Eastman Books 'Cinderella'

The great children's classic "Cinderella" will be brought to the Eastman Theatre Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25 at 2:30 when the professional players of the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre present a dramatized version of the fairy tale.

Sponsored by the Educational Committee of Rochester Civic Music Association, the stage "Cinderella" is the same oppressed little kitchen drudge who became a princess through the help of a fairy godmother.

Tickets at three low prices, are available in the Eastman Theatre boxoffice. All seats are reserved.

LCBA Unit Lists Talk on Holy Year Officers Elected

An address by Miss Mary G. Doyle, a member of the Speakers Bureau of the Rochester Deanery Council of Catholic Women, will lecture the regular meeting of the Rochester Advisory Senate, Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association, at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Feb. 27, in Parlor A, Columbus Civic Centre.

Miss Doyle's topic will be "The Holy Father and the Holy Year."

NEW PRESIDENT of the LCBA Senate is Miss Marie Reger, president of Branch 62, SS. Peter & Paul Church, former vice-president. She succeeds Mrs. Anna Ryan, who has held the office for many years. Installed with Miss Reger at the January meeting were:

Mrs. Georgiana Nientimp, first vice-president; Miss Agnes Hofstenfeld, second vice-president; Miss Mary Hickey, recorder; Mrs. Loretta Woerner, financial secretary; Mrs. Catherine Latimer, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth McKenna, marshal, and Mrs. Rose Roemer, guard.

Trustees are Mrs. Anna Fuehrer, Mrs. Grace Herbst, Mrs. Clara Smith, Mrs. Nellie Camody and Mrs. Mary Connellan. On the finance committee are Mrs. Hazel Schneider, Mrs. Nientimp and Miss Virginia Croston. Installation was conducted by Mrs. Rosemary E. Croston, past Senate president.

Clubs To Study Mary's Message

A RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION club, he explained, is a group of 6 to 12 members who meet regularly to discuss the teachings and practices of the Church. The purpose in analyzing Catholic information he said, is "to clarify their thinking, to develop their ability to explain religious truth clearly and convincingly, and above all to relate religious truth to daily living."

Each study-club member has his own textbook and reads the lessons assigned in advance of the meeting. At the meeting the members read aloud in turn and participate in informal discussion directed by the group leader.

Meetings are held on any night convenient to the majority of the group and usually take place in private homes or the parish hall.

Organization is simple: any group that wishes to recruit its own friends for the 7 week Lenten series with this new pamphlet should do so at once, Father Schnacky said, and report their formation to the pastor so that textbooks may be provided before Ash Wednesday.

"MARY'S MESSAGE" is divided into 16 short chapters permitting two or three chapters to be covered in each weekly group session. Every several paragraphs is followed by a few pointed questions to permit the group leader to quiz the members on the material just covered. Each chapter is followed by several "Suggested Practices" by which the readers may carry the idea of the chapter into practical use in the coming week.

Various chapters headings are: Our Lady's Concern for Us, The Message of Fatima, Other Recent Aparations, Consecrate Yourself to Mary, Sacrifice for Sinners, and Mary's Modern Message for Us.

Solo Dramatist To Appear In Aquinas Culture Series

Miss Madeline McNamara will present her "Distinctive Dramalogues" as an event of Christian Culture Lecture Series on Sunday evening, Feb. 26 at 8:15 p.m. in Aquinas Auditorium.

MADELINE McNAMARA

Born in Corning, Miss McNamara has distinguished herself here and abroad as a dramatic actress. Talented performer on stage and radio, preponent of "The One-Woman Drama," she has appeared throughout the East and the Middle West, in London, Paris and Rome. She is a sister of the Rev Robert F. McNamara of St. Bernard's Seminary.

HER PERFORMANCE is described as a "versatile one of sensitive characterization, blending the humorous and the tragic in her amusing, delightful dramatic sketches."

A graduate of St. Elizabeth's College, Emerson College of Oratory in Boston and the School of Modern Drama in New York City, she has studied also at Catholic University and Yale University. She has taught at Catholic University and the School of Modern Drama, lectured at Columbia University and has long been associated with the Blackfriars Guild.

She also worked with the American Red Cross in the recreational program in Veterans' Hospitals from 1940 to 1947.

E. J. McGrath's Rites Conducted

Funeral of Edward J. McGrath, 69, well-known Catholic layman who died Feb. 6, 1950, was held Thursday, Feb. 9 from the New Murphy Mortuary, 535 Oxford Street, and in St. Monica's Church.

Solemn Requiem Mass was offered by the Very Rev. Msgr. Gerald C. Lambert, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Harold Rogers, deacon, and the Rev. William F. Nolan, subdeacon.

Bearers were Joseph H. Corcoran, R. Leighton Gridley, William H. Maloney, James Kennelly, Earl Uedel, and Francis Dalton.

Born in Pittsford, Mr. McGrath lived in Aldine Street in Rochester's 19th Ward. In recent years he resided at 70 Rand St. He retired last year in poor health, as a security and bonds dealer with the First Rochester Company.

He was a member of the Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus, St. Monica's Holy Name Society, the Laymen's Retreat League and the Nocturnal Adoration Society. He was also, for many years, an usher in St. Monica's Church.

Surviving are his wife, Clarissa Sheldon McGrath; two sons, Sheldon F. McGrath and Edward J. McGrath, Jr; a daughter, Mrs. George D. Bishop; two brothers, George F. and William R. McGrath; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Sheehan and Mrs. Alfred Austin; five grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.
