Vatican Radio To Expand for Word-War on Soviet

Vatican City — (Special) — The Vatican Radio has explained its programs in an effort to reach more of the 50,000,000 Catholics living behind the iron curtain, as the fight beween the Catholic Church and communism grows more bitter in Eastern Europe.

Six languages have been added to the broadcasts at the request of the people speaking those tongues. They are Hungarian, Czech, Slovak, Romanian, Lithuanian and Slovene.

In all, the Vatican Radio broadcasts in eighteen languages to Europe, North and South America, Asia and Africa.

Utmost care is being given to broadcasts to Soviet-dominated countries. Many of the Catholic dioceses in those countries have been stripped of religious leadership and Catholics are being pressured to join "national groups" or the Orthodox church, Vatican sources said.

This year a world-wide collection will be made by Catholics to increase the Vatican Radio's range. This is being done in connection with the golden jubilee of Pope Pius XII as a priest.

Spain Makes New Film on Missions

Madrid — (NC) — Enthusiastic approval has greeted the premiere here of "La Mies es Mucha" (The Harvest Is Great), a motion picture based on the life of a present-day missionary in India. It was produced at Malaga, Spain, under the direction of Jose Saenz de Heredia at the suggestion of the Spanish Pontifical Mission Works.

THE MONARCHIST daily here ABC stated that the picture "is the first Spanish film with such universal Catholic character and with the assets of humor, emotional appeal and eloquence of language to put across the eternal values to its spectators.'" The Catholic daily, Ya, commented that the film makes a difficult subject understandable to everyone by humanizing spiritual values.

The picture is based on the experiences of the Rev. Diaz Perez, a Paulist missionary in the Katinga area of India.

Another religious film "El Capitan de Loyola" (The Captain to Loyola), has been completed and will soon have its premiere here. It is based on the life of St. Ignatius, founder of the Society of Jesus.

Sisters in Red Manchuria Send Out 'All Well' Message

Shanghai — (NC) — Cut off from their provincial house in Peiping from 1945 until now, the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary in Harbin, Manchuria, have sent a telegram to Peiping reporting "all well."

Harbin was occupied by the Russians from August 1945 to April 1946, when they were succeeded by the Chinese communists. All communication with Nationalist China thus remained broken.

DURING THE latter part of 1946, six or eight correspondents were allowed to enter on courier planes that maintained contact with the solitary American liaison officer representing the Marshall peace headquarters. A few UNRRA trucks also reached Harbin.

Otherwise, apart from individual Chinese merchants who made the hazardous overland trip to sell furs or buy goods in Peiping and Tientsin, the city of Harbin, central Manchuria's railroad hub and river port, had no link with China or even with South Manchuria.

THE SISTERS' wire signifies that telegraphic communication has been re-established between Manchuria, now wholly occupied by the communists, and Peiping, also captured by them. As telegrams can be sent from Peiping to Nationalist held Shanghai, Harbin has once more at least a slender link with the outside world.

A wire from the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary in Changchun, Manchuria, likewise reports "all well." Changchun, the former Hsingking, chosen by the Japanese as capital of the former "Manchukuo," changed hands several times since the Russians left it in April, 1946. The present communist occupation of Changchun dates from late last fall.

As arrangements have been made to exchange mail between Nationalist and communist-held territory, relatives of persons in central and north Manchuria are hoping that the silence of years may now be broken, even though nobody will dare to write freely.

New Movies Look At Lives of Ministers

Hollywood (RNS) — The works and private lives of Protestant clergymen are the subjects of new films under production here.

"Stars In My Crown," an M-G-M release stars Joel McCrea as a circuit riding clergyman who experienced a religious awakening during the heat of battle in the Civil War. RKO's "Adventure in Baltimore" will present Robert Young as a liberal minister of the early 1900's.

Glenn Ford has been named as the star of "The Chain," the story of a Jericho Kansas clergyman, who through indomitable faith, inspired the regeneration of a decadent community and achieved his own redemption.

Seminary Program Set As May 1st Prayer On WHAM

A May Day broadcast praising the Blessed Mother in song and word will be the Courier Journal's contribution to nationwide religious observance on May 1, over WHAM at 12:10 p. m. this Sunday, from the chapel of St. Bernard's Seminary.

In place of his regular Sunday program of Catholic editorial commentary, the May Day offering produced by the Rev. Richard Tormey of the Courier Journal will be a tribute to the Mother of God and an attempt to unite radio listeners of the whole diocese in prayer for persecuted peoples of the world.

The St. Bernard's Seminary Choir will present six devotional hymns in honor of the Blessed Mother interwoven with commentary on the mysteries of Mary's life and the power of intercession which make her mankind's final hope.

The 40-voice choir will be directed by the Rev. Charles J. McCarthy.

STUDENTS OF Elmira Catholic High School will present a special May program honoring the Blessed Mother at 12:15 p. m. this Sunday from WENY on the Elmira Catholic Hour. A student choral group and speakers assisted by the Rev. William Burns, principal, will be featured.

CRISES in church history will be discussed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Arthur Hawkins, Toledo pastor, on the Hour of Faith program of ABC network this Sunday at 1130 a. m. over WARC, Rochester and WAGE, Syracuse. This week's title is "Romans and Barbarians." Future subjects during the rest of May will concern Mohammedans, the Greek Schism, the Modern Schism.

A LOVE STORY, starring Joan Leslie, which tells of a boy and girl who meet after years of separation and discover that they still are in love, is the offering of the Family Theater program produced by the Family Rosary Crusade of Father Patrick Peyton, C. S. C., next Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. on Mutual network stations, WVET, WMBO and WGVA. The title: "Round Trip."

MORALS IN government is the general topic of a series being given each Sunday night at 6 p. m. on the NBC Catholic Hour (WBEN, Buffalo) by the Rev. Francis E. Connell, a Redemptorist professor of moral theology at Catholic University. This Sundays subject is "The Limits of Civil Authority." The choir of Washington's Sulpician Seminary will sing.

FOR EDIFYING early-morning listening tune in the Sacred Heart Program on WRNY at 6:45 a. m. each weekday morning to share the morning prayers, the sacred music and the practical 6-minute sermonette presented each day by the Jesuit Fathers of St. Louis. Each program has a reverent variety and offers an uplifting tonic for a good start on the day.

WHAT DOES God think of mankind's prayer? The Hour of St. Francis on WSAY each Sunday at 6:30 p.m. offers an answer from Charles Peguy's sublime poem "A Vision of Prayer." In lines majestic yet tender God describes how He reacts in His justice and mercy to the prayers of his children. A choral background supports this theme.

THE STORY of the 70 men sent into the strange cities to heal the sick will be dramatized Sunday evening in The Greatest Story Ever Told over WARC at 6:30 p. m. Caleb and Daniel are two of the men given His power to heal. They return to The Master filled with pride to tell Him what they have done.
