CONSECRATION of the cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament will take place some four decades after the cornerstone of the structure was laid. The majestic design crowned by twin towers rising to the [illegible] of 135 feet was conceived in 1911 but many things [illegible] the depression of the early 1930's delayed realization of the plan.

In 1926, shortly after taking up his duties as Archbishop of Detroit, Cardinal Mooney designated Blessed Sacrament Church as the Cathedral and promised to complete the structure in a manner fitting to its rank. Several years ago the Cardinal was supposed at Toledo to [illegible] the restoration of the cathedral.

Cardinal Mooney was born in Ashtabula, O., [illegible] was ordained in Rochester. He succeeded the late Bishop Hickey [illegible].

THE ARCHBISHOP was installed as Bishop of Rochester by His Eminence the late Patrick Cardinal Hayes in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Rochester, on Nov. 12, 1933. After seven years as head of this diocese, for more than three and a half years Archbishop Mooney was named to head new archdiocese, Archbishop of Detroit on [illegible] 1937.

Prior to serving as Apostolic Delegate to Japan to which he was named on Feb. 25, 1931, the present Cardinal Archbishop of Detroit was Apostolic Delegate to India. The first American ever to receive such an honor, and before that was spiritual director of the North American College in Rome.

MANIFESTING THE esteem in which Archbishop Mooney was held in this diocese, more than 200 priest of the diocese held a testimonial for him in Hotel Seneca on July 29, 1937 with Monsignor Hart presenting the testimonial.

The laity gathered at an informal reception for the departing prelate and he was honored by the Catholic [illegible] organizations. Spiritual bouquets were presented in the name of the [illegible] of the diocese and the Catholic women's groups.

When he left for his installation in Detroit, a train-load of prelates, priests and prominent lay persons accompanied him.

Several from Rochester diocese were present when Archbishop Mooney was created to the College of Cardinals in Rome Feb. 21, 1946. Msgr. Casey flies to Rome with the Cardinal for the ceremony.

Christianity Core Defined To Hornell Saturday Club

Hornell — The core of Christianity is love, the Rev. John J. Callahan of Rochester told women at a "Saturday" luncheon in the Hotel Sherwood.

Father Callahan, who is spiritual [illegible] of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, was guest speaker at the Saturday luncheon sponsored by Hornell District of the council. The [illegible] are held in [illegible] Lady of Fátima.

"It is love for God and [illegible] neighbor which makes us saints," Father Callahan said. "The element of christianity is contained in the two great commandments, which instruct us to love God above all things and to love our neighbor as ourselves."

Speaking [illegible] Visitation of the Blessed Virgin Mary to her cousin Elizabeth, which is the second joyful mystery of the Rosary, Father Callahan said:

"IT WAS THIS sublime love which prompted Mary to go into the hill country of Judea to be with her cousin Elizabeth, as she felt she could be of assistance.

"Mary had been informed by the Archangel Gabriel that Elizabeth was in her old age [illegible] and that [illegible] was barren. In her [illegible] she hastened to be with her, disregarding the rigors and dangers of the journey.

"Truly the meeting of the two which is commemorated in the Rosary was a joyous one. Elizabeth, by Divine inspiration, realized that Mary was to be the Mother of the Redeemer. The Blessed Virgin responded to Elizabeth's greeting with the Magnificat, [illegible]
