ONEY . . .
TOUR POCKET
SELL YOUR CAR
While Prices Are High
Hurry! Hurry!
MALL MOTORS
Stone 8482

Again mister!
not 8.50

Who says good shoes—at a sensible price—are hard to find? Check those 3 features, up above. One of the best pictures of quality we've seen since 1942. At $8.50, they'd be a thumping good buy, these days. But you know how it goes, at Bood's. Big volume, huge buying power, work wonders. Want to prove it? Come and get your Bookmaker hand-finished shoes here for Easter—and Bood-priced at only also Bragans, using this, nationale from ... to 1.

6.95

...ation St.

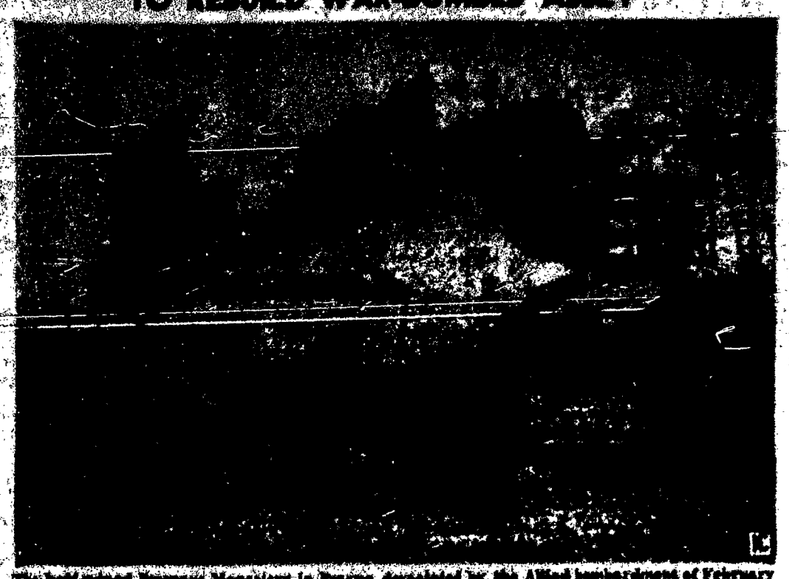
Communists Quit Cabinet in Belgium

Antwerp — (NC) — The recent "popular" government here came to an end when the Communist ministers removed themselves from the Cabinet. Paul-Henri Spaak, Socialist, Belgian Prime Minister, and president of the U. N. General Assembly, accepted the Prince Regent's offer to form a new government, after Frans Van Cauwelaert, speaker of the Belgian Parliament and a Catholic, had declined the offer.

Mr. Spaak's new Cabinet is made up of eight Catholics of the Paul Social Christian, the strongest political body in Belgium, and seven socialists.

Religious interests appear safe with this new government. Anti-clericalism seems to have quieted down. However, it is feared that the new government will be handicapped by strikes, for the Communists resigned in order to be free for agitation.

TO REBUILD WAR-BOMBED ABBEY



The half-ruined Benedictine Monastery in Prague, devastated by the Allied bombardment of February 14, 1945, which will be rebuilt by Czech Catholics. Emperor Nine Benedictines will form in the ancient Abbey a nucleus for Re-Union work with the Orthodox churches. A new branch of the Apostolate of Islamic Orth and Methodius has been formed in that part of the Abbey not destroyed. The Byzantine-Slavonic liturgy will be re-introduced there in the chapel of SS. Cosmas and Damian. (NC Photos)

Chapels and Relics Spared In Montecassino Bombing

Vatican City — (NC) — Almost three-fourths of the war-bombing debris has been removed from the Basilica of the Montecassino Abbey and it has been found that a number of chapels and relics miraculously escaped destruction, Osservatore Romano Vatican City paper, has reported. Although the Chapels of St. Gregory and St. Carlomanno were destroyed completely, the report indicates that the Chapel of the Sacrament, built on the same side as the other two chapels, received only minor damage.

The tabernacle of the Chapel of the Sacrament, a work of Canevari and similar to the tabernacle in the Church of St. Andrew at the Quirinal in Rome, has been found intact. The top of the altar, decorated with agates and bronze oak leaves, as well as the small bronze statues representing Eucharistic symbols, have also been found undamaged.

The report states that the relics of the two Benedictine Saints, St. Gennaro and St. Guinizone, have been found in excellent state of preservation, and that a bomb, which had fallen on the altar of the Chapel housing the relics, did not explode. The marmoreal foundation of the columns and the six-foot marble casing around the Cathedral are also still intact.

