GIFT OF MISS McNAMARA

CORNING.—The Rev. John A. Smith, pastor, announced Sunday the gift to St. Mary's Church of a public address system and a set of chimes. They were given by Miss Elizabeth A. McNamara, 14 East Fourth St., in memory of the McNamara family, long an outstanding family of Corning in religious, civic and educational circles.

This gift is the complement of another gift made by Miss McNamara to the church a short time ago when through her generosity the organ was rebuilt and electrified. Father Smith in acknowledging the gift Sunday commented upon Miss McNamara's generosity to the other Catholic churches of the city and in Des Moines, Ia., a generosity which merited for her on three different occasions the Papal blessing.

The loudspeaker was used Sunday for the first time and installation is being completed today which will enable voices, chimes and organ music to be broadcast from the church tower.

Cardinal, Passing By, Joins Youths In Prayers For Peace At Road Shrine

QUEBEC (NC) — Profoundly touched by what he saw, His Eminence Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, stopped at a roadside cross to pray with a group of young persons who meet there each evening to pray for a victorious peace.

The cross stands on property adjoining the main highway to Quebec. The Cardinal was returning to Quebec by automobile when he saw the group of young folks kneeling at the foot of the large cross in a carpet of flowers.

His Eminence ordered the car stopped, and went and took his place with the youths. Later he spoke to them, telling them how deeply touched he had been by their devotion.

Pastoral Aids Dry Vote

Charlottetown, P. E. I.—A pastoral letter of the Most Rev. J. A. O'Sullivan, Bishop of Charlottetown, whose diocese embraces the Province of Prince Edward Island, played an important role in the defeat of an attempt to legalize beer and wine sales by the glass and bottle on the island. The provincial government ordered a referendum on the question of whether the island would continue in the prohibition column as the only Canadian province banning liquor sales, or modification be made in favor of beer and wine. Bishop O'Sullivan strongly opposed a change.

Parish To Honor Nun On St. Rose Feast Day

By F. A. McGRAW

LIMA.—Tomorrow, Friday, Aug. 30, marks the Feast Day of St. Rose of Lima, patron of the Catholic Church and School here. However, this year, it will have an added significance for parishioners and pupils alike, for it has been selected by Sister M. Teresita as the day on which she has chosen to bid farewell to this community after 38 years of service as a teacher in St. Rose School.

The announcement of Sister Teresita's transfer to St. Paul's School, Oswego, N. Y., brought with it the deepest sense of regret, not only with the pupils and former pupils of St. Rose School, but also the parishioners of St. Rose Church and her friends in this community.

Arriving in Lima, September 27, 1902, Sister Teresita succeeded Sister M. Benedict and for a period of twelve years taught the fifth, sixth and seventh grades of the school, after which she was appointed principal of the school, teaching eighth grade and first year high school subjects.

Sister Teresita's ever present spirit of happiness, her wise counsels in time of difficulty and trial, not only in the lives of the pupils but in the lives of the parishioners were always an indeterminable source of utmost consolation which will not, nor never can be forgotten.

For two terms, Sister Teresita served as Mother Superior of St. Rose convent and she also holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Bonaventure College, Allegheny, N. Y.

Before her departure, a token of appreciation from the parishioners of St. Rose Church will be presented Sister Teresita and speaking on behalf of the parishioners of St. Rose Church, we all join in wishing for her many, many more days through many, many more years of service to God, to her community and to her and our beloved America.

Sister M. Grace Marie, formerly of Sacred Heart School, Rochester, has been appointed to succeed Sister M. Teresita and will arrive here this week.

BOOK CLUB SELECTS BOOK ON IRISH RURAL LIFE

NEW YORK.—(NC)—"The Farm by Lough Gur," by Lady Mary Carberry, a novel dealing with Irish rural life, has been selected for August by the Catholic Book Club here. It is published by Longmans, Green and Company, this city.

Reviewing the novel in the Book Club's Newsletter, Sterns Cunningham says that "confining Irish literature" to the two extremes of "the picturesque thatched cottage, on the one end, and the fabulous castle, from which lords and ladies emerged on special occasions, on the other," has had "the unfortunate effect of limiting it to the story of the peat bog or the hunting field."

"Lady Carberry has shown us another Ireland," he adds, "a place where families lived in reasonable comfort, appreciated a sound if not broad education, and preserved the religion and traditions of their ancestors. She has pictured a land of which every Irishman may be proud and an ars vitae which should bring recruits to that praiseworthy modern effort, the Rural Life Movement. To read 'The Farm by Lough Gur' is to turn aside from the harrowing headlines of today and to remember what was and, Deus volens, may be again."

PLAN TO KEEP CANADIAN GIRLS ON FARMS

NAPPIERVILLE, Que.—(NC)—Seven hundred young women, representing a federation of 15 "fermerettes" circles in five Quebec counties, drew up a program here designed to keep young women on the farms, and make their lot more attractive.

The Most Rev. Anastase Forget, Bishop of St. Jean, honorary chairman, sang the opening Mass, at which he sounded a call to action.

The delegates were told there was a necessity for a system of education which would make the young women appreciate and love rural life, and realize their mission. Obstacles which have turned them from their vocations must be overcome or removed, and a just equilibrium set up between the level of instruction of youths and young women of the country, the Bishop said.
