Old Paper Collection Through School Hits 32,248 Pound Mark

Spurred on by the collection of over 32,248 pounds of waste paper and magazines by only eight of the twenty-two schools participating in the Parochial School Newspaper Drive the remaining schools are working seriously to collect all the old newspapers, magazines and cardboard possible for the remaining two collections on Saturday December 13 and 20.

Turning in the greatest amount of paper last Saturday was St. Boniface School with 11,262 pounds. The other schools reporting were: Holy Rosary, 10,574; Holy Cross, 2,780; St. George 2,382; St. Lucy, 1,234; St Theresa, 1,116, and Mount Carmel, 820. Prizes offered in the drive will be awarded, not on the greatest amount of paper turned in per school, but rather on the largest amount collected per student.

The Chamber of Commerce Committee on the Preservation of Waste Paper advises that now, since the outbreak of war, waste paper is more urgently needed than ever before because of the tremendous speed-up in defense production. The children are not only cooperating in National Defense but also contributing the fund to the Blessed Martin de Porres House, recently opened Settlement for local negroes.

Saturday, Dec 13 collections will be taken at Blessed Sacrament, Holy Apostles, Holy Redeemer, St. Andrew, St Mary, St Michael SS. Peter and Paul and St. Charles' Schools Residents of the neighborhoods of these schools are very urgently requested to cooperate with the school in supplying old newspapers and magazines They are advised to either send their paper to the school in the neighborhood on Saturday, morning, Dec. 13, or if that is impossible to call the local office of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, Stone 4013 and arrangements will be made to pick it up.

The Parochial Schools are deeply grateful to the assistance given them in the pick-ups, namely the Red Cross Motor Aide, trucks from Eastman Kodak, Rochester Gas & Electric, Bausch & Lomb, Coca Cola, Delco Appliance Division and the Rochester Packing Company.

Basketball

Holy Family 27 St. Patrick's 21

AUBURN In a game packed with thrills, Holy Family High School's basketball team defeated the strong St. Patrick's cagers of Binghamton, 27-21 on the Fulton Street school court, Dec. 5.

So close was the scoring that an overtime perior had to be played. It was an auspicious opener for Coach Jack (Colgate) Dempsey's five.

With the Doyle brothers, "Pepper" and "Don", scoring the points to force a tie, the Purple and Golds made a strong comeback in the fourth period.

On the short end of a 16-21 count as the game neared the finish, "Pepper" Doyle looped a goal and followed with two conversions. His brother, anny., evened the count at 20 all with another foul shot.

With the spectators on their feet, "Pepper" in the overtime flipped in two to put the Holy Family team in front. Finishing touches were added, when Jim McGinn and Pete Covich added singletons from the free throw line

Holy Family's Jayvees were outclassed by the visiting Junior Varsity by a score of 29-2.

Aquinas 21 DeSales 18

Aquinas Institute's cagers will be gunning for their second win of the season this Friday night when they meet the strong Holy Family High quint of Auburn on the Dewey Ave. court.

Always a tough nut for the local Irish to crack, the Auburnites are expected to prove even tougher this year as evidenced by their 27 to 21 victory over St. Patrick's of Binghamton last week.

The Aquinas cagers opened their season last Friday night with a close 21 to 18 win over DeSales High of Geneva in a game that was close all the way and which was finally decided in favor of the local quint by superior foul shooting. Outscored from the floor by one basket the locals cashed in on their free throws, dropping in seven to their opponents' two.

Joe Culhane, a sophomore, playing his first game as a regular was the star for Aquinas, connecting for six points.

For DeSales, Dinino and Nanina collected eight points apiece to account for all but two of the visitor's total. The only other man on DeSales to score was Guinann who scored once from the floor.

High Honor Won By Squires

AUBURN Having won the "Best Summer Circle Contest," the Columbian Squires Circle, No. 112 has added the October Best Circle Contest to its laurels.

This is a contest in which the circles of the United States and Canada participate. These contests are conducted every month and the group having the highest number of points for activities during the month is awarded a banner.

The banner will be presented to Joseph Falvey, chief squire, next Sunday night by Grand Knight Patrick J. Mullally of the Knights of Columbus. The ceremony will take pace in the clubrooms at 13 Water Street. Following the presentation refreshments will be served.

