AMONG WOMEN

Bible In Catholicism

By MARY LENNON SNYDER

In a publication of the Catholic Biblical Association of America entitled "The Holy Bible, the Heritage of Catholic Family Life" there appears a surprising and illuminating anecdote.

It concerns a Bible which a devout Catholic woman presented a friend. This book was the traditional Family Bible and had lain upon her living room table for sixty years.

When the friend opened the book he was startled to find as the frontispiece a picture of coarse looking monks dancing around a pile of burning bibles. As the booklet goes on to explain, "The pious Catholic family had been treasuring a version published by a Bible society with scant love of the Church, because in sixty years no one had opened the Bible. Much knowledge, much inspiration and much grace is lost to all of us because of a similarly closed Book."

• • •

THE SPIRIT of the Bible is found at all times in the history of the Church and don't ever let anyone try to tell you differently. The Bible pervades the very atmosphere of the Catholic home by the presence of the Crucifix, the recitation of the Our Father, the Hail Mary, the Rosary and the Angelus. In Catholic theology the Bible and sacred tradition are considered as the two sources of revealed truth.

The Church makes frequent use of the Bible in her official prayers. The Mass Book, the Breviary and all the liturgical books are compiled almost verbatim from the Holy Bible. The Bible then is the official prayer book for our Sacrifice, our Sacrament and our supplications.

In 1950 our Holy Father, Pope Pius XII made the following requests: "We ask you, therefore, to use your most ardent zeal that the Bible may be kept in every home, that it be at the disposal of the greatest number of men, so that it may be read with assiduous meditation and may lead vigorously to proper conduct."

• • •

HERE IS A challenge to each of us. During the summer months when it is wise to spend part of the day in quiet activity, why not gather the family around us under a tree or on the porch and read aloud from the Bible.

Why not form a outdoor study club with our own family and perhaps our neighbors so that the Bible will be something more to us than it was to the lady previously mentioned who never knew that for sixty years she and other members of her family had been dusting and treasuring a non-Catholic Bible. If she had opened it occasionally she would have learned the truth.
