Mission, Supper Set In Marion

A Week's Mission and a Harvest Supper are scheduled by St. Gregory's Parish, Marion according to the Rev. John L. Maxwell, pastor.

The Parish mission for men and women to be conducted by the Rev. Charles J. McDermott, C.SS.R. of the Redemptorist Mission Band with headquarters at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Brooklyn will open on Sunday, Oct. 30 in the church. The mission will be closed on Sunday, Nov. 6.

The Harvest Supper is being planned by a committee from the Holy Name and Rosary Societies to be served in the church hall on Tuesday, Nov. 8 from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

Baked ham with a variety of home cooked food will be served. Tickets are on sale for adults at $1.50 each; children under 12, seventy-five cents; and children under six, free. All friends of St. Gregory's and former parishioner are invited.

Supper committee comprises Mrs. Margaret Stevens Mrs. John Moon, Miss Irene Follette Raymond Gobeyn, Vincent Murphy and Joseph A. Nier.

3 Knights of Equity Renamed To Offices

Headed by Sir Knight Patrick Murphy, a large delegation of Rochester knights and their ladies attended the national Knights of Equity convention in Fort Shelby Hotel, Detroit, Oct. 20 to 22.

Three from Rochester Court No. 10 were reelected to serve a second term in national offices. They are: Christopher A. Delanty, supreme vice sir knight; Michael T. Ryan, supreme trustee and Thomas Davis, appointed supreme deputy for the Rochester area.

The Knights of Equity went on record again as being against proposed Federal Aid to schools.

The latter resolution on school aid by the Federal Government will be released for publication after consideration by the local court.

Daughters Of Erin Plan Rummage Sale

Final plans are completed for the rummage sale to be held by the Daughters of Erin on Saturday, Oct. 29 at 393 South Ave. according to Mrs. Raegen, chairman and Mrs. Jack Free, co-chairman. Rummage will be picked up by calling either Gen. 0230-J, Hop. 1942, Con. 0520, Glen. 6845-R.

The Daughters of Erin are having a membership drive. Any Roman Catholic wife, daughter, mother or sister of members of Knights of Equity, or any Roman Catholic woman of Irish descent is invited to join. Any person interested may call, Mrs. William Morrissey, chairman, or Mrs. Michael T. Ryan, co-chairman.

Members of the Daughters of Erin have returned from the national convention held in Detroit, Mich. the past weekend. Mrs. Arthur Hart was elected vice-president; Mrs. Florence O'Connell, treasurer, and Mrs. Michael T. Ryan, trustee, of the national organization.

New Church, School, Their Goal

St. Anthony Campaigners To Hear Bishop Casey

His Excellency, Auxiliary Bishop Casey will address the general solicitation workers' kickoff dinner for the St. Anthony of Padua Church building fund drive at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, in Lorenzo's Restaurant.

The more than 300 campaigners will conduct a parishwide solicitation on Sunday afternoon, with a goal of $150,000 toward erection of a new school and subsequent construction of a new church building.

INITIAL IMPETUS was given the campaign by the announcement Monday night that members of the special gifts committee, before soliciting their prospects, themselves pledged $31,417. The Rev. Michael J. Tydings, pastor of St. Anthony's declared that the announcement, made at a committee dinner at Sellitto's Restaurant, is an indication of the enthusiasm of the entire workers' committee and of the eventual success of the campaign. Peter De Lucia, special gifts chairman, presided at the dinner.

Organization of the fund drive, Father Tydings said, is being conducted by Foley Associates, Inc., of Rochester, an exclusively Catholic fund-raising firm. Frank Ridotto is general chairman of the parish committee, with Salvatore De Blase, John P. DeCesare, John Di Gaetano and Joseph Fico as cochairmen.

To be located opposite Jones Park, the new parish buildings will replace the 50-year-old present church-school building four blocks to the south at Lyell and Plymouth Avenues. Construction of the school, to provide for 400 pupils and to include an auditorium seating 500, will begin immediately. Erection of the church, to seat 600, will follow completion of the school.

Good Shepherd Guild To Meet

Good Shepherd Guild will meet Monday, Oct. 31 at 8 p.m. at Hotel Seneca. Mrs. George Haas, president, will preside.

A report on the rummage sale held recently will be made by Mrs. Wendell Ryan, chairman.

Plans for the fashion show and card party to be held in November will be discussed. Mrs. Cornelius Monahan, chairman and Mrs. Frank Britt, cochairman will announce the various committees.

Following the business meeting, a musical program will be presented according to Mrs. Lynn French, program chairman.

CYO Day Camp Parents Slate Supper, Show In Auditorium

CYO Day Camp Parents will sponsor a pancake and sausage supper at Columbus Civic Center Auditorium, 50 Chestnut St. on Thursday, Nov. 3. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Adult tickets are $1.00 and children, fifty cents. Proceeds will be used for new equipment already installed in the gym and in use by all CYO classes.

The supper committee under the direction of Mrs. J. Mallory Loos promises service to avoid waiting in line. "All you can eat and a free gift for adults" the committee announced.

ADDED ATTRACTIONS will include a stage show of local talent and motion pictures of the Day Camp activities; free baby sitting service by CYO Day Camp counselors and free parking in the RG&E parking lot across the street where the car may be left during shopping after supper.

Tickets may be obtained by calling General Chairman Arnold F. Ender, 358 Hurstbourne Road and they will be delivered by a member of his staff including Mesdames Robert Whipple, Armand LaMay, Frank Behan, Theodore Dangelmaier, Michael Boland, Edward Wandke and Richard Wunsch.

Anyone desiring to make a cash donation to the fund may send a check to Chairman Ender.

Record Membership Reported In CYO Drive

Topping the highest quota in Catholic Youth Organization's 24 year history, workers in the membership campaign reported 3,173 new members at the final dinner meeting in Columbus Civic Center, Tuesday night.

The men and women headed by General Chairman Paul A. McGuire who made the campaign a success were commended by the Rev. Arthur E. Ratigan, director of Catholic Charities and the Rev. Eugene H. McFarland, director of youth in the diocese.

WHEN RETURNS were all in, it was reported that the tally of new members represented 106 per cent of the record 3,000 member goal.

No financial report was given. Two hundred and twenty-five campaigners were active in the drive which opened on Oct. 10.

The special gifts division headed by Frank P. Feerick and Harry B. Crowley, Jr. turned in 1,611 new members. The men's division directed by Robert C. Odenbach reported 776 and the women workers, headed by Mrs. Edward H. Carson reported 786 new members.

Two workers whose teams led their respective divisions at the first report maintained the leads throughout the campaign. They were Vincent Thompson, whose men's unit turned in 247 and Mrs. Joseph Kaseman, leader of a women's team that enrolled 126.

Flowers In Sanctuaries

Three Rochester Catholic churches will feature a display of flowers arranged on their main altars Sunday afternoon, Oct. 30, according to an announcement made today.

St. Monica's, Old St. Mary's, and Our Lady of Victory churches will be open for public inspection throughout the afternoon.

Eleven Garden Clubs are sponsoring the program and flowers will also be on display in several area non-Catholic churches at the same time.

San Francisco — (RNS) — The University of San Francisco, a Jesuit school with an enrollment of 2,500 students, celebrated its 100th anniversary.
