

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Many Items of Interest To Rochester Catholics.

St. Stanislaus' Polish Church, on Salmon street, will be dedicated Sunday, November 16.

Bishop McQuaid will confirm a class at the French Church of Our Lady of Victory, to-morrow.

Klingler & Scheuerman is the name of a new undertaking firm on State street.

Rev. Father Champion, of Ecote, Wayne county Mich., and formerly assistant to Father Notebaert, at the French church, was in the city last week.

Prof. Eugene Bonn, director of the Cathedral choir, will give the choir a reception on the evening preceding St. Cecilia day.

A supper will be given by the ladies of the congregation of the church of Our Lady of Victory in the new parish hall, on the evening of Nov. 10.

Bishop Becker, of Savannah, Ga., and Rev. Father Clifford, of Rome, Ga., are expected to pay a visit to Rochester shortly.

The Misses O'Hara of North Union street, entertained a party of friends on Halloween. A pleasant evening was passed in games, music and other amusements.

During the month of November the Holy Sacrifice of the mass will be offered every day for the souls in Purgatory, in Catholic churches throughout the world.

A "Month's Mind" high mass for the late Dennis Doyle, was celebrated Tuesday morning at St. Mary's by Rev. J. P. Stewart.

Chas. Argus, of Hammondsport, is visiting Mrs. V. Hanss, 30 Delevan street. He will return home Tuesday.

Edward E. Nier has completed a handsome crayon portrait of Chauncey M. Depew, which has been on exhibition this week in the window of Burke, FitzSimons, Hone & Co.'s store.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trentman have just returned home from an extended wedding tour and have taken up their residence at the corner of Union and Kirk streets, where they gave a grand house warming.

A bicycle road race was run Tuesday from Phelps avenue to Charlotte and return. C. J. Iven won by 8 minutes, 15 seconds, after giving the other participants handicaps varying from five to three minutes. Iven is by long odds the fastest cyclist in this section.

A dispatch was received in this city Wednesday morning from Mr. Gill, M. P., one of the delegation of Irish patriots just arrived in this country and now in New York, stating that Monday, the 11th instant, can be assigned to Rochester for the contemplated meeting here. The Monroe county National League is making arrangements to give them a rousing welcome.

Eight electric cars are now running regularly and successfully on the Lake avenue routes. In about ten days the electric service will be extended to the South avenue line. At present South avenue cars run to Fitzhugh street and then turn. It is likely the East and West Main street lines will be the next equipped with electric cars.

Tuesday's election passed off very quietly, thanks to the new election law. The new innovation was a great improvement over the old method. There is no knot of ward heelers button-holing the intending voter and importuning him, by threats and cajolery, to induce him to vote for this or that candidate. Neither can a man be marked for future castigation for voting a particular way. Absolute secrecy, the primary object of the ballot is assured. To a person of average acumen, it is not at all a hard matter to fold and arrange the ballots. It can be safely assumed that not one person in ten would vote for a return to the old style of voting.

Solemn vespers for the dead were sung last Sunday evening at St. Mary's by Rev. Felix O'Hanlon. The church was draped in black and in the center aisle stood a catafalque, surrounded by six lighted candles, emblematic of the departed dead. The sermon was preached by Rev. J. P. Stewart and was a touching discourse. In opening the reverend speaker enunciated a few of the most powerful reasons for belief in the Church's doctrine of Purgatory. He next pictured in graphic terms, the aching void in the home depleted by death, and while speaking on this line, Father Stewart spoke in most affecting language of the loss sustained by St. Mary's in the death of the late Dennis Doyle; the reverend speaker was so much affected that, as he talked, the tears coursed down his own cheeks, while there was scarce a dry eye in the large congregation. In closing Father Stewart begged his hearers not to neglect to pray for their departed relatives.

Rev. Dr. J. F. O'Hare gave a dinner, Thursday, in honor of his elevation to the vicar-generalship. Bishop McQuaid and a large number of priests were present.

The Lazarist Fathers will open a mission at Holy Cross church, Charlotte, to-morrow. The new bell of the parochial school will be blessed at 2 P. M.
