RUTHERFORD ATTACK ON ALL RELIGION

Draws Ire of Seattle Citizens

SEATTLE, WASH. (NC) Judge Rutherford violently attacked all organized religion in fulminations here And leaders in all walks of life in this city retaliated with condemnations, protests and a cold reception to the convention of his "Jehovah's Witnesses"

Rutherford addressed 9,000 in the Civic Auditorium Sunday and declared that the Witnesses are against all kinds of religion He charged that all religionists are working for the devil and accused the Catholic Hierarchy of making common cause with Fascists, Nazis, and Communists to rule the world He further charged that the Hierarchy placed Jesuits in charge of Protestant organizations and asserted that the only salvation lay in Jehovah's Witnesses and that elsewhere there is Armageddon

All of this brought bitter denunciations from the daily press a documental exposé of Rutherford attacks on all religious, government and community welfare written in a letter by the Most Rev Gerald Shaughnessy, SM Bishop of Seattle to 1,000 ministers and prominent citizens, and condemnations by leading ministers of all denominations, who called the Rutherford diatribes un-American and un-Christian Some of the ministers read Bishop Shaughnessy's letter to their congregations The Seattle Star, in a front page editorial, declared in a streamer head line "We prefer golden rule of Christianity to Rutherford's brand"

Recent Broadcast

The Rutherford address was broadcast over a coastwide hookup from Station KOL Other Seattle stations refused the program Protests were made to the station against the address before the broadcast. There is strong resentment throughout the community against KOL for broadcasting the address

Knights of Columbus and members of the Catholic Truth Society picketed the Rutherford convention Sunday, distributing Truth Society literature answering the libels cast about in the sessions, although the Catholic reply was non-violent, a fact which evoked the commendation of the city's press They continued to pass out the literature in face of vile imprecations Witnesses cursed them and spat in the faces of some and assaulted others. The Catholics restrained themselves, observing discipline and instructions not to answer force with force

The Knights took license numbers of Witnesses' cars parked at the auditorium Catholic Truth Society literature will be sent to the car owners

City officials here contended they were bound by contract to give Rutherford the use of the Civic Auditorium months ago and before they realized the character of the convention

Dr Mark A Matthews pastor of First Presbyterian Church and largest Presbyterian congregation in the country was among the ministers condemning Rutherford's propaganda

Rabbi Samuel Koch of Temple de Hirsch, Methodist, Baptist Congregational and Episcopalian ministers condemned Rutherford and his propaganda in statements given to the Catholic Northwest Progress for publication as well as in sermons to their congregations

Communist Congress In Belgium Fails

GHENT (NC) In this city center of Socialism in Belgium the second General Communist Congress has just taken place, but with no marked success.

Posters with the "outstretched hand" extended to Flemish Catholics had announced the event Copac Catholic league against Communist propaganda, also pasted posters about the city They too showed the "outstretched hand" but it was a blood-stained hand

To lure the Flemings the anthem "Lion of Flanders" was played at the outset, but the response was slight The "Internationale" was more successful Papal Encyclicals were quoted but speakers affirmed the anti-religious principles of Moscow

RITES MARKING THREE NEW ALTERS

Solemnly Conducted In Ithaca Church

By Genevieve C. Driscoll

ITHACA — To commemorate fittingly the installation of three beautiful new altars in the Church of the Immaculate Conception here a Solemn Pontifical Mass was celebrated by the Most Rev James E Kearney Bishop of Rochester, on Trinity Sunday Some 800 parishioners participated in the services

Dedication of the new marble altars by the Bishop had taken place at a private ceremony on Thursday of last week

Diocesan officials and pastors of other parishes in the diocese came to join with Ithaca's priests in assisting at the Solemn Pontifical Mass

Assisting in the Mass were Assistant Priest, the Rt Rev Msgr William F Bergan, Chancellor of the diocese Deacons of Honor, the Rt Rev Msgr Joseph S Cameron, Rochester, and the Rev William McFadden, Geneva, Deacon of the Mass, the Rev. Donald M Cleary Ithaca, Subdeacon, the Rev Theodore Winterroth, Kings Ferry First Master of Ceremonies the Rev Lawrence B Casey Vice Chancellor, and Second Master the Rev Gerald G Kelly, Ithaca

Offers Congratulations

At the conclusion of the Mass the capacity congregation heard their Bishop congratulate priests and people on their "beautiful church edifice"

"This church is your representation of Christ on earth," His Excellency said as he surveyed the church's interior from the pulpit "I am the way, the truth and the life" is Christ's own description of what He wanted His Church to be to carry on His work The beauty of His House is a congregation's best contribution to Him and the Holy Trinity

