Catholic Daughters Hear Talk By Trust Officer

Geneva—"If you do not make a will, the law makes one for you."

This fact was brought out by Russell A. Sibley, of Rochester, who spoke before 100 members of the Court Annunciation, Catholic Daughters of America, recently in St. Stephen's School hall.

Mr. Sibley is assistant trust officer of the Genesee Valley Union Trust Company.

Discussing, "Why A Will Is Necessary," Mr. Sibley told of its importance. He advised both husband and wife to make individual wills since it could happen that a common accident could take both lives at once.

MRS. JAMES KANE, chairman of the recent fashion show for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the court reported that $201 had been realized.

Mrs. Hugh Oddi is chairman of a sleigh or hay ride to be held Nov. 17. Mrs. Armand Felicetti was nominated as financial secretary replacing Miss Frances LaNasa who has moved to New York.

Mrs. Loretta Linehan, grand regent, invited members to participate in the Legion of Mary if not as active members, then as auxiliary member.

A business meeting will be held Nov. 11 when medical missionaries will be present and will show slides on mission work.

Taxpayers Voice Thanks To Church-Run Schools

Carle Place, N.Y. — (NC) — Seven Catholic and two Protestant schools have been commended by taxpayers of Carle Place School District for tax savings accrued as a result of "their existence and operation in educating many of our youths."

The commendation was disclosed in delayed publication of a resolution passed at the school district's annual meeting.

THE RESOLUTION noted that "it is the primary and natural right of parents to educate their children, and it is the legitimate interest of government to supervise the education of its youth to provide patriotic and intelligent citizens.

"These rights and interests have been traditionally protected and promoted in America by both the independent (non-public) schools and public school system."

Copies of the resolution have been sent to four Catholic high schools: St. Pius X Preparatory Seminary and Sacred Heart Academy, both in Hempstead, St. Mary's in Manhasset and Chaminade, Mineola; three Catholic elementary schools: Corpus Christi in Mineola, St. Brigid's in Westbury and St. Aidan's, Williston Park; and two Protestant schools, Nassau Christian, Mineola, and Advent Tuller, Westbury.

Spain's Past Serves Present

Madrid — (RNS) — Generalissimo Franco, Spanish Chief of State, paid a visit to the 12th century Monastery of the Holy Thorn some 20 miles from Valladolid which has been converted into a school for training farm technicians.

His visit underscored the work going on in Spain to convert to modern use without impairing their artistic values some of Spain's most colorful monuments from the past. Among them have been old castles restored for use as wheat silos.

Indulgences Granted To Seminarians Prayer

Vatican City — (NC) — Two separate decrees of the Sacred Apostolic Penitentiary have conceded indulgences to be gained by seminarians and by those who make a Holy Hour.

Both decrees were published in the most recent edition of the "Acta Apostolicae Sedis" official organ of the Holy See.

The decree affecting seminarians consists of three prayers, one each in honor of the three Persons of the Holy Trinity, to be said for their parents. A plenary indulgence is attached to the recitation of the prayers if they are said once daily for a month, and a partial indulgence of 500 days is attached to each single recitation.

The second decree grants a plenary indulgence to all who make the Holy Hour—an hour of prayer in church — on the usual conditions of confession, Communion and prayers according to the intention of the Pope.

Anglicans Give Church To Catholics

Dublin — (RNS) — The Church of Ireland (Anglican) has turned over its church at Ballinahinch, County Galway, to the local Catholic community for use as a Catholic church.

The church is situated in one of the loveliest parts of Connemara, beauty spot of the West of Ireland.

IN A STATEMENT explaining the gift, the Representative Body of the Church of Ireland said that "for some years past there have been no members of the Church of Ireland residing in the parish of Ballinahinch, and only occasional services have been held in the church for holiday-makers."

On the other hand, the statement continued, "there is no Catholic church in the neighborhood and many people of that communion have had to travel long distances, mainly over mountain roads, to their nearest church."

Accordingly, the statement concluded, the Church of Ireland authorities "feel it to be in accordance with Christian principles that rather than have the Ballinahinch church demolished, it should be given, to meet the need for a proper place of worship, to the Catholic people in the district."

An agreement transferring ownership of the church was signed by officials of the Representative Body and authorities of the Catholic Archdiocese of Tuam.

Fought Vatican, Now A Saint?

Vatican City — (RNS) — An Italian army officer who became a priest after fighting against the papacy, and wresting central Italy from it 90 years ago, may be beatified by the Catholic Church, the Vatican Radio reported.

He was Carlo Amiante, who was born at Catanzaro in 1851, and joined the Piedmontese army at the age of 17.

Carlo fought in several battles and took part in the occupation of Rome on Sept. 20, 1870.

After the war, he asked to be received by Pope Pius IX and to be forgiven for his share in the occupation. The Pope gave him absolution and dismissed him with his blessing.

Eventually, Carlo Amiante became a priest in Naples, where he devoted the rest of his life to the poor. He died in 1935 at the age of 84, leaving behind him many memories of his holiness and charity.

The Vatican Radio said the Sacred Congregation of Rites had started to examine the writings of Father Amiante with a view to the possible introduction of a cause for his beatification. This is a major step preceding canonization.

The station stressed that this is the first time that a person who had actually contributed to the conquest of the States of the Church during the Risorgimento, which lead to the unification of Italy under King Victor Emmanuel II, has been considered by the Congregation as a candidate for beatification.
