AMONG WOMEN

Types Of Members—Cont'd

By Mary Lennon Snyder

Continuing a discussion report we printed last week of a talk given at the meeting of the Catholic Family movement convention in Chicago, we find a further classification of members.

Mrs. Snyder

"The playboy makes a display of his lack of involvement in the group's processes. He may be cynical or express nonchalance at the need of coming to an action. At times he breaks into discussion with a completely irrelevant question such as 'Does anyone think the Sox have a chance at the pennant this year?'

"A PLAYBOY can be made to feel that he is an integral part of the group. The Encourager praises, agrees with and accepts the contributions of others and of the Playboy when he has something to offer. The Encourager indicates warmth and solidarity in his attitude toward other group members, offers commendation and praise and in various ways indicates understanding and acceptance of other points of view, ideas, and suggestions. He performs wonders, too, in drawing out the Quiet One.

"The Quiet One says practically nothing. He reports actions and observations, but doesn't enter discussions, generally because of feeling of inferiority. If he can be drawn out, he can be a valuable member of the group.

"THE QUIET One can also be helped by the Expediter, who attempts to keep communication channels open by encouraging or facilitating the participation of others by saying 'I imagine Joe has come across that situation. How about it, Joe? What do you think?'

"The Self-Confessor uses the audience opportunity which the group setting provides to call forth sympathy, through expressions of insecurity, personal confusion, or deprecation of himself beyond reason. He usually says he can't perform the action that is suggested for any number of reasons.

"The Self-Confessor can be helped by the Standard-Setter and Setter expresses standards for the group to attempt to achieve or applies standards in evaluating the quality of group processes. He must, of course, be very discreet and not follow the Self-Confessor immediately. The Energiser prodes the group to action or decision, attempts to stimulate the group to 'greater' or 'higher quality' activity. He is the one who says, 'I think the action we take in this situation should be one that will affect others'.

"The Special Interest Pleader speaks for some particular group. He always tries to have the action benefit the group that he is specially interested in.

"THE ELABORATOR spells out suggestions in terms of examples or developed meaning, offers reasons for accepting suggestions previously made, and tries to deduce how an idea or suggestion would work out if adopted by the group. Any group which has an Elaborator in its midst should come up with practical worthwhile actions from most social inquiries.

The Initiator suggests or proposes to the group new ideas or a changed way of regarding the group problem. The proposal may take the forms of a suggested solution or some way of handling a difficulty that the group has encountered."

Thus James Sullivan a young industrial psychologist of Chicago. There is plenty of material here for self analysis. Let us hope that we won't find all of ourselves on the debit side.

WHAT'S DOING AT THE DALY'S

Proxy Grandma

By Mary Tinley Daly

"Hi, Mom!"

It was long distance again. But this time both ends of the line were ready with questions and answers.

Mary Daly

"Johnny" I shouted—there's always the inclination to shout when it's long distance. "How's everything?"

"You're a grandmother again," Johnny chuckled.

"Uh-uh," I stammered. "A baby!"

By this time young Ginny was hanging over the upstairs banister, clapping her hands, banging knees against the railing and roaring, "What kinda baby? Girl baby or boy baby?" A loud "shush" to Ginny blocked out what Johnny was trying to say.

Funny how intensive prayer is possible in a confused situation like that but many a rosary has been said with less "lifting up of the mind and heart" than went into that split second of "shush!"

"IT'S ANOTHER little girl," Johnny said. "She's fine and Lu's fine too. Baby weighs eight pounds and eleven ounces."

"Lu weighs eight pounds, eleven ounces," I stage-whispered in an aside to Ginny.

"It's the baby that weighs it Mon," Johnny laughed. "say, you folks must be excited. Anybody else there that might get facts a little straighter?"

"Not a soul," I felt like a not-very-bright child. "Daddy's at a meeting, two of the girls are out on dates, two are baby-sitting. Tell us some more . . ."

"Hi!" It was Lu's soft voice, still a little wobbly but quite natural. "We're going to name the baby Dierdre and we're so glad that Lu Anne will have a little sister to play with. She looks much the way Lu Anne did at that age. (That age being some few hours.) Johnny's taking leave and he will take charge. But the neighbors, bless them, are taking care of Lu Anne now and are going to lend a hand. They're wonderful. Now, how're all of you?"

THAT 60-SECOND sum-up of a far-from-groggy new mother told us exactly what we wanted to know.

After a final good-bye to the new papa, we hung up—slightly bewildered and anew respectful of the maturity and cooperativeness of the young people of today.