Tracing the path of a true worshipper from church door to altar Bishop Kearney pointed out that through the confessional Christ becomes the way to heaven Alluding to allurements that draw away from the path to heaven he described the confessional as a "by-way" to lead back

"From the pulpit comes an expression of Christ as truth" Bishop Kearney said "From this pulpit will issue no personal opinions on religion, but matter sanctioned by 20 centuries of Christian religion not subject to change by any age religion or philosophy

Modern Teaching Decried

"The preachments of this age say to set aside all doctrine, the modern day decries all dogma This is definitely opposed to the teachings of the Son of God who was so concerned with dogmatic truth that He founded the church to spread it He came on earth to teach to establish a certain religious doctrine From the Catholic pulpit will come Christ as truth

"Christ as life is found at the altar" Bishop Kearney concluded "His body is the vine and we are the branches, we can do nothing without the vine From the altars life comes the Catholic's ability to do what right he can in this world"

The Bishop's sermon was as a culmination of commemoration services for which the congregation had begun to gather two hours before

Pastor Gives Thanks

The Rev William Byrne pastor of Immaculate Conception Church here took his place in the pulpit only briefly to thank the donors of the new altars which he declared would "stand as monuments to their faith"

He also thanked individual parishioners and church organizations for "valuable contributions" to the newly beautified edifice He cited the "painstaking care" of Architect Harold Rambusch of New York City

It was an impressive background for the ritual of the Mass that the

PRIEST ENDS STRIKE IN RUBBER PLANT BY URGING CONFERENCE

RAVENNA, O (NC) The words and actions of the Rev J Leo Brennan, assistant pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, brought to an end a strike which had tied up operations of the Oak Rubber Company plant here

Not only did Father Brennan address the workers, counseling arbitration but he offered to provide a hall in which they could meet with their employers, cite their grievances and seek a settlement. Both sides accepted his offer met in the K of C Hall and, as a result, reached an agreement which ended the strike

Picket lines had been established around the plant, immediately to the rear of Immaculate Conception Church The situation had reached a deadlock when Father Brennan appeared on the scene and addressed the workers

"There is no strike that cannot be settled with a little straight thinking and a quiet talk" he told the workers "You all need your pay checks and cannot get along without them We can talk things over and reach a settlement If I secure the K of C hall so you can sit down together and try to reach an agreement, will you use it?"

Workers and employers accepted his offer. The meeting was held and the strike ended.

The peaceful settlement of the dispute greatly pleased the citizens of Ravenna. The Ravenna Evening Record said editorially: "Actions speak louder than words, goes the saying, and in the case of the Rev Father Leo Brennan, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Ravenna, this is especially true"

The Ravenna local union of the United Rubber Workers of America sent a letter of thanks to Father Brennan for his intervention. The president of the Oak Rubber Company also called to thank the priest

With characteristic modesty, Father Brennan deprecated his efforts in settling the labor dispute.

Red Leader's 'Friendly Hand' Bid Strongly Repudiated

NEW YORK—(NC)—One important group of the Catholic laity, to whom Earl Browder recently appealed to accept the "friendly hand" of the Communists, gave an emphatic negative reply in a statement issued by the executive committee of the New York Chapter of the National Catholic Alumni Federation Monday.

"If Earl Browder had walked down Broadway clothed in nothing more than a barrel," the statement said, "he could not have appeared more ridiculous than when, in the name of the Communists, he extended a so-called friendly hand to the Catholics in America.

"Since Mr. Browder addressed himself to Catholics, as Catholics, the New York Chapter of the National Catholic Federation will confine itself to a few brief statements by the heads of the Catholic Church. We think that these few statements will serve as convincing proof that Catholics are unalterably opposed to co-operation or alliance with Communists.

Would Destroy Society

"As far back as 1846, Pius IX labeled Communism as 'that infamous doctrine which is absolutely contrary to the natural law itself, and if once adopted would utterly destroy the rights, property and possessions of all men, and even society itself.'

"In 1878, Leo XIII alluded to Communists as 'that sect of men who, under the motley and all but barbarous terms and titles of Socialists, Communists and Nihilists, are spread abroad throughout the world and, bound intimately together in baneful alliance, no longer look for strong support in secret meeting held in darksome places, but standing forth openly and boldly in the light of day, strive to carry out the purpose long resolved upon, of uprooting the foundations of civilized society at large.'

Pope Pius XI Cited

"In 1931, the same Pope Leo again attacked the Communists for 'urging the masses onward to sedition.'

"The present Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, in 1937 continued the Catholic attack on Communism in his Encyclical 'Atheistic Communism' in which he said, 'This modern revolution has actually broken out or threatens everywhere, and it exceeds in amplitude and violence anything yet experienced for the preceding persecutions launched against the Church.'

