St. Agnes Mothers

Two events are planned by St. Agnes Mothers Club, a meeting, Monday, May 13 at 8 a.m. and the annual Mothers and Daughters Communion Breakfast, Sunday, May 19, both at the school, East River Boulevard.

Mrs. Andrew Ciulla, guest speaker will talk on "Your Social Security" at the business session. Refreshments will be served.

Children's Court Judge Joseph G. Fritsch will speak at the breakfast. Mrs. Frank Grinnan is chairman and Mrs. Leo T. Minton, cochairman.

Committees include Mesdames John Hart, Raymond Hogan, Joseph Hoffman, Frank Slattery, program; Mesdames Sam Savina, Leo Calabria, Charles Cavallaro and Neil P. Collins, decorating; Mrs. Stanley Glogowski, Paul Traynor, Eugene Glendenning and Alice Spong, reception.

Fatima Day Dramatization Presented By Blue Army

Geneva—Blue skies and bright sunshine favored the outdoor ceremony sponsored Sunday by the Blue Army of Our Lady on the lawn of St. Francis de Sales Church. The event was the first large ceremony to be conducted by the newly organized group.

The living Rosary and a dramatization of the apparition at Fatima in honor of Our Lady of Fatima Day, featured the program. More than 250 attended.

BOYS AND GIRLS choir of the parish sang the "Ave Maria", after which Monsignor Edward K Ball, V.F., gave the welcoming address. He thanked Sister George Vincent for training the choir for the occasion, Mrs. Genevieve McBeth, president of the Blue Army, and Connie Colizzi, who directed the children in the dramatization.

Monsignor Ball explained that because of the present world conditions, we could have a disastrous war, and the Holy Father might suffer much as predicted by Our Lady of Fatima.

"The request was very simple . . . just that we say the Rosary daily for the conversion of Russia and world peace."

Monsignor Ball requested all to say daily the special prayer on cards available at the service and in the church.

IN DRAMATIZATION which followed, Johanna Cannuli had the role of Our Lady. Ronald Trunzo was Francisco; Ermie Colizzi, Jacinta, and Judy Acquilano, Lucia.

The three youngsters, in the roles of the shepherd children, were dressed in costumes copied from those of the children in the pictures of the apparition. Joanna Cannuli was dressed in her mother's wedding gown of white brocade and wore a blue nylon veil with gold trim donated by Mrs. John Bruno. She carried a large gold rosary.

The drama was enacted on a raised stage covered with grass and surrounded with shrubs. The setting also was copied from a picture of the original apparition of 1917. The stage was flanked on either side by altar boys in red cassocks and white surplices. John Catalano carried the microphone to each "bead" on the rosary.

Saddlers Mark Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Sadler celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Saturday with a jubilee Mass in Holy Redeemer Church at which they renewed their marriage vows with Monsignor Joseph E. Vogt, pastor, officiating. They were married May 7, 1907 in the same church.

Two sons, George and Clarence served the Mass. The Rev. Albert J. Geiger was in the sanctuary.

Following Mass the couple were guests at a dinner at Cartwright's Inn in Henrietta. A reception followed in the Portugese Club.

The couple who reside at 358 Berhard St. have two daughters, Mrs. Cornelius J. Monahan and Miss Lucille Sadler; five sons, Peter E., Joseph E., George, Gerard and Clarence, and 17 grandchildren.