After the Teutonic barbarians had destroyed the Roman Empire, an obscure monk, Dionysius the Little, began to reckon time from the birth of Our Lord. This was in the early half of the sixth century.

Auburn Church League Opens

AUBURN The Catholic Church Basketball League was auspiciously opened in its 1941-1942 season with two games decided by one point on Dec 3 on the Roman A. C. court.

Leading off St. Hyacinth's and SS Peter and Paul's teams ended their game with St. Hyacinth's winning 26-19.

Pils of St. Hyacinth's garnered 12 points while Hulick led the losers with six credits.

St. Alphonsus Columbian Squires won in the third quarter against St. Aloylus, score, St. Alphonsus Squires, 15; St. Aloysius, 14. Schneider and Salzer started for the winners, Paul Friedel for the losers.

Third game St. Mary's tossers made an uphill fight to win over Holy Family Five, 23-22 Synnott was the spearhead of the Holy Family attack with eight counters. Train led the winners with seven points.

Hold Catechism Exhibition

MONTREAL—In connection with the religious observance of the 300th anniversary of Montreal, an exhibition was held at Mount St. Louis College, directed by the Christian Brothers, showing what has been done in the past three centuries in teaching the catechism. The exposition includes publications and manuals of religious education, work by students of all grades, a liturgical hall explaining the church year, booths depicting various phases of Catholic Action and missionary work.

War's Moral Side Opens School Mission Group Study

The college and high school mission units of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade inaugurated their study program Tuesday afternoon in the Aquinas auditorium.

"The fundamental basis of this whole study program," said Bernard Dooley from Aquinas, the preliminary speaker, "is the Christianization of America in which the Catholic youth of today are being called upon to play a most vital part."

Mr Dooley stated that one of the chief means of effecting this Christianization was through the spreading of Christian principles which can best be understood by discussion

Under the chairmanship of the Rev George Vogt, a "model discussion" was conducted to familiarize the students with the discussion method. Participating were students from Nazareth College, Niagara University, Nazareth Academy, Our Lady of Mercy High School, and Aquinas Institute.

The theme of this discussion, "War and Its Moral Aspects," was introduced by William Kraft of Aquinas and Miss Frances O'Reilly of Nazareth College with statements of conditions for a just war among them being "right intention, "right means," and "as a last resort." Interesting questions concerning conscientious objectors, international law in war-time, justification for aiding Russia, and other issues were brought up. The students unanimously agreed our war with Japan is morally justified on the grounds of defense. The majority, however, were against the United States' policy of aiding Russia.

The second discussion will be held at Nazareth Academy, next Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock, when the matters of peace aims and youth's part in the peace program of the war's aftermath will be introduced.

AT AQUINAS INSTITUTE

SCHOOL PAPER HONORED

The "Maroon and White" Aquinas' school paper and member of the Catholic Students' Press Association and the Quill and Scroll Society, has recently received national acclaim as having editorials that are indicative of student scholarship.

The editorial entitled "Drop Superman and Wake Up," written by William Kraft for the September issue of the paper, was reprinted in a national magazine by the association

It might also be of interest to note that the "Maroon and White," of which James V. Maloney is the editor, has this year again received International First Place Award, a tradition which it has upheld since its incorporation in the Quill and Scroll Society.

JUNIOR PROM LISTED

The Junior Prom, an annual social event at Aquinas Institute will be held this year on Thursday, December 18.

The chairman of the promenade is Tom McGarraghy, a prominent honor-roll student and leader, possessing outstanding social ability. Tom is of the opinion that this year's Junior Prom will be up to par, and may even surpass all previous precedent. The officers of the junior class have pledged him their full support and cooperation.

Plans are now well under way and numerous committees have been selected by the Rev. Maurice Whelan, C.S.B., the faculty advisor.

Students To Fill Christmas Stockings For Poor Children

ST. LOUIS. Every student at the Academy of the Visitation has promised to fill three or more stockings with toys and dainties to be distributed to poor children on Christmas Eve. The students will place the filled stockings around the crib at the school's Christmas pageant, December 19. Stockings will be distributed through poor parishes and it is said more than 1,000 children will be beneficiaries.
