Texas Navy

Looking around a western ranch, the city man was startled to discover a large pond with several bell-ringing buoys floating on its wind-swept surface.

He exclaimed to the rancher: "I thought buoys were a navigational aid!"

"They are," replied the rancher. "That's why we have them. This is such a large ranch that the cows would never find the pond if they couldn't hear the bells ringing in those buoys."

"Oh, come now, you're pulling my leg, aren't you?"

"Pulling your leg?" the rancher said in a hurt tone. "Do you mean to tell me you never heard of cow-buoys?"

700 Students Enrolled In Holy Childhood Program

Seven hundred pupils of Mother of Sorrows School were enrolled in the Pontifical Association of the Holy Childhood by the Rev. George S. Wood on Nov 19.

Father Wood, diocesan director of the association, spoke of the growing need for young missionaries to rescue other young children from paganism and communism.

The ceremony, which included the presentation of a medal and membership card to each child, was climaxed by the bestowing of the Papal blessing, conveying a plenary indulgence to all present on the day of their enrollment.

Once enrolled, each child is officially an Apostle of Christ, a diminutive missionary and is entitled to share in all the spiritual favors bestowed on the Association by the Roman Pontiffs.

In an attempt to surpass last year's record of 82 adoptions the children presented Father Wood with a check and a pledge of their continued support in the future.

Protestant Ministers Get Catholic Paper

Green Bay, Wis. (RNS) Protestant ministers in this area are receiving copies of the Register, weekly newspaper of the Green Bay Roman Catholic Diocese, as the result of a program sponsored by a group of students.

The Catholic Information Group at St. John's High School, Little Chute, Wis., has so far obtained donations to cover 24 such subscriptions, the Register said. The goal is a subscription for every minister in the area.

In a letter to each clergyman before the subscription takes effect the sponsoring group says the purpose is to provide him with "an authentic, yet easily readable, source for knowing the Catholic viewpoint and learning about Catholic activities in this area."
