FEARFUL MINE DISASTER.

Reported Killed. HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 23.—The first great disaster in the history of the Cumberland coal fields occurred Saturday afternoon. when an explosion took place in the east slope of the Spring Hill mines, resulting in large loss of life

The cause of the disaster is a mystery, as the slope was examined by a committee of the men last week and reinspected Friday by the deputy government inspec-

The mine has been completely wrecked: choke damp set in immediately after the explosion and all the men beyond the debris where the explosion occurred are of course dead. Ventilation has been partially restored and it is not believed that the mine is on fire

The most terrible scenes were witnessed at the pit's mouth as the bodies were brought up. The air was rent with the heart-breaking shrieks of the wives and mothers of the victims.

This is the first great disaster which has occurred in the Cumberland coal fields and the third most disastrous in the history of Nova Scotia. The two previous calamities were the explosions at the Ford pit, Stellarton, ten years ago, when fortyfive lives were lost, and the disaster at the Drummond mine Westville, seventeen years ago, when sixty-five men were killed. The Springhill mine is owned by English and Montreal capitalists. It employed 1,000 men and had an output of 500,000 tons a year.

A later dispatch from the scene of the disaster places the number of dead at 117. Two of the wounded have since died. They are Williard Carter and J. McNeil. Some of the bodies taken out were fearfully mutilated and had to be identified by their clothing or marks on their body. The mine outbuildings have been temporarily converted into morgues and hospitals, where the dead and injured are SPRING HILL MINES, N. S., Feb. 24.— The list of dead now number 120. John Gillis was taken out of No. 2 slope yesterday afternoon. His name did not appear in the list furnished by the mine officials because it was thought he had escaped. He is a single man. The bodies of Peter Gallagher and Daniel Lockhart were also recovered. A boy named Smith was discovered in No. 2 slope.

Three other bodies were also found in a standing position. All the bodies have been taken out of No. 2 slope, so far as known, but searching bodies are still looking for any that may have strayed in the neighborhood of the explosion. Twelve of the dead were buried yesterday afternoon. Reid Carter and his two sons were there are now in Connecticut state prison taken from one house.

THE WEEK IN CONCRESS.

Brief Review of the Proceedings in Mouse and Senate.

FRIDAY-SENATE: One hundred and thirty house pension bills were passed, and after other business of a routine nature the senate proceeded with the consideration of the Nicaragua canal be. Mr. Vest made a long speech in opposition to the bill. Without action upon the bill the senate adjourned. House: Mr. Cannon reported from the committee on rules a resolution for the immediate consideration of observations reported by the committee on the judiciary, the first bill to be taken up to be the bill for the relief of the supreme court with senate amendments, and next the bill to fix the salaries of United States district judges. The Democrats antagonized this resolution and the lead of Mr. McMillan resorted to dilatory tactics and several times left the chamber in a body. The resolution was finally adopted and the court bill taken up and the senate amendments non-concurred in and a conference ordered. Consideration of the bill to fix the salaries of United States district judges was proceeded with but without disposing of it a recess was taken until 8 o'clock, the night session to be for the consideration of pension bills.

SATURDAY - SENATE: The senate passed a resolution prohibiting bookmaking and pool selling in the cities of Washington and Georgetown, or within one mile of the boundaries of those cities. The senate bill for a new mint building at Philadelphia at a cost of $2,000,000 was-reported and placed on the calendar. The Nicaragua canal bill was then considered and speeches made by Messrs. Vest. Edmunds, Morgan and Gray, but no action on the bill was taken. The conference report on the navy appropriation bill was presented and agreed to.

House: After the journal had been approved the senate bill fixing the salaries of United States judges at $5,000 per annum was taken up, and after a brief newed. After an almost superhuman ef- discussion passed. Mr. Bingham of Pennavlvania called up the postoffice appropriation bill. Its consideration was opposed by the Democrats for a while, but finally the bill was taken up in committee of the whole.

MONDAY-SENATE: There was a dis cussion over a proposition to print 100,000 copies of the agricultural report on diseases of the horse." It was finally agreed to print 50,000 copies. My daughter had fits from fright since I years, sometimes 3 to 4 attacks within 24 hour without any warning; during these spalls her thumbs would be cramped toward the inside of her hands, her mouth be drawn sideways, her neck would swell up, and her face assumed a blueish color, this would last from 10 to 15 mis nutes after that she slept, was drousy for about 2 hours.—We tried many remedies without any improvement, but 6 bottles of Pastor Keenigs Nerve Tonig oured her at last; we therefore "e-commend this remedy to all sufferers. Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous di-seases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reversard Pastor Kenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction. KOENIG MEDICINE CO., D West Madigue, cor. Clinton St., CHICAGO, ILL.