The tomb of St. Benedict and the cell of the Saint, which are at the extreme opposite ends of the Abbey, were undamaged, the report continues. In addition, now that the crypt is almost clear of debris, it has been found that the Chapels of St. Mauro and St. Placid are uninjured, and that the basreliefs around the choir are in perfect condition.

UNESCO Meet Omits Religion

Philadelphia — (RNS) — Virtually ignored on the agenda of the first national conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, which convened here with 1500 delegates in attendance, was the subject of religion, which millions are agreed must play a prominent role in achieving a true brotherhood of man.

"Nearly everybody was here but God," said an attache of the U. S. State Department, as she shrugged her shoulders and grabbed personal effects preparatory to making a hurried exit in the direction of Washington, D.C. She had been asked at press headquarters about possible religious angles in UNESCO's initial assembly on New World Soil.

She was right. There just wasn't any religion in the deliberations of the hundreds of notables, many of them prominent names in the various compilations of Who's Who, assembled for three consecutive days to ease the fate of turbulent world.

'The Juggler' Returns to N.D.

Notre Dame, Ind. — "The Juggler," famous student humorous magazine of the post-World War I era at the University of Notre Dame, has been revived as an undergraduate literary magazine featuring short stories, special articles, poetry, book reviews and dramatic criticsmi.

After being discontinued, more than a decade ago, "The Juggler" in its new form was published again this week at Notre Dame. Edited by students, the magazine will be issued monthly during the university year and will be devoted to publishing the best literary efforts of Notre Dame students.

18 Negro Girls Become Nuns

Baltimore — (NC) — Eighteen candidates for the Oblate Sisters of Providence, believed to be the first Congregation of Negro nuns founded by Catholic Negroes in the United States, received vows and received the religious garb in impressive ceremonies here at the North Avenue Mission.

The Rev. Chester Bell, S.S.J., Mission director, officiated at the ceremonies. The Rev. Alois Gerhardinger, S.S.J., V. Supp. general, and many of the religious of the Congregation were present. Many prominent Negroes of the city, and a few Protestant friends of the Oblate Sisters, were present.

What Do You Know?

(Questions on Page 11)

