Along the Sports Horizon

By BILL LANG

Unless all signs fail, Aquinas seems destined to open the 1935 football season with a defeat.

Release of the schedule this week reveals that Coach Johnny Sullivan's charges will pry off the proverbial lid September 28 with Niagara Frosh, a team that has steamrollered over the Maroon and White for two successive seasons.

When Aquinas wound up the 1934 season with only the Niagara Frosh and St. Joe's setback marring an otherwise perfect record, there was critical comment in some quarters against bringing the heavier and more experienced frontier lads here for another season.

It was privately admitted even in official circles that Niagara was a bit too much for the Dewey Avenue warriors. These officials pointed out that the year's difference between a high school senior and a college freshman is actually wider than appears on the surface.

Nevertheless we find Niagara back on the schedule for better or worse and—against our better judgment—let's hope it's for the better.

The rest of the schedule is just about the finest that Aquinas has ribbed together since school officials decided to revive the prodigal sport.

In addition to their now traditional rivals from Brighton, the Aquinas pigskinners will have opposition from East Rochester High and Bonaventure High. Then there are games with LeRoy and Albion and a closing contest with St. Joe's Collegiate of Buffalo.

It was explained that the school authorities had negotiated for an opening game with Fairport but inasmuch as that contest fell through the Niagara Frosh moved up to No. 1 position.

Although graduation will cut deeply into the ranks of the Aquinas gridders, Coach Sullivan probably will find some consolation in the sophs and frosh coming into the front line trenches.

Of course when all's said and done, Sullivan still has Ricey on the line. This elongated youngster proved a veritable tower of strength last year and there's no reason to doubt that he'll show an improvement this year.

The complete Aquinas schedule follows:

September 28—Niagara Frosh.
October 5—Le Roy High.
October 12—Brighton High.
October 19—East Rochester High.
October 26—Bonaventure High.
November 2—Albion High.
November 7—St. Joseph's Collegiate.

If a serious attempt is ever made in Rochester to revive the manly art of self-defense, no effort should be spared to enlist the services of some of the members of the C. Y. M. A. and Mount Carmel basketball teams.

Whenever these two outfits meet, it seems to be the fortune or misfortune of the spectators to witness a general furry of fisticuffs not on the program in addition to the usual fine display of the non-together art of basketball.

Therefore it was not entirely unexpected the other night that when the C. Y. M. A. Old Timers and the Carmelites clashed on the floor of the Ormond Street clubhouse that a police call was put out before the end of the evening. One newspaper account said that blows were exchanged between two of the players on the floor and adds that the altercations continued in the dressing lockers after the contest.

It's certainly a fine commentary on Catholic sports to have two teams carrying the names of the Catholic Young Men's Association and the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel put on this display.

And it's not the first time that the so-called "bad blood" between these outfits has boiled over on the basketball floor.

Both sides, of course, will argue that their actions were justified but nothing in the world warrants such a display. True enough, spectators like a game in which both teams show a certain amount of dash and fighting spirit but when that spirit degenerates an athletic event into a brawl, it's carrying things a little bit too far.

There might be certain grounds for excuse if these players were youngsters who simply couldn't temper their flaming spirits under the heat of battle but such is not the case, however. All are comparative veterans who have been through the basketball wars for at least a decade.

An occurence like this is regrettable in the extreme. It casts a blight on Catholic sports in general and Catholic basketball in particular. These players should curb themselves in the future or else parade their basketball talent under different colors.

There is growing pressure afoot to start the baseball season rolling.

Most of the managers and players and would-be managers and would-be players have definite opinions about the number of clubs to be admitted to the Catholic League of 1935, the manner in which the schedule should be mapped out, the rules under which the games should be played and so on.

Last year the Catholic League started away in mid-April and wound up the final game of the playoff during the first week in September.

If this pressure to get going persists much longer, the organization meeting for 1935 will be held in the near future.

Catholic League

Ever and anon that veteran pinner from Holy Redeemer's, ancient Arnold Stirk steps out just to remind the ambitious youngsters that he's still in the league.

With Nowak, the St. Stanislaus star, burning up the circuit with a series of sensational performances during the past month, ancient Arnold got down to business against St. Michael's and clicked off a 275 count in his final try at the pins. His three game total reached 611, all of which proves that Arnold is far from finished.

His pinning, coupled with that of Art Scheuch, who rolled up a 631 total, enabled the H. R. A. A. boys to sweep through with a triple decision over St Michael's. Szeles with 577 was high for St. Michael's.

Nowak followed up scores of 590 and 680 with a 594 total against St Boniface. Rizzo came through with 607 and Grzelak hit 628 to enable the St. Stanislaus outfit to reach a doubles decision over St. Boniface. The Bonnies did some brilliant bowling in the first game to account for a 1031 score. Joe Frank, another veteran of the pinning wars, led his team with 614.

St. John's turned in a double victory over Blessed Sacrament after Jackman's 266 enabled Blessed Sacrament to turn out a 1004 count to cop the first encounter. President Barney Cahill piled up 631 to star for St. John's while Jackman's 643 was high for Blessed Sacrament.

St. Andrew's swept the series with Corpus Christi. Ernie Rehman pieced together games of 219, 253 and 143 for 615 while Charley Maier drew up with 605. Ed Ford was high for Corpus Christi with 631.

Knights of St. John League

There were no clean sweeps in the Knights of St John circuit this week.

The league-leading St Boniface aggregation won two of three from St. Bernard's with Otto Remmel high with 606. J Dreschler of St Bernard's turned in a 611 score for the losers.

