Ask Training Extension For Rural Leadership

ST PAUL In a communication addressed to the directors of seminaries, novitiates and colleges throughout the country, the education committee of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference emphasizes the strategical position of the country church and school and urges Catholic educators to enlarge upon and improve their facilities for training in rural leadership.

Approximately 80 per cent of the 22,000,000 American Catholics, it states are directly or indirectly identified with industry in urban centers where the hazards to economic security militates against the preservation of sound faith and morals.

How Many Homes Have You Paid For?

A man who is not reducing his mortgage pays the same amount of interest year after year. That interest may eventually equal the price of another home.

Suppose you bought a house in 1917. He borrowed $3,000.00 at five per cent on a first mortgage. Since then he has paid $3,000.00 in interest, but not a penny on the principal of his mortgage. If he had started, at the time of getting the mortgage, to pay monthly installments of $30.00 each, he would have finished paying for his home many years ago. He would also have saved over $2,000.00 in interest.

The wise man uses our new plan for reducing his mortgage by paying small amounts each month. It saves him money. Our officers will gladly explain how it works.

The CATHOLIC WOMAN

By Gertrude B. Madigan

If there is one thing that is unpardonable from a worldly as well as a religious viewpoint, it is disrespectful behavior in church. That is why we gladly give space to the following letter from a seaman who knows what a privilege it is to be able to attend Mass.

"Dear Mrs Madigan: Won't you say a few words in your column to remind some of our thoughtless Catholics that it is very disrespectful to Our Lord to enter all one's attention upon staying a seat in church and to neglect genuflections. How can one expect to receive favors from Heaven when one is so thoughtless?

"Another awful thing that I have noticed on several occasions is that some people have a habit of walking out during the Consecration. This is very distracting to others. Do they know why they leave the most important moment of the Mass to walk out of the church? If they have to hurry out, they could wait for some other occasion. A couple seconds or minutes could make little difference. To walk out while the bell is ringing for the Consecration is a sign that they do not believe in it. I can't understand why some people can't come to church on time or why others might be unable to attend at all, but walking out during the Consecration . . . won't you give them a good scolding?

"By the way, at least please write from how to acquire a humble heart to which end etc. To those of us who love the Mass it never once seems almost unforgivable. Few of us have reached the state where we are oblivious to all that goes on around us during the Divine Sacrifice.

I have to smile when I read in your splendid column about girls writing how to make social contacts with the object of getting a good mate and all that goes with it. If it were the men the answer would be quite simple. We know of dozens of wonderful girls in various convent homes or residences. I got one of them, or rather she got me.

I would suggest to those girls to pray to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal and keep on until their prayer is answered.

My little mate had given up all hope and then got me in her net and am I happy!

I should add that we are daily communicants, which possible, and we kneel all during Mass. Being a mariner I do not have the happiness of going to Mass daily as Lancelot do, and I count it a grand day if I can get up at 7 a.m. and find a church at . . . though I have to hold up my ship for an hour and spend a couple of dollars for cab fare.

Won't you try to make people who read your column realize the great privilege that is theirs in being able to attend Mass? Literally dozens of pamphlets have been written on this subject but your column is read by thousands weekly.

Convert League Aids C.D.A. 'Red' Campaign

CHICAGO Novel and practical means are being employed by the several hundred units of the National Convert League of the Catholic Daughters of America in its National Crusade against Communism, according to reports submitted and approved at the semi-annual meeting of the supreme board of national officers and directors of the order here.

Inaugurated by the supreme board of the C. D. of A. at its last August the movement against Communism, was given the special support of the great National Convert League of the society in Washington, D. C. through the extension of its Crusade Against Communism, under the patronage of Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore and National Chairman Miss Florence Walsh of Washington, D. C.

According to the plan of campaign against Communism and other subversive influences being carried on under the auspices of the Convert League of the C. D. of A. the movement is intended "not only to aid Communists to see the light, but also seeks to inform all who believe in the one and only true God of the dangers of Communism and exhorts all to study the beginnings and principles of Communism by study club and group discussions."

Miss Mary C. Duffy of Newark, N. J., Supreme Regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, who presided at the supreme board meeting here announced that reports of state regents and state committee leaders from 48 state jurisdictions on the order's National Crusade Against Communism will form an important part of the business of the 1937 supreme international convention of the Catholic Daughters' society at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire July 5 to 9 inclusive.

As one of the principal speakers at the recent National Women's Congress in Chicago, Miss Duffy said: "The Christian womanhood of America today faces a great challenge in the onrush of Communism. Never in the history of the world have we seen Christ's dignity impugned as it is today. Never in the history of mankind has there been such a black tide of blasphemous rebellion against the authority and rule of God as is sweeping the country today. The subversive already is in our midst."

Usually every part of the kitchen is attended to before the most necessary part of its equipment, pots and pans and cooking utensils, although it is obvious that no woman can cook and serve properly without suitable utensils.

It is not good housekeeping to use battered enamel pans if there is danger of the enamel breaking off into tiny particles and getting into the food. You wouldn't knowingly give your family ground glass, yet the effect of enamel particles is much the same.

It is not economy to use an old sauce pan so bent, it will not set properly on the top of the stove and get the full benefit of the heat.

In addition to these plain articles that are innumerable pieces of cooking ware that assist in making food more enjoyable by making possible new ways of cooking. If such as timbale irons, waffle irons, omelet pans, molds for gelatine desserts, etc. With these pieces of equipment any woman would find her cooking more interesting and in the course of events the family would find the food more enjoyable.

WHITE SAUCE

1 tbsp butter
1 tbsp flour
1 cup hot milk
½ tsp salt
Few grains of pepper

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour mixed with seasonings, and cook until well blended, add hot milk gradually while stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point, and let boil two minutes.

JAPANESE POACHED EGGS

1 cup rice
1 cup cream sauce
1 tsp grated onion
1 tbsp celery chopped
6 eggs

Cook the rice in boiling salted water. Drain. Add the cream sauce which has been made from one cup milk, two tablespoons flour and two tablespoons butter. Season to taste. Add the grated onion and put poached eggs on top.

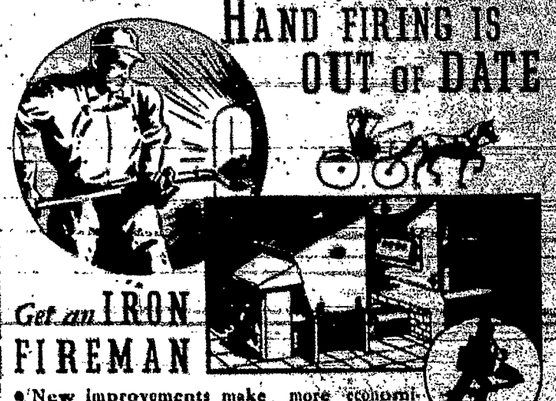
HAND FIRING IS OUT OF DATE



Get an IRON FIREMAN

New improvements make money only for those who adopt them. Don't be one who clings to antiquated methods.—Hand-firing is distinctly out-of-date. It is out-of-pocket, too, because an Iron Fireman automatic coal burner operates more economically, as well as more efficiently, than hand-firing. Let us take you to your neighbor's boiler rooms where big savings are being made because Iron Fireman is firing their boilers.
