St. Margaret Mary's ALTAR SOCIETY

St. Margaret Mary's Altar Society sponsored a dessert card party for Thursday, Nov. 14, at 1 P. M. in the school on Rogers Parkway.

Mrs. Alfred G. Rinkert announces the following committee for this pre-Thanksgiving party:

Chairman, Mrs. Thomas J. McCarrick.

Refreshments, Mrs. Francis Connaughty, Mrs. George F. Lorenz, Mrs. Lester McCormick, Mrs. Elmer Schoepfel, Mrs. Walter Harvey, Mrs. Walter Kanaley, Mrs. Charles Cornell, Mrs. Carl Wattel, Mrs. Arthur Bertram, Mrs. Charles Glatz.

Prizes, Mrs. Frederick Messmer, Mrs. John Ryan.

Tables, Mrs. Walter Britz.

Cards, Mrs. Edward Unger, Mrs. R. Emmett Kildea.

Hostesses, Mrs. George Seibold, Mrs. Charles Gortner.

Publicity, Mrs. George N. Raby.

Blessed Sacrament THANKSGIVING SOCIAL

The Holy Name Society will be in charge of a two night social to be held in the school Auditorium on Monday and Tuesday of next week, Nov. 18 and 19. Entertainment will be provided and a large crowd is expected to be present. Thirty persons each evening will bring home their Thanksgiving turkey with them.

On Monday evening Nov. 25, the Rosary Society will conduct the parish party mentioned in last week's issue of the COURIER. Miss Mary Caragher chairwoman, will announce the members of her Committee within a few days.

GOING TO SELMA

One of the sisters in our school is leaving us to take up missionary work among the poor white and colored people in Alabama. Sister Francis David, sixth grade teacher for some time in Blessed Sacrament, volunteered her services in this new mission and will soon start for the south. She will be greatly missed, but the prayers of her former pupils and friends will follow her into her new field of endeavor for our Lord.

Due to the great number of people attending the 10 o'clock Mass at Blessed Sacrament it has been found necessary to have an extra Mass on Sundays. Beginning next Sunday, November 17 Mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock in the school Auditorium as well as in the Church. It is hoped that this arrangement will make it possible for everyone to hear Mass attentively and devoutly.

Publish Mass Written By St. Bona Priest

ST. BONAVENTURE, N. Y.—The McLaughlin & Reilly Company, of Boston, has just published a Mass written by a member of the St. Bonaventure faculty, Rev. Claude Kern, O.F.M., director of the College Department of Music.

The Mass, entitled "Missa pro Pace," was written early this Summer and was first performed at the Solemn Pontifical Mass in the Butler Memorial Gymnasium on St. Francis Day, October 4.

The entire Mass is based on the Gregorian theme. Written for unison voices, it follows lines that, though melodious, are simple and should answer the needs of school and convent choirs.

"Missa pro Pace" Father Claude's first sacred composition of several recently accepted for publication, has been dedicated to the Franciscan Sisters of Allegany, N. Y.

Marks Anniversary

San Diego.—The Most Rev. Charles F. Buddy, Bishop of San Diego, officiated at Solemn Mass in the Carmelite Monastery here in commemoration of the sesquicentennial of the foundation of the Order of Carmel in the United States.

Bishop Will Open Novena of Gratitude

Conducting the first services of a Novena of Gratitude to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal on Monday evening Nov. 18 at St. Margaret Mary's Church will be His Excellency the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, who is keenly interested in this special devotion.

The Novena will be continued until the Feast Day, Nov. 27.

On the opening night the Bishop will present to each one making this special novena a Miraculous Medal blessed by himself. The services of the novena each evening will be conducted by a member of the Vincentian Order, the Rev. Frederick J. Gehring, C.M. All the evening services will be at 7:45 p. m.

Permission has also been granted by the Holy Father for veneration of a relic of Blessed Catherine Laboure. The relic has been obtained by the Rev. Charles J. Bruton, pastor, from the Sisters of Charity at St. Mary's Hospital, the order to which Blessed Catherine Laboure belonged.

In announcing the special Novena of Gratitude, St. Margaret Mary's weekly news sheet states:

"On May 27, 1935, five and one half years ago, we started the Novena of the Miraculous Medal in our Church of St. Margaret Mary, the first church in this diocese to have this novena and which has been continued without interruption each Monday night.

"During that time the parish has seen a marvelous growth and has been eminently successful financially and spiritually. Mindful of the event in the life of Our Lord when He cured ten lepers and of the ten only one returned to give Him thanks, and realizing His attitude towards ingratitude, we are going to have this Novena of Gratitude to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, starting on Monday evening, Nov. 18 and concluding with the Mass of the Miraculous Medal on the Feast Day, Nov. 27.