St. Michael's gained a double victory over Cathedral after losing the first game by three pins. Gus Maier's 536 was tops for St Michael's while a 639 by DeCesare was high for Cathedral.

St. George took a pair from St. Mauritius on the basis of some fine pinning by Ed Bach Jr. who rolled up a score of 575. J Kress of St Mauritius was high for both teams with a 590 total.

St Eustace won the first and third games and dropped the second contest to SS Peter's and Paul's. Muhleisen again led his team with 605 while Collins was high for SS Peter's and Paul's with 553.

Knights of Columbus League

Art Metzger leaped to the fore in the individual parade in the Knights of Columbus League this week with a three game total of 584 including a high single game of 235.

Ed Schoeneman was right behind with 576. Other double decker scores were turned in by Gene Miller with 232, McGann, 211, Kavenny, 221; Austing, 211, Witzel, 202 and Bell, 202.

Santas, Ninas, Klutes and Puritans took a pair apiece from the Guards, Indians, Orients and Pintas.

Catholic Courier CARRIERS

Hereafter, when failing to receive returns in due time, a post card notice will be sent you to that effect. This will serve as a reminder and a warning that demerits are being assigned to those boys who do not make their returns on time.

We remind you again this week that we want every customer to be served promptly and regularly. If you cannot do this conveniently, please notify the office. We hold each carrier boy responsible for the customers assigned to him. If you fail to cooperate in this matter it will mean dismissal.

St. Ann Scout Troops 24th Hornell Receive New Charters for 1935

Hornell Troops 9 and 99 Boy Scouts of America of St Ann's Church received their charters for the year 1935 at a meeting held last week. The charters were presented by Commissioner Erhonreich and accepted by Postmaster Francis J Kelly, chairman of the troop committee. The registration of the two troops is fast mounting to its previous roster of approximately 60 Scouts.

The troops are taking on new life under the scout mastership of Floyd Egmond (99) and John Grace (9). Donald Green and Robert Carroll, Arthur Schmidt and Ernest Rush are assistants. The Drum and Bugle Corps is fast becoming the pride of Steuben Area Council.

James P Morris and Joseph Lynch have been appointed committeemen. Mr Morris is a Life Scout and was formerly scoutmaster of 9.

New headquarters have been prepared by the boys under Father Stephen Callahan's direction and now St Ann's has a comfortable club room where the Scouts meet each week. The boys and leaders attended Communion in a body last Sunday.

February is CATHOLIC Press Month.

Boys Their Interests

Things are looking up in the way of Catholic Action in behalf of our boys and girls. The Boy Scout Mass was a great triumph with over 500 Scouts present, then there was the Camp Stella Maris Pow-Wow with boys gathered from four counties; now Fathers and Sons banquets are following each other in different parishes. Add to this the Columbian Squire activities and the Don Bosco Fraternity, the Parochial Basketball League and you have a picture for sore eyes. All these are in addition, of course, to the bustle of the regular activities in Columbus Civic Center gym. Keep the ball rolling!

A distinctive feature of the St. Ambrose Fathers and Sons Banquet was the service provided by the junior members of the Holy Name society. These boys served the entire meal to a hall packed with men and boys and they did it in record time, never dropping a plate. (Too bad!) More power to the Holy Name society of that parish for putting on such a good time for the boys.

The boys of St. Mary's Asylum under the guidance of their athletic coach, Paul Brescia, are taking up boxing. Once a week they gather in the gym and to the excited huzzahs of their comrades swap punches. They receive coaching, use small gloves, and have short rounds so that they do not become too tired. That night is always a gala occasion and everyone has a good time.

We fell heir to some dope this week as to the Parochial Baseball League. (Oh, yes! nearly time for spring training!) Nazareth Hall plans on entering the League this year and already has held some skirmish sessions on the snow-covered ball lot. There are at least two boys trying out for every position. That's the old fight, boys!

Two boys were having a dispute in the locker room of the Civic Center. Gwan! Our school is better than yours! We go into everything the Baseball League, the Basketball League, the Track and Swim Meets. We're not asleep! There was an eloquent pause. Then the same voice muffled in a shirt: Our priests are the best in the city.

The Card Party for Camp Stella Maris was a great success. Besides the large party at the Center, many kind mothers ran private parties in their own homes. It looks as though the price this summer will be below $10! We wish to thank all who helped.

STOPS: The British government has purchased the right to dig up the treasure island of Cocos. Pieces of eight! Two boys last year in digging in an old cellar found a chest of gold coins. The judge recently awarded them the money. Just $40 grand! Crane of Livonia seems headed for big game in pool. Beat one of the leading shots twice out of three times. John Hanna of Aquinas is looking up in the tennis game in Rochester. Come on, John!

Niagara U. Knights To Hold Open House Stag Party Saturday

The Knights of Columbus of Niagara University School of Business (Rochester Division) will sponsor an open-house stag party at the K. of C. clubrooms, Columbus Civic Center Building, Saturday, Feb. 23.

Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Gerald C. Lambert, chaplain of Rochester Council, K. of C.; the Rev. William J. Mahoney, C. M., J. C. D., Regent of Niagara University (Rochester Division) and John R. Wilkinson, Dean of Niagara University, School of Business.

Entertainment will include wrestling, boxing and tumbling with Fred Pestorious acting as master of ceremonies. A buffet luncheon will be served. Cards and billiards are on the program.

Joseph O'Brien is general chairman, assisted by Glenn Kurz, and Robert Wahl.
