St. Joe's Next Aquinas Foe

Aquinas Institute's traditional rivalry [illegible] Collegiate Institute [illegible] will be met on the Edgerton Park gridiron, Saturday Nov [illegible] a little expected to attract a larger crowd

The game will be played as a benefit sponsored by the Democrat and Chronicle Athletic Association to provide funds for the Civil Service Scholarship Fund The fund each year provides college tuition for Monroe County boys and girls otherwise financially unable to obtain higher education

In meeting St Joe's eleven the Irish will tangle with one of their oldest rivals The basketball rivalry between the two schools goes back over almost two decades Football relations date from early in the Aquinas grid history

Undismayed by the 20 to 0 defeat suffered at the hands of Elmira High School in Elmira last Saturday the Aquinas squad is working hard under Coach Johnny Sullivan to take St Joe's into camp for a session with but the one defeat

Spasmodic drenching rainfalls were experienced by the Aquinas eleven at Parker Field Elmira last Sunday to say nothing of the first setting Bill Lewis and the hard fullback Larry Ogden the Elmira team

Stopped at the goal line [illegible] Irish however got up a more [illegible] than the work of [illegible] Reynolds and Bob Puckett [illegible] the Rochester schools junior [illegible]

Rochester Catholic Labor College under direction of the Rev George C Vogt diocesan director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine held its first class and discussion on Friday evening at St Joseph's House of Hospitality 402 South Avenue

Father Vogt announced that Labor College sessions will begin promptly at 8 P M and close at 10 P M each Friday evening He invites all who are interested in the social question to attend the college sessions Milton J Fenn will be discussion chairman Friday evening Nov 7

At last Friday's classes Dr Aaron I Abell History Department head, Nazareth College, lectured on the attitude of the Law and the Courts of England and America towards labor He defined the Common Law doctrine of conspiracy as the doctrine which held that organized groups especially labor unions must not be accorded the natural rights that belong to individuals This doctrine effectively restricted any constructive action by labor unions

He declared that both England and this country have repealed and repudiated this doctrine Dr Abell announced that he will discuss the evolution of the present attitude towards labor which now obtains in this country Lively discussion followed the lecture One-half hour of his class periods will be devoted to such informal discussion

Father Vogt began his explanation of Father Virgil Michel's book Human Rights the first in his series on The Social Question He and the series form an excellent background for the study of the Encyclicals on the social question

[illegible] Father Vogt said [illegible] the three possible [illegible] the great problem [illegible] the status quo [illegible] the middle [illegible] economic system [illegible] and [illegible] the reduction of our present [illegible]

[illegible] particularly [illegible] the Holy [illegible] Father Vogt pointed out [illegible] the social [illegible] Christian view

[illegible] is here to reexamine our [illegible] in the light of our Christian principles and to correct the [illegible] in our present system This is the purpose of Father Vogt's [illegible]

He announced that in his talks he will open the floor for discussion after each point in his talk rather than dividing his time in two equal periods for lecture and general discussion

Labor Play Given Premiere

SAN FRANCISCO A new labor play dedicated to the Bishops' Program for Reconstruction of the Social Order was premiered here Tuesday and Wednesday by the Catholic Theater Guild of this city.

The play which is entitled "Pie in the Sky" is one of the latest works of Emmet Lavery prominent Catholic playwright and Chairman of the National Catholic Theater Conference. Stemming in part from the life of Catholic workers, the play deals with the involuntary regeneration of a soldier of fortune, fathless and disillusioned, who hides out in a Catholic workers center during a seamen's strike

Mr Lavery who is now under contract to the RKO Studios in Hollywood as a scenario writer, attended the dress rehearsal of the Theater Guild's production of his play and addressed the Guild at its Communion Breakfast preceding the show

In the program for the production the play was dedicated "to the concept of social action as set forth in the current program of the National Catholic Welfare Conference by the Bishops of the United States and in particular to the philosophy of labor relations expressed and defined by His Holiness Pope Pius XI in the Encyclical Letter on Atheistic Communism"
