

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

A large class received First Communion at the Cathedral on Thursday. Ascension Thursday was appropriately observed in all the Catholic churches of the city.

Railways are now running summer trains to the bay and lake.

It is expected the Manitou Beach Electric railway will be open for business June 1st.

As the weather gradually warms up the attendance at the early Masses show a notable increase.

Many persons visited the Holy Sepulchre last week.

The Catholic Universe, and the New York Irish World published reduced cuts of the new St. Bernard seminary last week.

Charles P. Barry will build a handsome residence at the corner of East avenue and Brunswick street the coming year.

At Thursday evening's meeting of the Catholic Literary Club Miss Whalen gave a piano solo and Miss Coughlin a vocal solo. Miss Redmond read an interesting paper and Miss Yawman discoursed pleasantly on church history.

The funeral of Charlie Gaffney took place from the family residence, 160 Alexander street, at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

From present indications some forty or fifty residences will be erected the coming season on the Boulevard lot association property comprising the Nazareth convent tract.

John Lewis, son of Joseph and Katie Kennel died Thursday morning at 7 No. 7, Wolff park, aged 5 years. The funeral took place Thursday from the Holy Family church at 9 a. m.

Catherine, the wife of Frederick Glathier, died Monday at her residence, 270 Brown street, aged 42 years. She leaves five children. The funeral took place Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from St. Peter and Paul's church.

Among the Free Academy pupils who will take part in the commencement exercises June 25th and 26th are: William Robinson, Hugh O'Brien, Elizabeth O'Connor, Michael Casey, Ruth Dwyer.

The Forty Hours' Devotion opened at the Immaculate Conception church Sunday, and closed Wednesday. No sermon was preached Monday or Tuesday evening, as it was thought more time would be afforded those desiring to go to confession.

Theodore Forgues, Louis Forgues and Louis Suisse, lost their lives by the capsizing of a row boat in Lake Ontario near Manitou Beach Monday were all residents of the village of Charlotte. They were working on the construction of the Grand View Beach electric railway, the new line being run between Ontario Beach and Manitou.

Edward Crowley and Mrs. Catherine Dalton were married at the Holy Apostles' church at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening by Rev. T. C. Murphy. Gebhard Schwartz acted as best man and Miss Addie Begy was bridesmaid. After the ceremony a reception was enjoyed at Mr. and Mrs. Crowley's residence on Lyell avenue.

The children of the French church on Pleasant street Friday of last week tendered Mlle. Rhea a charming reception. Marie Lamereauk read an appropriate address and rendered a charming little romance. Bertha Gaussin six years old, sang a sweet baby song. Several solos and choruses of an operetta were given in a very artistic manner. Mlle. Rhea was delighted with the children and gave them well deserved praise. Mlle. Rhea is greatly interested in the French school.

John Sheridan, an old highly esteemed resident of this city, died Tuesday afternoon at his residence, 48 Phelps avenue. Mr. Sheridan was a native of Ireland, but had lived in Rochester about fifty years. At the time of the construction of the Erie canal he completed large contracts for work near Montezuma and at Lockport and Brockport. Afterwards he was engaged in the grocery business on Front street. He has not been in active business for a number of years. Mr. Sheridan leaves a wife and two sons, John A. of Leadville, and E. C. Sheridan of this city, and daughters, Mrs. B. B. Hughes and Mrs. Patrick Hughes of Toronto, Mrs. P. J. O'Reilly of Utica and Mrs. F. H. Falls and Miss Anna Sheridan of Rochester.

At Monday evening's meeting of the Catholic Literary Club Dr. Somers presided in the absence of the president, who was in New York attending the Catholic editors' convention. The meeting opened with quotations on "Woman," some exceedingly good quotations being given. Mr. T. F. Foley read a carefully prepared and entertaining paper, giving his ideas of "A Perfect Woman." Misses Kate and Nellie O'Callaghan played a pretty piano duet; Mr. F. A.

Smyth contributed an enjoyable recitation; Dr. Somers read No. III of the president's series of papers on the history of the Catholic church in the United States; Miss Mahoney and Mr. Mooney sang a very pretty vocal duet; Miss Libbie Moore read the Seventh Church Council; Mr. Saunders gave a pleasing recitation. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, May 18th, and will open with quotations from "Bulwer."

A Sad Death.

The many friends of Rev. B. Champion, formerly of the French church, pastor at Ecoise, Wayne county, Mich., will be grieved to learn of the unexpected death of his father, Martin Champion, at the age of 63 years. The latter arrived here from France last Wednesday with his family, and was on his way to Sandwich, near Detroit, where he intended to make his home. The party stopped in Rochester to pay a visit to his nephews, Mr. and Mrs. R. Raymond, 6 Evergreen street. Mr. Champion seemed to suffer from a severe cold; Drs. James Buckley and Moore pronounced it a case of pneumonia. Word was sent to Father Champion who arrived Thursday morning just in time to see his father breathing his last. Thursday evening the remains were taken to Sandwich where the funeral services will be held today.

A TWO STORY DWELLING.

It Costs $1,200 and Makes a Pleasant Home.

This pretty little house may have either brick or stone foundation, and has two stories and an attic, with a 6 foot 6 inch cellar.

