COMMENDS CATHOLIC NURSES

Catholic Nurses Get R.S.V.P. Photo

Nurses Hear Spirituality Stressed At Community Event

The salvation of one soul is worth the establishment of an organization such as the Rochester Council of Catholic Nurses, His Excellency, the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, told 200 nurses at their newly formed Communion Breakfast Sunday morning at Cathedral.

Regretting Catholic nurses of the [illegible] this and those on private duty attended Mass celebrated by the Bishop in Mother of Sorrows Chapel of Old St. Mary's Church and received Holy Communion at the hands of His Excellency.

Assisting the Bishop was the Rev. Gregory Dugan, spiritual director of the newly formed Council. The Rev. Dr. George F. Ketcham, pastor of Old St. Mary's, was in the sanctuary. Students of St. Andrew's Seminary sang during the Mass.

Moral responsibility and accountability make the Lenten season serious for us, the Bishop said at the Mass. He emphasized the importance of Lenten practices now and urged prayer and sacrifice that the ravages of war be kept from us that we may be left to the peaceful ways which have made America great.

Cites Group's Purpose

Salvation of the individual nurses and of those with whom the nurses comes in contact is the objective of the new organization, the Bishop said at the breakfast.

His Excellency was presented by Father Dugan who was toastmaster.

The organization is valuable, the Bishop said, because of the contribution of nurses to the soul of individual patients and of the opportunity it gives to understand the Catholic attitude on questions in the medical world today.

The nurses, he said, can help preserve the religion of others with whom they come in contact, the patients and the young people in training by intelligent action. They were assured of the Bishop's sincere support as he commended them for their enthusiasm and pointed out to them the good they can do as a united organization.

Lauds Nursing Profession

Bringing the greetings of the medical profession, Dr. Walter A. O'Brien, president, Rochester surgeon, paid tribute to the significance, security and self-sacrifice of the nursing profession.

Citing the immortal Florence Nightingale, extolling the nuns whom history has recorded as outstanding nurses, he urged reading of the history of the founding of the Sisters of Mercy and of the Sisters of Charity, the latter being, he said, "our own beloved Sisters in St. Mary's Hospital.

"If I have only a little you think of what history will show as a basis for professional training I will feel I have accomplished a great deal."

Father Dugan called attention to the next meeting of the Rochester Council of Catholic Nurses on Monday evening, March 10, in Columbus Civic Centre at which election of officers will take place.

Miss Marie Flanagan, R.N., expressed appreciation to Bishop Kearney for interest shown in the organization of the Catholic nurses group.

Arrangements for the Communion Mass and Breakfast were made under the direction of Miss Mary E. Anderson, R.N., chairman, and Miss Mary Rose Maley, R.N., co-chairman.

Group sang [illegible] led by James F. Martin with James Hulburt at the piano.

Guild Maps Drive For Members

'To God'

Oh God! Help us in this hour of need
Simply to see happiness our hearts do feed
When our hearts in misery burn
To You dear Lord we always turn
Help us in our mental strife
Help us in our daily life
Bless every thought and act,
Make our lives a simple fact
To You Oh God in Heaven above
We gladly give our humble love
Unworthy though we all may be
Our love at least, we give to thee

She stressed the important part that religion plays in all of these Spanish speaking countries. Later in the [illegible] after the date and place [illegible] Pax Romana meeting was announced. Miss White, professor of English at the college, reminisced some of her most pleasant experiences at the Pax Romana meetings which she attended in different countries. The chairman of the meeting was Anita Stahl, president of the I. R. C. at the College.

The Athletic Department of Nazareth College has inaugurated many new projects during this semester. Some of these are bowling under the direction of Marie Vetter, an experienced student, every Friday afternoon at Rochester on Lake Ave. On Tuesday afternoons life-saving and swimming classes are conducted under the immediate direction of Rita Schneable, who is also a student at the College. Last Friday evening was the occasion for a gala skating party sponsored by the Athletic Department at Maplewood Parks. At the party, which was [illegible] by a light lunch and square dancing many faculty members were present. This party was under the direction of Mrs. Morgan, director of College Athletics.

An interesting non-decision debate was held at the Rochester division of Niagara University on Friday, Feb. 28. The two girls who represented the College debate society were Nancy Dineen and Catherine Statt.

The Marian Committee of the College Sodality met in the Social Room of the College on Sunday afternoon, March 2. Florence Hogan, chairman of the committee, conducting the meeting.

Sister Paulette, head of the Sociology Department at Nazareth College, addressed a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Group of the Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral on Monday evening, March 3. Her subject was "The Necessity of a Catholic Atmosphere in the Home." A discussion period followed.

The Novena of Grace opened at the College on Tuesday morning at 8:30 with a Mass sung by the Rev. Edward Lintz, Ph.D. After the Mass a sermon was given by the Rev. Charles H. Mahoney, Ph.D. In this sermon Father Mahoney stressed the importance of possessing spiritual blessedness that which unites us to God, and that we should not strive to possess only earthly joy and happiness for these are perishable. At the end of the sermon, the Novena prayers were recited by the Rev. Leonard Kelly, M.A.

