June Brides

'35 Bride . . .
Her Bridal Shower

Many, many years have come and gone since the first Bridal Shower. Tradition tells us of a beautiful Dutch maiden, who gave her heart to the village miller. All might have gone well but for the fact that in the miller's generosity to the poor, he had left little for himself. A sad state of affairs, in as much as the maiden's father commanded her marriage to a horrid and wealthy man. Anxious friends talked the matter over and each decided to bring a gift, that would shower her with the equivalent of a dowry. They came to the girl in a long procession and each offered a gift according to his means. Suzanne's story ends like all good fairy tales, they all lived happily ever after. The tradition has been carried on by all nationalities and many new ideas have been added. We all know about [illegible] kitchen, [illegible] apron, [illegible] and [illegible] showers but the very latest [illegible] [illegible]

SHE has come to the threshold of her house of dreams and beauty enters with her. If, after the stress of the many pre-nuptial events, the Bride of '35 has received at the Salon of M. Loucheur, 300 Burke Bldg., 5 St. Paul Street, one of the marvelous facials, given with skilled hands, which practically rejuvenates the skin, she will make the wedding march, one of triumph A triumph of love and loveliness. M. Loucheur offers you his latest wave with complete equipment to give you a crown of glory. Main 2957.

"BUNDLE up your gift Problems" . . . and take them to the Adams Gift Shop at 1141 Culver Road and she will send each one forth with remembrance both suitable as to the gift as well as the price. If a gift for the bride must be had or if its for the bridesmaids, whatever it is, you will find it at the Adams Gift Shop. There are cards for all occasions and picnic sets that will help you plan for a day of relaxation.

BECAUSE Suzanne left the suggestion of Hosiery at the end of the Trousseau essentials, she did not mean to detract from the importance of selecting hosiery of quality. It is for this reason [illegible] highly of the Merrill Hosiery Shoppe at 73 Beach [illegible] makers of quality hose for [illegible] years. To the Bride of '35 [illegible] offer this opportunity to purchase beauty with quality.

SERVICE . . . It is such a waste of time to search for parking space If you are having a busy shopping day, just park your car at the Civic Center Station at the corner of James and Chestnut Streets. You will still have your car in the "Center of Things," for a place to drop your packages. Low rates and courteous service. 10c for two hours for patrons of the K. of C. each morning. James and Chestnut Streets.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR So many persons afflicted with unwanted hair have suffered needlessly. There IS such a thing as a safe and permanent removal. Lifelong results may be obtained by a series of scientific treatments which destroy the life of the hair cell without scars, pain or use of the electric needle. For individual attention call Charlotte White, Stone 3668. Suite 222, Cutler Bldg.

"MAKE a picture of Yourself," by having an automatically wound permanent wave on the up-to-date Bonat machine at the La Premier Beauty Salon at 1310 Dewey Ave. near Magee Ave. This wave is cool and comfortable because the hair is wrapped flat around the spiral. It duplicates a soft, non fuzzy wave and given with an individual contour bob, which is so smart and popular with this season's clothes, the result will be most pleasing. Phone Glen. 6101 for appointment.

"HOLD Romance with the charm of Beauty" . . . Often the beauty of a really lovely girl has been marred by an untidy coiffeur. The Ferguson Beauty Salon at 340 Thurston Road, will protect you from this condition and will create a wave of charm and distinction for you. Appointments may be had by calling Genesee [illegible].

Rochester Diocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women

Office: 1020 Columbus Civic Centre, 50 Chestnut Street

One of the most frequent questions we are asked is: What is the National Council of Catholic Women?

It is a federation of national, state, diocesan, parish and local organizations of Catholic women. It was established by the Hierarchy of the United Statese with the National Council of Catholic Men, as a department for lay action under the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Diocesan councils are organized as a means by which the women of of the diocese may, through federation, aid in carrying on the program of the national council.

We continue our quotation of last week from the Bulletin of the Pittsburgh Council, N. C. C. W.:

"In order to make other people happy, the first requisite is to be happy oneself; and by this I do not mean happiness as the world means it, but rather such happiness as comes from 'the peace that the world cannot give'—the happiness of a heart at one with God's will; a heart that, far from flying the troubles and crosses of life, is ready to encounter them bravely and serenely, armed with the knowledge of the power and the mercy of our God; a heart that is not too stern to be tender, nor too tender to be strong; but that understands the 'sorrow with joy of the Holy Ghost,' of which St. Paul speaks, and the resignation that springs, not from hopelessness, but from confidence.

"Happiness does not necessarily mean immunity from pain, and the deepest and truest happiness has more often than not, its root in some past sorrow. But it is the magic power of extracting the gold of divine peace and happiness out of even the most fiery of earth's trials that should be the special dowry of a Child of Mary. And to do this is no easy task. If we are to twine flowers round the cross of life, the cross must be very near to ourselves. And maybe the points and the nails will at times tear our hands and pierce our bosom; yet the flowers need be none the less fragrant because the hands are bleeding that twined them.

"But this is not all. It is not enough to sympathize with the sorrows of others; a Child of Mary living in the world must know how to share their joys as well. Is it not time that people learned that in order to be good it is not absolutely necessary to be a bore? And is it not often the fault of the good souls, who make piety so terribly unattractive, that more people do not follow in their footsteps? 'Rejoice in the Lord always,' says St. Paul; again I say 'rejoice.' And as my French author has it. 'The presence of God in the soul ought to be like sunshine in a room.'"

ELMIRA SODALITY PAYS TRIBUTE TO MISS DORAN, RETIRING HEAD

Elmira—A Communion breakfast in honor of Miss Carolyn Ruth Doran, retiring president of the Sodality of Our Lady of St. Patrick's Church, was held by members in the ballroom of the Mark Twain Hotel on Sunday, June. 2.

The Sodality, which is one of the largest units of its kind in the country engaged in Catholic activities recommended yb His Holiness Pope Pius XI, received Holy Communion in a body at the 7:30 Mass in St. Patrick's Church

The Rev. Daniel C. Holland, spiritual director of the Sodality, and Mrs. Edmund B Maloney, newly elected president, presided at the breakfast. Mrs. Maloney paid tribute to Miss Doran as organizer and as an example of Catholic womanhood Father Holland outlined the development of the organization since its founding two years ago, under the leadership of Miss Doran. He presented Miss Doran with a Roman Missal as a gift of the Sodality, and a spiritual bouquet of 900 Communions, 900 Masses and 900 Rosaries.

In response Miss Doran gave an inspiring address on true spiritual ideals for the Catholic woman She spoke in part as follows

"For emphasis on these spiritual ideals was your Sodality founded and while we take our places proudly in the ranks of national and civic life, we do not make the mistake of assuming that the things that shall pass away are of more importance than those that shall endure forever The world may change and shift its opinions at will, but a virtuous woman is still 'the loveliest thing alive.' Virtue embodied in the matchless beauty of womanhood exemplified in Our Blessed Lady, Mother of the Saviour of mankind, shall remain until the end of time the most beautiful ideal for you and me and for all others who shall follow down the arches of the years to the very end of time."
