes in buttered baking dish, cover with one-half the apples, sprinkle with one-half the sugar, dot over with one half the butter and sprinkle with one-half the salt. Repeat. Bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Scalloped Tomatoes

Drain one can tomatoes from some of their liquor. Season with salt, pepper, a few drops of onion juice, and 2 teaspoons sugar. Cover the bottom of a buttered dish with buttered bread crumbs, cover with tomatoes, and sprinkle top thickly with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven until crumbs are brown.

Lemon Tapioca Sherbet Without Freezing

- 1/2 cup quick cooking tapioca
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups water
- Juice 2 lemons
- 2 egg whites

Put tapioca, sugar and water into double boiler, and cook, stirring often, until clear. Three minutes before removing from fire, add lemon juice. When cool and beginning to thicken, add the stiffly-beaten egg whites, and beat well. Serve with boiled custard or heavy cream.

Tutti-Frutti Mochal Layer Cake

- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 3 tablespoons cocoa
- 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 3/4 cup strong decaffeinated coffee infusion
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and cocoa, and sift together three times. Cream shortening thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, then flour, alternately with coffee, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Cool. Put layers together with Fruited Whipped Cream. Dust top of cake with confectioner's sugar.

—o—

Fruited Whipped Cream

- 3 tablespoons confectioner's sugar
- 1 cup cream, whipped
- 8 marshmallows, finely cut
- 1/2 cup dates, seeded and cut in small pieces
- 1/2 cup nut meats, broken
- 1/4 cup each, candied cherries and pineapple, finely cut

Add sugar to cream. Fold in remaining ingredients.

Cut cake into small rounds. Top each round with mound of cream.