Miss Katherine Van de Carr, head supervisor of Public Welfare at the County Department, discussed the Public Welfare Law with the Senior Sociology students at the College on Wednesday, March 5. She stressed the fact that this law is the basis for all work in Public Administration.

The Red Cross Group at the College has just finished an afghan made out of small pieces of wool which were donated. Kaye Lechner, the student at the head of this Red Cross Group, reports that 107 extra knitted squares have been handed in together with the completed afghan and that all the articles prepared by this group will be used in the shelters of England.

Verity Fair, the campus literary quarterly, made its appearance on Wednesday, March 5. The current number contains several faculty contributions including an article on Charity and War by the Rev. Edward Lintz, Ph.D., and Miss Marie [illegible], College librarian, also has written an article for this issue. Other features in this issue include short stories by Mary Baynes and Mary Bertha Palmer, students at the College, and Anne Stehle, who is an aviatrix, has written an article which deals with her first flight. In this issue it is mentioned that Anne Stehle has followed in the steps of Mary Finegan, who was the first student pilot at Nazareth College a few years ago. This special feature includes two full-page cuts of Pope Pius XII, together with a poetry section in which all the campus poets were given the opportunity to contribute. The student body will vote on their first choice among these poems. The editorial comment includes an attack on the attitude of H. G. Wells towards the present war and an open letter to Catholic College Women.

Miss Flanagan, Vocational Guidance Director at Nazareth College, has left on a trip which will extend throughout the Eastern part of the State. She will address the Senior students who are attending the high schools in Canastota, Oneida, Utica, New Hartford, Clinton, Rome, Whitesboro and Chadwick. She will speak to them on the choice of a College.

NCCW 'Call To Youth' Radio Addresses

Warns U. S. Youth of Foes To Their Liberty Security

Warning American youth against too great confidence in the perpetuation of their liberty and security, Miss Anne Sarachon Hooley, chairman of the Youth Committee of the National Council of Catholic Women, in a radio address Saturday, said that the enemy of godlessness and paganism are at work in America to destroy the basis of true liberty and peace.

Miss Hooley spoke in the Call To Youth program, broadcast weekly over WHAM and the Red Network of the National Broadcasting Company and sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Women.

Miss Hooley cautioned against feeling so secure in the possession of freedom, security and faith that "heedlessness will result, declaring that such gifts "must be received with eager welcoming arms and nurtured with devotion, with intelligence and with courage.

"We too long have been indifferent and smug," she added. "If America—and the Church had an army of youth eager, generous and thinking, then your future and that of your country would be secure. All the subversive influences that might come to our shores would be beaten down and driven back. It is comparatively easy to die for God and country. It is harder, much harder to live for them."

Continuing, Miss Hooley said these are days of quick emotions and tense feelings," when "we go about our routine duties with a weighted sense of things to happen with a subconscious expectancy that at any moment these routine actions may be radically changed. "It is extremely important, then that in this atmosphere you, who are the rising generation, should be doing some solid thinking," she added.

Urging intensive mental exploring, Miss Hooley commended those who with regard to those things that are important to youth as Americans.

"You boast that you are a citizen of a great Christian democracy and as such you have a freedom, a security, a right of individual integrity which no other nation on the face of the globe offers to its youth at this particular moment," she said.

"You are interested in your country, your world, your home, justice and peace. However, she warned, all these things rest upon the principle that there is a Creator "a beautiful God Who has given you as an individual certain rights and privileges," but, she said, there are "insidious influences" in this country working "to destroy a belief in God" and thus "are striking at the very well-springs" of freedom.

Miss Hooley urged youth to form panel groups or discussion clubs where several people come together each with his own information, and his own opinions to test views by balancing them back and forth, to consider every angle of the subject. She added that lectures, book reviews, "good speakers" and the like for leisure-time programs are apt to become for youth "a form of mental thumb-sucking."

According To The Doctor

How To Strengthen Your Defense Against the 'Flu'

1. Avoid needless crowding. Influenza is a crowd disease.
2. Smother your coughs and sneezes. Others do not want the germs you throw away.
3. Your nose, not your mouth, was made to breathe through—get the habit.
4. Remember the three C's—clean mouth, clean skin, and clean clothes.
5. Try to keep cool when you walk and warm when you ride and sleep.
6. Open the windows—always at home at night, at work when practicable.
7. Food must be well chosen and well chewed.
8. Wash your hands before eating.
9. Don't let the waste products of digestion accumulate—drink a glass of water or two on getting up.
10. Don't use a napkin, towel, glass or utensil which have been used by others and not thoroughly cleansed in hot water.
11. Avoid tight clothes, tight shoes, tight gloves. Seek to make nature your ally, not your prisoner.
12. When the air is pure breathe all of it you can and breathe deeply.