Lu . . . coming home after four days in the hospital? In our day, it had been a two-week hitch, then more weeks of semi-invalidism — approximately a major surgical operation . . . Funny how ideas change. Reminded us of our family doctor's remark: "Queer how the new method of caring for quick-back-to-normal maternity cases happened to coincide with the dearth of nurses."

Quick or not-so-quick return to normal living, there still is need for a lot of help at home when a new baby puts in an appearance. We tried to envision the little home in San Diego . . . Johnny acting as general factotum, preparing meals, getting up at night with the new arrival, chasing 15-month-old Lu Anne. We know what 15-month-oldres are, Johnny?

MEMORIES CAME back of trying to route out that red-head during high school days, during college, while he was working on the newspaper; of having his breakfast prepared so that he could eat it and dash, picking up the already-prepared lunch . . .

He can do it, of course— because he wants to.

We thought of what he'd said just last spring when he was home for a short visit: "It's nice having younger brothers and sister—but you never really get interested in children till you have your own."

We're glad, though, that the neighbors—those friendly, new-made friends among the young couples at that Navy base—are taking an interest too. Goodness knows, we'd like nothing better than to be able to go west and lend a hand. But, that being impossible, we rejoice in the "proxy grandmothers" and join LU in "Bless 'em!"

WHITE MARTYR

This little lad is a victim of leprosy. But the loving hands of Sister Bernhmann at our Damien Institute in Trichur, India, nurse him and hundreds of other lepers that their way to eternity, their slow, white martyrdom, will be easier. Won't you give $10 to our DAMIEN LEPER FUND for such as these?
When you send your mite, ask for our pamphlet "SCARS OF LOVE" and our leaflet, "WHITE MARTYRDOM." Have you ever heard of Father Damien, the apostle of lepers and the leper of the apostles?

DURING OCTOBER, EVERY MEMBER GET A MEMBER.

WHY GONDOLIER OF PETER'S BARK?
Get the answer in our new pamphlet, "ONCE UPON A TIME," on Pope Saint Pius X, which we send to all who give a little for that new Shrine Chapel of the new Pope Saint we hope to build beyond the River Jordan among homeless refugees. To everyone who sends just $10, we send a BEAUTIFUL PICTURE of the Saint, in three colors, suitable for framing.

THINK OF IT! MY VERY OWN!
If you can adopt Jacob Thaikattil, a seminarian at St. Joseph's Seminary in Alwaye, India, giving $600, in any installments, over his six years of training for the priesthood, or if you can do the same for Sister Mary John, a novice with the Adoration Sisters in Vazhapally, India, giving $300 over two years, you can boast that either one is your very own missionary, your boast on Judgment Day.

ARRANGE NOW FOR NOVEMBER ALL SOULS MASSES.

TELLING THE BEADS
October's Rosary devotion prompts us to tell you how gladly we send a rosary made of olive seeds from the Holy Land to everyone who gives $10 for a precious food package for our homeless refugees. With Christmas coming, we are anxious to think of many thousands under our care. Won't you help console them?

OCTOBER CLUBS
That dollar for the BASILIANS goes to the little school we are building for homeless Arab children in Jish, now in IsraelA dollar deposited in MARY'S BANK goes to our lay missionaries in Jordan, where they go into the deserts to help the sick and maimedA dollar for ORPHAN'S BREAD goes to the Sisters of Charity in Jerusalem. MONICA GUILD and CHAPEL OF THE MONTH dollars go to the little chapel at Palayur, IndiaIf you cannot adopt a seminarian, remember that a dollar to the CHRYSOSTOMS, our Student Support Club, can do muchWhy not write for information on these DOLLAR-A-MONTH CLUBS?

WHAT ARE GREGORIAN MASSES "IN SUSPENSE?" WE CAN ANSWER.

ADORN GOD'S HOUSE
Father Jacob, a priest of the Order of the Imitation of Christ, pleads for furnishings for his little mission chapel at Vengal, India. Can you help? The altar $75. Mass vestments $50. The chalice $40. The sanctuary lamp $15. The altar linens $15. Please help us to make Vengal's chapel worthy and delight Father Jacob's heart.

LITTLE POOR MAN
October 4th is the feast of St. Francis of Assisi. One of his sons, Father Leon Poggi, gives us an urgent plea for his orphans in Kena, Egypt. Won't you think of them? Seven dollars will support one for a whole month.

NO GIFT TOO SMALL
While we must ask $2,000 to build a Near East chapel, $600 to train a Near East priest, remember that no gift is too small. Write for "HOW CAN I HELP?", and when you do, ask also for "SILVER THREADS." A stringless gift, so welcome, will bring you also "AVE MARIA LANE," a pamphlet for Mary's month.