"Catherine Laboure to whom our Blessed Lady expressed her wish for this special devotion in honor of her Immaculate Conception died on Dec. 31, 1876 and was beatified by Pope Pius XI on May 28, 1933. Pope Leo XIII on July 23, 1894 authorized a special Mass of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin under the title of the Miraculous Medal, but only for the members of the Vincentian Order.

"In February of this year 1940 the Holy See granted this privilege to our church together with the other churches in the U. S. A. who were conducting this Novena at that time. We are making use of this special privilege for the first time this year and we will be the first church in the Diocese of Rochester who will have this opportunity."

Helping Or Hindering

By Mary Starck Kerr

Issued by the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West 40th Street, New York City. These articles are appearing weekly in our columns.

Baby Donald went over to the table and reached upward a vase of flowers standing there. His mother, who was entertaining callers, did not call to him, to stop or to come away from the table, as Mrs. Jones expected. Instead she stepped quietly but quickly to his side, and taking up the vase with marked carefulness, showed the flowers to Donald, letting him smell them. Then she set the vase back with the same noticeable care, saying, "Now we will put the pretty flowers back very carefully, so the water in the vase will not be spilled on the table or on Donald."

After that she gave Donald his toy-auto which he had deserted a few minutes before, and he played contentedly during the remainder of the visit.

That evening Mrs. Jones related the incident to her husband, and said, "I believe I have learned the secret of the good conduct shown by Mrs. Scott's older children when they visit here. They never meddle with anything in the house, as most other children do—even our own Alice and Dicky."

"That's so," said Mr. Jones, "I always have thought that we waste a lot of energy trying to keep children from doing things that are perfectly natural for them to do. My idea would be to keep all the things we don't want them to touch well out of their reach, until they are old enough to understand what they are for and how to handle them."

"When it is impossible for us to watch the children, that is, of course, the best thing to do," replied Mrs. Jones, "but," thoughtfully, "when we can be with them, shouldn't we leave things in their proper places and just help the children to learn what they are for and how to handle them? This is not the first time I have noticed Mrs. Scott's methods. When she was serving refreshments, earlier in the afternoon, she let Baby Donald help. He carried an empty cup with its saucer to Mrs. Brown. Now if Dicky took hold of one of our fine china cups or saucers, I should be so afraid of his dropping it that I should probably say, 'Put that down, Dicky,' and, very likely in a tone of voice that would startle him so that he would drop it."

"Yes," said Mr. Jones. "I remember doing that very thing when Alice was two years old."

"I read a quotation the other day: it was something like this: 'When you discourage your child from investigating, you are hindering him in his search for knowledge.' I suppose these very simple early attempts to find out about things are as important to the child as later ones."

"And children are not really naughty when they 'get into things,' as we say. They are only trying to learn what things are and what can be done with them."

"So we should try to help by watching for opportunities to show them the things which interest them. Dick, you are so much more understanding than most fathers, that if we work together—"

"Our children will be just as dependable as the Scott children are!"

Nazareth College in the News

By HELEN MACCHIA

The Sociology Club, with Gertrude Hart presiding, heard Miss Maher, Director of the local Red Cross Chapter, on Tuesday, Nov. 12. She explained the functions of the Red Cross in wartime. For the future the Club is planning a series of seminars open to all the students interested in current social problems at which various priests, outstanding in the field of Catholic Social Action, will preside.

The Freshman Liturgy Class, under the auspices of Our Lady's Sodality, has planned to have Father Turula, pastor of St. Josephat's Church, He is being invited to offer Mass in the Byzantine Rite in the College Chapel on Friday, Nov. 15. Some members of the Liturgy Class will discuss the various aspects of the Oriental Rite at the Students' assembly Thursday, Nov. 14. The assembly will be followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament according to the Byzantine Rite.

At the Students' assembly last Thursday, all became acquainted with the fact that Peggy Meere, who is on the Mission Board, is running a drive for old clothes in November. The clothes will be sent to the new Mission in Selma, Ala.

A New York Chapter of Nazareth College Alumnae was formed recently when Miss Betty Griffin was in the city. Mrs. Edward Barry, nee Mary Neary, was elected President.

The directors of the Music Department, not satisfied with a very successful orchestra and glee club have formed a college band. The members of the band will include, for the most part all the girls who are majoring in Public School Music. Practices are being held once a week under the direction of Mr. Waide.

When the Debate Club held its first meeting of the year, Betty Curry was elected manager, with Madeline Murphy as assistant-manager. The Club is planning debates with several colleges this year. On Friday, Nov. 8, the club was represented by Mary Bamish and Marita Mensing at Niagara University at a round-table discussion of the National Debate Question: Resolved that the nations of the Western Hemisphere should enter into a permanent union. This week Betty Curry and Madeline Murphy will represent the Club at the University of Rochester. They shall discuss this same question.

