Ladies Of Charity Name New Officers

By MARY E. FITZGERALD

Elections and preliminary plans for fall programs have occupied the attention of the members of the Elmira unit of the Ladies of Charity during the past month.

Under the ruling of the constitution, which is patterned after the original document of the New York organization, each committee elects a chairman and assistant chairman during the month of August. This election must have the approval of the executive committee before it becomes effective. The new officers then automatically become members of the Central executive Council which meets every month. It considers reports to the committees thus keeping all informed on the activities of the governing body.

The associate members, who give part time service on standing committees and assist on special projects, elected Mrs. Catherine Meyers as chairman to succeed Mrs. William A. Anters; Mrs. Justin McCarthy was reelected assistant chairman.

Make Plans for Camp

The Camp Committee encouraged by the splendid success of Camp Villa Maria, is making plans for next year. Mrs. Joseph Spiegel succeeds Mrs. David Sheehan as chairman of this group. Assisting will be Mrs. Daniel Sheehan who replaces Mrs. John Mack.

The Personal Service Committee accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. William Burns who is leaving the city. Mrs. Burns is largely responsible for the success of the institutional visiting which will be the major project of this committee and for the completion of the cook book which will be ready for delivery this week. Mrs. W. C. Erwin will succeed her. Mrs. Edmund B. Maloney, as assistant, will succeed Mrs. Ronald Prechtl.

Two sewing committees, who are justly proud of their work, will resume meetings soon. Mrs. Glenn Wiegand and Mrs. Bertram Comstock were reelected co-chairmen of the regular sewing groups. Mrs. Fred Butterby replaced Mrs. Thomas Delaney as chairman of the Red Cross Unit. Miss Eleanor Kelly as Mrs. Butterby's assistant, succeeds Miss Agnes Heurihan.

Seek Catholic Homes

Realizing the far-reaching effects of one well-planned placement of a young man or girl who is a stranger in Elmira, the Room Registry continues to investigate living facilities in approved Catholic homes. Mrs. Fred W. Causer will again act as chairman with Miss Marion Kelly, who returns as her assistant, and Miss Margaret McConnell as secretary.

Friendly Visiting has taken on a new meaning for many a lonely old lady or suffering invalid since the Ladies of Charity began to follow this great work. The members who so closely follow in the footsteps of St. Vincent de Paul exact true Catholic Action.

Mrs. Roderick Prechtl and Miss Mary C. Mitchell have been chosen chairman and assistant respectively in this field.

Reelections made Miss Florence Bird and Miss Rose Krocynski, the chairman and assistant chairman of the employment committee. Mrs. Joseph M. Dailey and Miss Veda Spohn hold similar offices in the Foster Home division. Employment has momentarily lost its pressing service but there is still much help needed for those who have physical handicaps.

The Foster Home committee points proudly to the adoption and placements for which they are responsible. The number is small but the results are not to be estimated in merely worldly appraisal.

The great amount of secretarial work which is associated with an organization will be efficiently dispatched by Mrs. Henry P. Brill, chairman, and her assistant, Miss Elizabeth Kingston. They succeed Miss Clara M. Lynch and Miss Katherine Biggs.

The Big Sisters and Recreation Committees will elect officers and plan programs during the coming week.

And so "time marches on" for the Ladies of Charity of Elmira as it does with other branches of this great organization in every country in the civilized world. Cardinal Newman once said, "Great things are done by devotion to one idea." For the members of this organization there is one ultimate goal: generous thoughtful service to their fellow man, whether his need be social, economic or spiritual . . . "The work of the morrow," said H. Plunkett, "will largely consist of the impossible of today" and the Ladies of Charity, all things are possible if they love and serve enough.

SOLDIERS ENROLL IN THE MIRACULOUS MEDAL

Novena exercises have proven very popular with the men enrolled in the nation's army cantonments. In this scene, taken at Langley Field, Va., the Rev. Charles J. Coppens, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, Mass., officiates at services during which 350 men, and officers and members of their families were enrolled in the Miraculous Medal. Each succeeding night of the novena brought new devotees. (N.C.W.C.)

Nun's Transfer Told In Dansville

Word has been received in Dansville that Sister Peter Canisius of the Grey Nuns of the Sacred Heart has been transferred to the Sacred Heart Convent at Ogdensburg, N. Y. For the past six years she has been missioned at D'Youville College in Buffalo and has been a member of the faculty of the Holy Angels School in that city.

Sister Peter Canisius, the former Elizabeth McLane, is the daughter of Mrs. Katherine McLane and the late Peter J. McLane, members of St. Patrick's parish, Dansville. She is the first Dansville woman to join this order.
