Bids Announced Open On Construction Project

Corning — The school construction project at St. Mary's parish is progressing at a rapid pace, with bids for construction of the new wing for the parochial school opened last week and with bids for razing the old section which the new building replaces expected to be sought in the near future.

This report was made a few days ago by the Rev. Thomas Brennan, pastor, following the opening of bids for the new construction. It is expected, he said, that contracts will be awarded within a few days after completion of review of the bids by the Catholic Diocesan Building Commission.

THE BIDS WERE opened a week ago in Elmira, with low bids announced as follows: general construction, Manning Construction Company of Riverside, $153,400; heating, C. R. Evans Corp. of Elmira, $23,083; plumbing, John C. Dineen of Corning, $10,720; electrical work, Harry E. Rising of Corning, $16,638. Overall, the total cost is $203,841.

The first phase of the school project, which consists of remodeling the north building, is now about 95 per cent complete, it was reported today. Although some school rooms could be used at the present time, no effort will be made to do so, because of the nearness to the end of the school term.

IT IS EXPECTED that razing of the oldest building, which is opposite the church on State Street, will be started soon after school is out for the year. Examinations are scheduled in about two weeks. Construction of the new building will be started as soon as possible after the old structure is razed. No date for completing the new building has been set.

The remodeled north building provides seven classrooms, offices and a gymnasium. Work on this was started in September, 1958, by the contractor, W. E. Granger & Sons of Elmira. This firm did not enter a bid for the construction of the new building. Last February 1 was first set as a completion date for the first phase, but difficulties in obtaining delivery of materials delayed the completion.

NEXT FALL, pupils now using the old building will take temporary quarters in the newly remodeled north building. The new building will consist of an eight-room L-shaped wing.