Mr. Harold Sullivan spoke to the Sociology students, Tuesday, Nov. 5. He was head of the Boston House of Hospitality, and in his talk stressed the need for more of these Houses throughout the country for the vast number of migratory workers who are excluded from municipal and state relief. Then Mr. Sullivan spoke on modern war in the light of St. Thomas' pre-requisites for a just war. He, then, challenged the students to study them and see if they could in any way vindicate modern war.

The I. R. C. Delegates to the Lake Erie Student Peace Federation met at Nazareth College on Saturday, Nov. 9. The first conference of the day was preceded by a Mass at which the Rev. Francis Hinton of Niagara University was celebrant. At the first meeting, the Rev. Edward Lutz of Nazareth College keynoted the meeting with a brief talk. The professor of history at Nazareth, Dr. Aaron I. Abell spoke on "The Kind of Peace To Follow This War." He pointed out that there must be universal recognition of the rights of nations, and that substantial disarmament must be brought about through a stern international organization with co-operation in humanitarian motives. Among the colleges represented were Canisius, D'Youville, Mercyhurst, Mount Mercy, Villa Maria, St. Bonaventure, Cathedral and Niagara University. Mary Baynes of Nazareth was conference chairman.

The Freshmen will hold their Frosh Frolic on Saturday, Nov. 16, at the college. Committees number 60 members of the freshmen class are headed by Honorary Chairman Jean Dunigan and Chairman Marian McNally.

Sophomores of the college are planning to hold their annual Sophomore Hop on Friday, Nov. 15. Heading seven committees comprising 71 second year students are Honorary chairman, Patricia Doyle, and General Chairman, Marcella Caufield.

WAGE STATEMENTS READY AT SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE

The Social Security Board's new wage statements, on which workers receive a complete statement of all wages recorded to their social security accounts from 1937 through 1939, are now available through the Rochester Field Office of the Social Security Board, it was announced today by Kenneth G. Haxtun, Manager of the Rochester Field Office.

"The statement may be obtained through a simple card which the worker fills out and mails to the Social Security Board," Mr. Haxtun explained. "On it he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth. The last item is to identify the account.

"The reply comes to the worker in a sealed envelope, conforming to the Board's regulation that such information is completely confidential. It will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, in addition, it will give the total of all wages, as reported and processed since his social security account was started."

St. Andrew's Parish FESTIVAL SATURDAY

The annual harvest festival is to be held this Saturday evening, Nov. 16, in the school hall. It is being conducted by the members of the Holy Name Society. Tickets are coming in rapidly and indications point towards a fine success. The usual fine supply of turkeys will be available and at least one hundred people who attend the festival will have a turkey for their Thanksgiving dinner.

The Junior Holy Name Society and the Sodality of Our Lady will receive corporate Holy Communion at the 9 o'clock Mass Sunday, which is the third one of the month. Approximately 200 were present for last month's Reception and an even large crowd is expected Sunday.

Members of the Girl Scout Troops 188-189 marked their anniversary on Nov. 14 with a large Mothers and Daughters' banquet in the school hall.

Approximately one hundred and fifty were in attendance. Outstanding Catholics in Scouting were present for this event.

Scout Leaders Mrs. Philip Cinbello, Miss Sarah Ferraro, Miss Eleanor Heindl and Miss Sue Ferraro came in for much commendation for their splendid work of organizing two Scout troops in one year. Parish priests complimented them on their work and issued a word of praise to the scouts in general for their excellent work.

Neidinger's Service Is Aid To Drivers

Slippery roads will soon present new hazards to drivers. Leaves in the streets are as bad as snow and ice.

Neidinger's at 9 Monroe Ave. specialize in tires and can offer you service beyond compare. If your tires are in poor condition, stop in and have them fixed. Retreading will give you the maximum of safety.

People who cannot afford to buy new tires may make use of this safety measure and have their tires retreaded at a small cost. Neidingers' are expert in the retread business. Whenever you have tire trouble, come to Neidinger's where quality predominates.

Using high class methods, workmanship, most modern equipment and highest quality materials, places Neidinger in a position to guarantee unconditionally against any defects or loose tread. Some of the leading firms in Rochester, such as Dairies, Laundries, Department Stores, Bakeries, Oil Companies, and Beverage Distributors, have availed themselves of this excellent, money-saving retreading service rendered by Neidinger. This service not only applies to commercial trade, but your own car will be given this same service.

Retreading is approximately 50 per cent, the cost of a first line new tire. Neidinger's are specialists in Retreading, Regrooving and Repairing tires, and invite you to inspect their modern equipment located at 90 Monroe Avenue, between Broadway and Chestnut. St. Parking in rear for tire service. Stone 5039.

To Participate In Eucharistic Congress

ST. PAUL.—The St. Paul Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold a luncheon meeting this Friday to discuss plans for participation of the Council in the Ninth National Eucharistic Congress to be held in the Twin Cities June 23-26, 1941.

The luncheon will follow the annual meeting of the Minnesota Council of Catholic Women to be held also this week.
