St. Vitus Dance Cured!
 San Antonio, Cal., Feb. 1899.
 My boy, 15 years old, was so affected by it, that he could not go to school for 3 years. Two bottles of Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic restored his natural health, and he is now attending school again.

The Keenest Expectation is Surpassed!
 Murphysboro, Jackson Co., Ill., Nov. '98.
 I had heard of the wonderful cures of Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic while I was a student and during my professional calling I had opportunity to convince myself of the reliability of the remedy, and my keenest expectations were surpassed as a girl 12 years of age was cured from the epileptic by the use of six bottles of the Tonic.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

OUR BOYS' AND GIRLS' CORNER.
 A Cheap Soul.
 A few years ago, says a gentleman, I was sitting in a large dry goods store in Chicago, waiting for a friend. It was storming a little outside and the clerks were not very busy. Not far from me stood a cash-boy with his back against a pile of prints, and his elbows carelessly resting on the same. I noticed his handsome face, set with dark hair and eyes, so expressive, his cheeks bespeaking perfect health. A lady at an opposite corner, while paying a bill, let fall some fractional currency, such as was then in circulation, that fluttered and fell to the floor, and was picked up by the gentlemanly clerk in attendance, except one, a twenty-five cent piece, which noiselessly skimmed along and fell near the cash-boy I have alluded to. Without changing his position, he set one foot upon the money, and seemingly unconscious of anything except the sky-light, stood gazing up into the open space while search was made for the money.

I watched him with a sickening thought in my mind. "What will he do?" I went swiftly to him and in his ear: "Boy will you sell for a paltry twenty-five cents what you know perfectly well is under your hand and never, never in."

"Sir," he stopped and said, "I pray I do so any."

"I knew him," words found in the fact of my employer served to a high and never in."

Boys, the first theft is the longest step you take toward prison; the first glass of liquor takes you nearer a drunkard's grave than all you may swallow after; often the first jath clinches the habit of profanity. A stained soul is hard to purify. There are virtues you can lose, but once lost they are gone forever.

Gratitude is one of the noblest of virtues.

Thanksgiving eve St. Fidelis' Society of the Holy Redeemer church will give an entertainment in Germania hall. A fine program has been prepared.

Lyons.

The C. B. L., of Newark, announces its annual dance for next Wednesday. A number of comrades from Lyons will attend. The local legion C the C. B. L. is considering the advisability of holding its meetings Sunday afternoons during the winter, instead of Monday evenings, as now.

The roof of the new church is on, and slating will commence this week. When finished, the church will be the largest and handsomest in the county.

The chapel of the new school was opened Wednesday and the pupils were presented a beautiful flag by A. D. Adams Post G. A. R. Misses Bella Murphy, Emily Moran and Katie Mackin took part in the exercises.

Thursday morning, at St. Michael's church was solemnized the marriage of John Aspell and Miss Ella Roche. Miss Maggie Roche was bridesmaid and Thos. O. Gaffney groomsman. Father Kavanagh officiated. Their many friends wish them joy in their new relation.

Too Many Infielders.
 Burns, of the Kansas Citys, tells a good story. He says that while he was a member of the Oshkosh club, some years ago, it was owned by Senator Sawyer, the lumber king. Sawyer put $20,000 in to boom the town, and by the way, it won the pennant, and he paid no attention to it. One day, however, he concluded to take his wife out to see a game. Both were interested. The pitchers were being hit hard, there were many long flies caught and they enjoyed it. Finally, however, an idea occurred to Mrs. Sawyer.

"Senator," she said, "that is not fair; they put only three men away out in the field and let all the rest stand around the diamond. They make these three men work too hard. You must see the manager and tell him to scatter his men out." The senator thought her idea excellent, and the next day he hunted up the manager. "You seem to win all right," said he, "but I don't like the way you place your men. I want you after this to scatter them out more. Put more in the outfield, and don't have them all standing about the pitcher."

Stonewall Jackson's Death.
 Historians always stop to describe the dying of Wolfe and Montcalm, the two opposing commanders in the battle of Quebec. But their deaths were simply heroic compared with the Christian death of Stonewall Jackson.

About 1:30 on the day of his death he was told that he had about two hours to live, and he answered feebly but firmly, "Very good; it is all right."

A few moments before he died he cried out in his delirium: "Order A. P. Hill to prepare for action. Pass the infantry to the front rapidly. Tell Maj. Hawks"—then stopped, leaving the sentence unfinished.

Presently a smile of ineffable sweetness spread itself over his pale face and then he said quietly and with an expression of relief: "Let us cross over the river and rest under the shade of the trees." And then, without pain or the least struggle, his spirit passed.—Philadelphia Press.
