Nazareth Academy Hosts Sodality Union Meet

Nazareth Academy was host to the Rochester Catholic High School Sodality Union February 1.

The second union meeting dealt with the problem of arousing interest in parish activities. Discussion centered around preparation of the high school sodalist for active participation in parish life now and after graduation from high school and college.

PARISH ACTIVITIES were discussed in their spiritual, liturgical, social, and occupational aspects. Leaders unanimously agreed that the parish plays an important part in the lives of its members, and that high school sodalists should fit into the entire Parish program.

Rule 33 of the sodality code, stressing "thinking with the church, praising what she praises, and disapproving of what she disapproves," was cited as pertinent to the subject.

A resolution to set aside a general sodality meeting as a unit meeting devoted to parish loyalty through participation in parish activities climaxed the meeting.

AMONG THE reasons given for lack of interest in parish activities were laxity and lack of time because of extra-curricular activities at the various high schools.

At their general meeting sodalists will attempt to revive interest through informative discussion, and through suggestions for budgeting of time to give priority to parish activities.

The Third Dimension of the News
The third dimension of the News is the depth and fullness this newspaper adds to the daily and weekly news of the world—judging the week's events against the eternal truths of the Catholic faith.
Your daily newspapers present news with one face—a bare, often unexplained facade of facts and figures—usually relieved only by speculated opinions and gossipy features.
Weekly newsmagazines give some height and width to the world's news—adding more information to the daily development of the news, giving some coloration to the world's weekly history.
But only your Catholic newspaper—this newspaper and 119 others like it across the U.S.A. and Canada—give fullness, richness and depth to the weekly history of the world—casting the news of the week against the true history of the world and the Church.
This is the perfect time—during Catholic Press Month—to urge your neighbors to read their diocesan paper. If you need more information or sample copies, just contact us at the address below.
