Annual Nazareth Assembly To Review School Status

The annual general assembly of Nazareth Academy Student Council will be held Wednesday, April 10. Modeled after a typical monthly Student Council meeting, the assembly will present the council officers and representatives, informally grouped on stage, discussing school problems with the entire student body.

At this assembly every girl is given an opportunity to voice her opinions. A roving microphone will facilitate floor coverage. Entitled "This Is Your Reputation, Nazareth!" the assembly will deal with school loyalty as reflected in the reputation of the academy in Rochester. Research by the officers and representatives has aided the council in compiling the material to be presented at the assembly.

BASING THEIR program on the belief that reputation is a changeable and variable thing, the council has proposed the question: Just what is the reputation of Nazareth Academy in Rochester? To get answers to this question the council has sent its members out into the various fields where Nazareth girls build their school's reputation.

Parish priests have been interviewed; industrial and business officials, Nazarenes themselves, and students from other schools have been asked this question. The final tabulation of these comments will be presented at the assembly. Students will discuss the evaluation and if necessary consider steps to improve the school's reputation in Rochester.

The annual C.Y.O. diocesan basketball tournament drew to a close with an awards banquet Sunday evening in the Columbus Civic Centre ballroom.

Players, coaches and cheerleaders from 16 high school and grammar school teams from all corners of the diocese were honored. Awards were presented by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Arthur Ratigan, director of Catholic Charities and toastmaster was radio-announcer Eddie Meath.

Guests of honor were Al Butler, All-American basketball player from East High School; Miss Doris Fuchs, American Olympic Team; William Nolan, executive secretary of Catholic Charities and Donald Woerner, grand knight Council 178 Knights of Columbus.

THIS YEAR'S recipient of the Bishop Kearney Trophy for championship in the high school class was Holy Cross of Rochester who defeated St. Monica's in the 1st round and St. Charles in the semi-finals. They then proceeded to the finals which were held at McQuaid Jesuit High School gym, where they edged St. Francis of Auburn 42-40 for the crown. St. Francis received the runner-up trophy in this division.

In the grammar school division, St. Hyacinth's of Auburn defeated St. Patrick's of Seneca Falls, St. Monica's and Sacred Heart of Rochester for the Bishop Casey Trophy. Runner-up in this division was Sacred Heart.

Other awards went to St. Michael's of Newark and St. Patrick's of Elmira for high school and grammar school respectively in the consolation bracket. St. Salome's high school team and Sacred Heart grammar school team won silver cups for their cheerleading endeavors. Trophies were awarded to an all-star team and medals were given to each member of the championship teams.

The committee consisted of Roger Bunce and James Cuccinella, cochairmen; Joe Murphy and Neil Monahan, games; Miss Jane Doody, hostesses; 'Packy' McFarland and Ron Scuteri, publicity; William Nolan, financial; Thomas Emmanuel, official.

Mt. Morris — Girl Scout Mary Katherine Lopez, a member of Troop 3, Mt. Morris Girl Scouts, and a seventh grade student of St. Patrick's School, has written a poem, entitled "Opportunity". She recited it at the Girl Scout banquet and received credit toward the Second Class Scout requirements under Literature and Dramatics.

Mary Katherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Lopez of Grove Street and members of the Assumption parish.

Teacher, Science Weeks To Be Marked At Mercy

Students will join in the celebration of two national commemorative weeks April 8-12, Teacher Appreciation Week and Science Week, at Our Lady of Mercy High School.

The Little Teachers Club and the Student Council, co-sponsoring groups of Teacher Appreciation Week, plan to honor all the teachers from the beginning of time until the 20th century.

THE WEEK proposes to encourage respect toward and an interest in the teaching profession as a career and to stimulate an increased appreciation for the students' own faculty.

At the Student Government Association meeting, Monday, April 8, the Little Teachers Club will entertain Mercians with a humorous skit on teachers. A choric speech group from the creative writing class will present "The Teachers' Magnificat." Connie Marinaro will soliloquize on the qualities that make a teacher. The Little Teachers Club president, Linda Coaker, will present the aims and projects of the club.

Throughout the week, the public address system each morning will feature a different school officer, who will relate the life of a famous teacher who has influenced the world. Bulletin boards will also be utilized, according to Paula Smith, Student Council president.

Science groups at Mercy are readying student-made posters, exhibits, and science projects for their display during the same week, Science Week.

Academy Alumnae Lists Recollection

Nazareth Academy Alumnae Association will sponsor its first evening of recollection in the school auditorium on Lake Ave. from 7 to 10 p.m. on Monday, April 15. The Rev. Andrew Ambro, C.P., will be moderator.

Mrs. Donald R. Walsh is chairman. The Rev. Charles B. Connell, school chaplain, and the sisters urge all alumnae to attend.

Catholic Women's Club To Hold Annual Elections