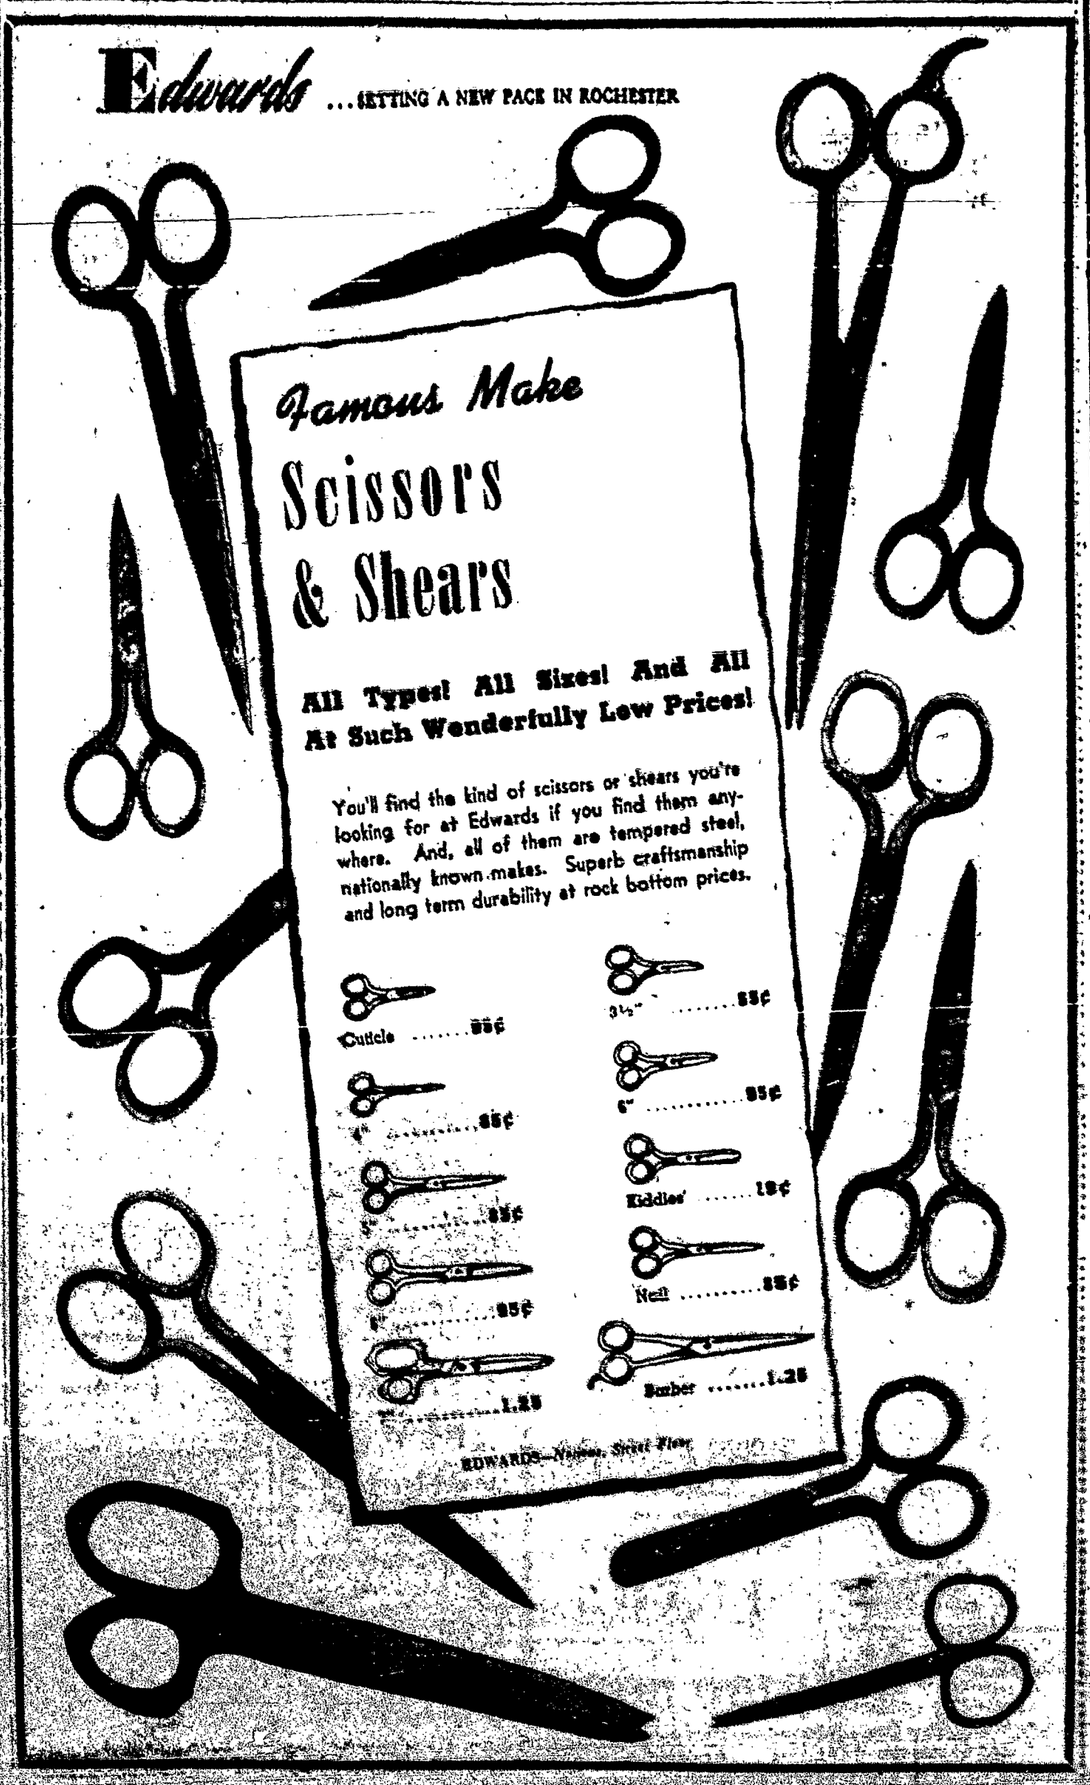
1. Once, on Good Friday.
2. The celebrant of the Mass of the Presanctified on Good Friday communicates under the form of bread only, using the Host consecrated on Holy Thursday.
3. (a) Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Orders. (b) Matrimony, Extreme Unction. (c) Penance, Holy Eucharist.
4. Eminent Flemish painter whose "Descent from the Cross" in the museum of Antwerp ranks among the greatest paintings of the world (1577-1640).
5. Roger Brooke Taney (1777-1864) and Edward Douglas White (1845-1921).

Classic Elegance in Easter Coats

Good line is in the look . . . you know it well in the clean beauty of excellent woolens, perfectly cut. In that tradition Projansky offers these spring coats . . pert toppers, casual boxy models and dressy fitted styles. Plenty of gay, high colors, and of course, navy and black.

$49.95 to $195

Projansky

39 East Avenue


Edwards ...SETTING A NEW PACE IN ROCHESTER