Good Samaritan Theme Set For Bible Radio Show

The story of the Good Samaritan, presented as a dramatic lesson in human tolerance, will be the theme of the "Greatest Story Ever Told" on Station WARC, (1160 on the dial) Sunday evening, Jan. 25, at 6:30 p. m. This program begins the second year of weekly Bible-story dramatizations which were the most discussed radio shows of 1947.

Paul Lichtfield, chairman of the board of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, sponsor of the ABC broadcasts of the Greatest Greatest Story Ever Told, was chosen this week to receive the 1947 Public Relations Award for making this religious radio program, without commercial announcements of any kind, "the greatest contribution during the year, through public relations, to the national welfare."

Because churches, schools, hospitals and other organizations have asked for recordings of these programs for use of study groups, teaching and discussion purposes, the Goodyear Company has announced plans to rent albums of records of last year's programs at a fee of $3.75 per album plus express charges. Each album contains six 12-inch double-faced records containing two complete programs. There is no sponsor identification. Eighteen albums are now available for rental upon request to The Greatest Story Ever Told Department, American Broadcasting Company, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City.

Among the popular albums of programs which may be rented are: The Good Samaritan and The Unmerciful Steward; The Prodigal Son and Turn the Other Cheek; The Ten Talents and Faith Is a Mustard Seed; The Betrayal and The Crucifixion; John the Baptist and the Golden Rule; The Loaves and Fishes and Be Not Afraid.

Youth Problems Dramatized by Student Air Show

"A Tour Through Teenland," a special series written and produced by students of Mercy High, will dramatize some interesting problems of Catholic youth on Station WRNY (950 on the dial) Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. The "Catholic Youth Program" is a regular Saturday show presented by the student groups of Mercy High and Nazareth Academy who prepare the programs in their school radio classes.

"The Christian Home" is the topic of the talk by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas F. Collins, executive director of the Newark Catholic Welfare Bureau of Newark on the CBS "Church of the Air," Sunday, Jan. 25, at 10:30 a. m. on Station WHEC (1140 on the dial).

"The Hour of St. Francis" on Station WSAY (1370 on the dial) Sundays at 6:30 p. m. deals this weekend with the harassing work of the school teacher. Happy, young, brilliant and ambitious for a bright university career make a difficult choice between the success of her dreams and the life of sacrifice teaching in a poor mining district where a good teacher is critically needed. The weekly "Hour of St. Francis," sponsored by the Third Order of St. Francis, aims at making religious principles an attractive and living force in the life of people in the world.

New 1948 FM Philco radio presented to both Nazareth Academy and Mercy High School by Station WRNY and Beaucaire Inc., through the Mr. George Kelly and Mr. Frank Beaucaire, are making valuable FM cultural programs available to the student bodies. FM, or frequency modulation, is one of the newer types of radio broadcasting that is practically static-free and provides programs of a higher quality than the standard broadcasting channels. Rochester now has 3 FM stations, associated with WRNY, WHAM and WHEC.

"The Greatest Story Ever Told," a weekly dramatized episode from the Bible, with the excellent background music and professional actors who speak in 20th century American English, is a weekly feature on Station WARC (860 on the dial), each Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. Sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. who barely mention their name and never insert a commercial, "the Bible on the air" has created a sensation in radio and religious circles. For almost a year listeners have heard lessons in tolerance, charity, decency, courage and faith presented in dramatic capsule form through the lives of Biblical characters who knew the same emotions and problems as the people of 1948.

Monsignor Fulton Sheen continues his series of radio addresses on the general topic of "The Modern Soul in Search of God" on Station WBEN (930 on the dial) each Sunday night at 8 p. m. Listeners may obtain a free copy of each talk by writing to the National Council of Catholic Men, Washington, D. C. or to the NBC Catholic Hour, NBC Bldg., New York City.

HOLLYWOOD IN FOCUS

by S. M. Herring

Are Movie People Really Bad?

As I make my speaking tour through the Middle West, large assemblies of people, many of whom walk through snow or drive long distances on icy-rutted roads, hear tributes to the deep interest felt by our American people in Hollywood and the movies.

W. M. Herring

It indicates that the general doubt in the public mind concerning Hollywood and its people turns upon whether or not they are, by and large, self-respecting and decently high-minded Americans, or whether the preponderant population of movieland is low grade.

It appears to me that now, more than ever before, people who keep Hollywood in business wish to know the truth about the movie colony and no longer trust either the press or the radio to keep them properly informed.

"ARE THE MOVIE people really as bad as the news headlines make them appear?"

"What percentage of Hollywood's movie people would you say are living reasonably decent lives?" These questions sum up the popular doubt.

In replying, it was pointed out that the Motion Picture Association, commonly called the "Hays Office" or "Johnston Office" recently set up a Public Relations Committee "to present a sustained story of the many constructive activities and accomplishments of the film industry in all its phases."

Towards that end there is much that can be done properly to bring to public attention the better side of life in Hollywood as experienced by the larger proportion of the movie people.

UNLESS, HOWEVER, some constructive action is taken to clean up Hollywood's internal affairs, there is little hope of creating for the movie colony, the public respect, confidence and prestige which the motion picture business as a great, national industry should command.

Scandalous press stories involving highly publicized movie stars continued, with increasing frequency to sicken and disgust decent people. Public esteem for Hollywood has never been lower, since the Rabelaisian days of Arbuckle scandal, than it is today.

It is true that the "playing up" of Hollywood scandals by the national press, in part, accounts for distorted public notions, but if the scandals did not occur, they could not clutter up the front pages.

A beautiful young movie star, held forth by Hollywood as the living epitome of all that is most desirable in woman, may not easily appreciate her share in the responsibility which the movie industry owes to the public.

LIKE MANY others who either have lacked the grace of having been denied the advantages of education in correct social behavior, she may, in the flush of material success, conceive the idea that she and her kind are a law unto themselves.

What kind of impression, however, is the public to gather from a case in which a Hollywood "glamor star," twice within a year is headlined as the central character in vulgar celebrations proposed for the purpose of announcing her "engagement" to marry different men, each of whom, at the time is known to be legally tied to some one else?

The blatant, publicity thus
