87 Boys at Camp Villa Maria, 2 Get Best Campers Awards

Eighty-seven boys closed their camping season at Villa Maria, the Catholic camp of Chemung County at Harris Hill, with a formal campfire ceremony on Tuesday evening. Many of the campers' parents attended and saw Father Joseph L. Hogan, camp director, present the Best Camper Awards to Arthur Leach of the Juniors and Bob Colucci of the Seniors.

The girls' camping period began August 6 with 103 girls registered for a 10-day period under the direction of Miss Dorothy Keown and a staff of local girl counsellors.

Each camping day began with Mass celebrated by Father Hogan. After breakfast and inspection, the morning classes were conducted in swimming, first aid, crafts, baseball and nature. The two daily swim periods were supervised by Capt. Benjamin Flynn and Charles De Socio of the Elmira Wire Department. The afternoon programs featured hikes, treasure hunts, field games and swimming. In the evenings the boys played baseball, volley ball, badminton and held glider contests.

Allie P. Quatrano, physical director of St. Mary's School, was the director of two campfire programs delighting the boys with a stunt night and an intercabin game contest. Counsellors Frank Sano and Norm Hosey provided laughs with a slapstick boxing match in which Referee Pat Ward was knocked out. Ed Cascallen entertained as Twidgit the Midget and his brother, Jerry, mystified the boys with gruesome stories and magic tricks. Another evening brought "Carnival Night" with dare-devil gymnastics, fortune tellers and flying bats. The annual water-follies were held Sunday afternoon at the pool.

National Week Hurt Church Schools

Paris — (NC) — Although the national week in France of the real return to religion has temporarily postponed the field of religious education, the former and organizations have organized free classes, primarily for the workers. The real reason is that parents are the real teachers in the field of religious education, and that parents have been shaking off the influences of the anti-religious propaganda and regaining their natural and religious rights as parents.
