Montani Dies Famed Musician Well Known Here

Nicola Montani, choirmaster and composer, a respected authority on Gregorian music, died at his Fitzhugh Park home, Jan. 11, at the age of 66.

A frequent visitor to Rochester and well known to priests and religious of the diocese, Mr. Montani was a pioneer in the promotion of Gregorian music and the improvement of music for church use. Especially interested in parochial school music, he lectured and taught in many northern of the country. He spent 22 years gathering material and editing the "St. Gregory Hymnal" which has been an official Catholic choir book in many dioceses.

BORN IN UTICA, and educated in the music schools of Europe, Mr. Montani was organist of St. John the Evangelist in Philadelphia for 17 years, musical instructor at several colleges and for 4 years choir director of Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington, N. J.

With the late Rev. John Foley, famed professor of music at St. Bernard's Seminary and the Rev. Leo Manotti, he organized the St. Gregory Society of America in 1914 which led the campaign to restore Gregorian Chant and improve Catholic music in the United States and Canada. He was the editor of the Catholic Choirmaster from 1925 to 1940. The late Pope Pius XI rewarded Montani for his music work by the title of Knight Commander of St. Sylvester.

Funeral Mass for Mr. Montani was held Wednesday, Jan. 14 at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. Philip G. Kreckel, organist and choir director at St. Ambrose Church, Rochester, and friend of the deceased musician was an honorary bearer at the services.

Hospitals Share In Blood Giving

opinion of American medicine."

LABELLING THE blood service as "a great task for the American people," O'Connor said: "Only the generosity of the people in donating their blood to the sick and injured will drive this program forward. The national blood program presents the opportunity to all our citizens to contribute directly to the saving of life and the prevention of suffering."

The Rochester center and its bloodmobiles which will reach donors in the outlying communities will serve 37 hospitals in an 11-county area where 2,000,000 people live. The goal of this year's program for this area is 35,000 pints of blood.

The center will bank whole blood and keep it available in refrigeration for the use of any hospital that requires it. The blood will be typed and sent immediately by air to any place that requires a supply. All blood not used by the hospitals within 21 days will be returned to the center for processing into dried plasma, which can be stored indefinitely. Some of the blood will be given to laboratories to be broken down into an increasing list of blood products.

Because the saving of money by the patients who need blood and formerly had to buy from the hospital blood banks or buy the serum, the hospitals using the Red Cross service will save time and enjoy greater security in the use of carefully prepared blood.

Mothers Open Ticket Sale For Jose Echaniz Recital

Tickets for the piano concert being sponsored by the Aquinas Mother's Club Tuesday, Jan. 20 at 8:15 p. m. have gone on sale in four stores as well as at Aquinas Institute.

The concert will be given by Jose Echaniz, member of the faculty of the Eastman School of Music and of Nazareth Seminary.

Tickets are available at Trant's, Tucker's and Brannon's Catholic Stores, and the Music Lover's Shop. Any of the following officers also have a supply: Mrs. William J. Dempsey, Mrs. Edward Skinner, Mrs. Arthur E. O'Brien and Mrs. John L. Coughlin.

MR. ECHANIZ has been described as one of the truly great of the younger pianists. Born in Guanabacoa, a suburb of Havana, Cuba, he came to New York Town Hall first in 1937 with an already established reputation in his own country. He has toured from coast to coast, filled European engagements and returned many times to Cuba, including during appearances as soloist with the Havana Symphony Orchestra. Recently he has appeared as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, Chicago Symphony, the St. Louis Symphony and the Cincinnati Symphony.

One of the greatest influences on the young pianist has been Jose Iturbi whom he met in 1930. In 1946 and 1947, Iturbi engaged Echaniz as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, under his direction for six concerts in Philadelphia and New York.

Now a pianist of distinction, Echaniz is also becoming active as conductor. He had his first big opportunity as a conductor when he was invited to lead the Havana Philharmonic Orchestra.

U. S. Aid Could Halt China Reds Says Fr. Hilbert

Unless America aids China, there is danger that it might be forced into the Communist sphere, according to the Rev. Charles E. Hilbert, M.M., Maryknoll missionary and Rochester native who has spent more than 20 years in the Far East.

In an address before the Men's Supper Club of Sacred Heart Holy Name Society on Jan. 8, Father Hilbert pointed out that although the percentage of Communists in China is small, so also is the percentage in Russia.

Here on a year's sabbatical leave, Father Hilbert will return to China, where he is Vicar General of the Diocese of Kaying and head of the diocesan seminary.

MOST CHINESE are not interested in politics, the priest asserted, but in farming and worship. There is no juvenile delinquency in the nation, he said, because their basic home training from birth stresses respect for elders. Chinese Catholics are particularly pious, he added, and keep Sunday by attending Mass at sunrise and returning to the church in the afternoon and evening for recitation of the rosary.

William A. Feldman was installed as new president of the Men's Club, succeeding Theodore J. Houck. Other officers inducted at the meeting were:

William J. Frank, first vice-president; William E. Merriman, second vice president; John Hickey, secretary; Joseph Ford, treasurer; directors for two years, Frank Fink, Frank McKenna, Joseph O'Reilly, Theodore Houck; directors for one year, Ray Hasenauer, Oscar Trabold, Dr. Joseph Demerath.

Next supper meeting of the club will be advanced one week to Feb. 5, Feldman announced.

Reis, ticket committee; Joseph Lambert and Edward Bartosk, booth committee; Roger Dobson, Joseph Tribotte, Mrs. Cyril Bartholomay, Mrs. Ronald MacAdam and Miss Ella Nucitelli, reception; Harry Dougherty and Mrs. Craig Capson, co-treasurers.