"These few statements, garnered from numerous writings on the subject, should prove, as the Holy Father says, that the Catholic Church has called public attention to the perils of Communism more frequently and more effectively than any other public authority on earth.'

Gives Himself Away

"Mr. Browder gives himself away when he says that Catholics as a whole turn to the doctrines and dogmas of their Church for formulation and justification of ethical and moral standards, while Communists base their standards wholly on the needs of society.'

"He should also have made it quite clear that Catholics are essentially concerned with the needs of society, but that their democracy is built, in the words of Leo XIII, 'on the basic principles of divine faith, and provides for the betterment of the masses with the object of availing itself of the occasion to fashion their minds for things which are everlasting.'

"Furthermore, Catholics are guided 'by those laws which command them to love God above all things, and their neighbor as themselves' Consequently, they are opposed to class war and hatred which Communism fosters.

Stands For Rights

"Only Mr. Browder is being deceived when he says that the Communists have not sought to destroy freedom of worship. How can American Catholics forget Spain, Mexico and Russia. It is true that the Roman Catholic religion was not strong in Czaristic Russia, but the Holy Father condemned the Soviet government so strongly in that instance, not because the Soviet officials were attacking Roman Catholicism itself, but because they were attacking freedom of conscience and man's individuality.

"That is why Communists hate Catholics.

"Just so long as a strong body staunchly fights for the right of men to follow their own conscience and to recognize a divine law higher than that laid down by other men, the advance of Communism will be hampered and destroyed.

"The Catholic Church stands for these rights. American Protestants and Jews stand for those rights. United in our defense of religious liberty, we will successfully defend America against Communism, Fascism and all other forms of bigotry."

'Catholic Editor' Pops Up In N. Y.

Where Red Russia Salute Is Given

NEW YORK, (NC) At a meeting at Madison Square Garden last Thursday sponsored by the Greater New York Committee of the Medical Bureau and the North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy, the communist salute of the clenched fist was enthusiastically given and when Russia and Stalin were mentioned it was a signal for uproarious cheering.

The meeting marked the first well appearance of the Loyalist delegation from Spain who have been touring the United States to arouse propaganda for the Loyalist government. Among the speakers was Juan Bergamin, who earlier as Catholic editor of a Catholic Review Comment Page, through the publication of two years ago, was reviewed by Bishop Cantwell in Leaflets Dominical.

Leaflets were distributed at Madison Square Garden claiming that Bergamin [illegible] of his magazine [illegible] were false, the representations imputing the Catholicity of Cardinal Gomá of Spain.

REVERENT THRONG

Views Removal of New Saint's Body

VATICAN CITY, (NC) [illegible] Escorted by a large group of English pilgrims, the remains of St. Andrew Bobola, the Polish Martyr, left Rome Wednesday evening on a special train for Poland.

The departure was preceded by a triumphal procession through the streets of the Eternal City and a religious service in which a large score of members of the Roman College of Cardinals took part.

The urn containing the body of canonized Saint's remains was placed in a railway coach which had been transformed into a chapel decorated with Italian and Polish flags. Large throngs visited the chapel car at the railway station before the train's departure. The procession through the streets and the scenes at the railway station were all marked by the fervent manifestations of piety.

BISHOP HUNT SEES INDIFFERENTISM AS 'COMMON ENEMY'

NEW YORK—Religious indifferentism is a common enemy, declared the Most Rev Duane G. Hunt, Bishop of Salt Lake, opening his series of addresses over the "Catholic Hour" last Sunday night on "The Appeal to Reason."

Speaking on "The Need for Authority," Bishop Hunt said that the wave of indifferentism which is sweeping through the country today" and "affecting all churches" is but "the logical result of the loss of respect for authority." Protest against rightful authority, he said, is not new, but in recent years it has "taken on new forms and a new emphasis."

The Catholic Hour is broadcast over a network of the National Broadcasting Company [illegible] Station WEAF [illegible] duced by the National Council of Catholic Men.

HITS BAN on Innocent Games

HALIFAX, N S.- Rules and regulations which would confuse innocent amusements with gambling were scored by the Most Rev. J. T. McNally, Archbishop of Halifax, speaking to the Canadian Catholic Students Mission Circle here.

The occasion was the renewal of the Legion of Decency pledge by more than 1,000 college and high school students, the pledge including condemnation of immoral and indecent books and magazines.

An anti-bingo fervor has recently struck this city and police were instructed to enforce laws which would prohibit its playing.

"I know that the games you hold in your church halls, for which prizes are given, are not immoral and are not gambling," the Archbishop said, "but it would appear from the accusations of certain people and from the rules and regulations being urged that we are wrong in permitting these things.

"Certainly the civil law has a right to impose rules for [illegible] gambling, but surely an intelligent administration can distinguish between gambling and innocent amusement."