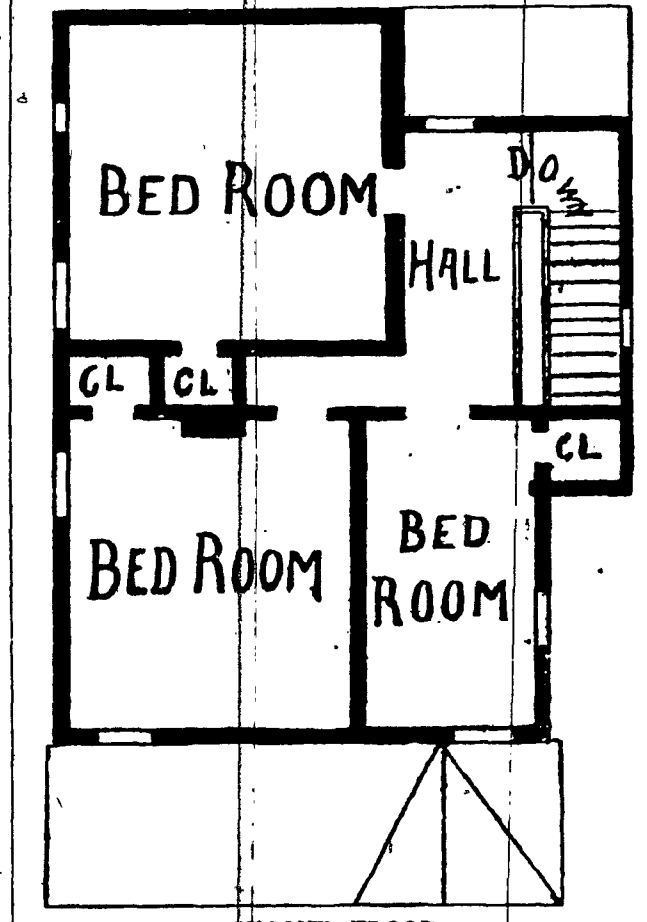

VIEW. In the first story is a 12x10 hall which opens from a good sized veranda and which is connected with the parlor, 14x15. In the latter room is a fireplace and its two windows give plenty of light.

Back of it comes the kitchen or living room, size 14x15, also with two windows. From this opens a 7x10 foot pantry, which in turn leads to the cellar stairs. Back of the pantry is a little porch.

In the second story are two good sized bedrooms and one smaller one, which are connected by a hall, and each one of which is supplied with a commodious closet.

SECOND FLOOR. This plan was designed by the National Building Plan Association, Detroit, and was first published in "Artistic Homes." The estimated cost of building is $1,200.

Comfortable Couches.

Comfortable couches which show no woodwork are so inexpensive now that no one need be without one or more. They are for sale either simply covered with cretonne or left plain, and draped with a Bagdad or other latest rug. An old fashioned sofa which had been consigned to the garret was recently seen by the writer, and it had been so transformed that it looked like an extremely modern couch. The back had been unscrewed and discarded, and an upholsterer had added new springs and a covering of stout white cloth, for which he charged $8. Some handsome cretonne, fifty inches wide and a trifle over three yards long, had been converted into a spread by simply hemming the raw edges. This was laid over and pushed in at the place where the slope of the head joins the main body of the couch, no tacking whatever being necessary. Two large pillows of the same material placed against the wall make a really handsome piece of furniture out of one which was decidedly unsightly before. There is a combination chair and table, which as a chair has a round wooden back, with a seat covered in tapestry. The table is formed by simply turning the back over to rest upon the arms. This piece of furniture is suitable either for the hall or the card room.—Art Amateur.

BRASS ORNAMENTS.

Small brass ornaments cast or impressed with the die are now being applied to furniture in the shape of rosettes and kindred forms, being attached not only so as to contrast with the wood, but to emphasize constructional parts. This is the revival of a fashion dating half a century since and which long previously prevailed. The startling effect of the brilliant fire gilt surface is pleasing to the eye, coming well in contrast both with light and dark woods. Separately, these ornaments are unmeaning, but are made attractive by the way in which they are displayed. Some of the quaintness of old furniture is due to their use, as well as to occasional relief designs worked out of thin sheets of brass, which are occasionally the place of savings for carvers of mahogany and ash panels.—Decorator and Furnisher.

Corner Writing Desks.

Some corner writing desks are a decided novelty. They are richly ornamented with brass, and two small round mirrors which each other are placed on either side of the top. A three-sided drawer pulls out just below the desk, and a small closet underneath utilizes every inch of space. For a small library nothing could be better than this desk, as it takes up very little room, and serves at the same time to fill a corner, that most difficult part of a room to furnish.—Art Amateur.

On Friday last Martin Murphy met with an accident at L. K. Hesters' malt house. While working at one of the elevators his hand was caught by one of the cups of the elevator and cut and crushed through the flesh to the bone on the back of the hand, making an ugly wound, which may cripple his hand permanently.

Mrs. Anna Norman died at Geneva May 4th, aged 75. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at St. Francis de Sales church, and her remains were buried in St. Francis de Sales cemetery.

A large class has been prepared and will receive their first communion Ascension Thursday at 8:30 a. m.
