Should they agree to this the militia would be withdrawn but refusal would necessitate an order that the troops carry the convicts back at any cost.

A DEFENSELESS WOMAN.

Loses Her Life at the Hands of Cowardly Villian.

HAZELTON, Pa., July 23.—Lattimer, a small mining town four miles from here, was vesterday the scene of a most brutal cowardly murder. Mrs. Garoyer went huckleberrying at an early hour yesterday morning and left her daughter, Mary, aged 13, at home to attend the baby. Upon her return shortly after noontime she found the doors bolted, and upon forcing them open found the dead body of her daughter lying on the floor in a pool of blood with her throat cut from ear to ear.

At her side lay a big butcher knife. At first it was thought that an assault had been attempted, as the clothes were badly torn, showing signs of a fierce struggle and that the murderer killed the girl to cover the crime, but this is not sustained upon further examination. It is supposed that a man entered the house to rob the family of their savings, which were very large. The box containing the savings of years is gone, and it is supposed the robber was caught in the act by the girl whom he murdened to conceal his identity. There is no clue to the robber.

The senator was in a very talkative mood In talking about the rumor that he would retire from the chairmanship of the Hepublican national committee. Senator Quay gave every reason to believe that was his intention. The following was written in Senstor

Quay's presence and approved by him: "The time is approaching when the labors for the campaign for 1892 should be of that work. "The coming campaign has the forecast former who is in possession. Not a dollar of being an educational one. It will be conducted with vigor by both parties. The man who is to manage the preliminary work as chairman of the executive committee should be in position now, and should henceforth devote his time largely to its duties. As I said before I do not care to do the work, but still I do not positively say that I will resign, "Would such a step be taken on account of your health?" was asked. "No." replied the senator, "notwithstanding newspaper assertions, my health is fairly good." "Will you leave the committee entirel or simply the chairmanship?" "I have not stated that I would resign." was the evasive reply.

Continuing he stated that the executive committee would meet in Philadelphia on July 29. "I cannot say," he continued, when the national convention will be. A great many favor holding it early in order to escape the torrid heat we have usually encountered. That will be decided by the entire committee at some future meeting."

"Who do you think will succeed you provided you resign? It has been stated you know that letters were sent to the different committee members if they would consent to have J.S. Clarkson succeed you, and that they had all replied favorable?". "That is not true," replied Senator

"No such letters have been sent with my knowledge. It is generally coaceded, however, that Mr. Clarkson will be elected provided I resign and he is well fitted for the position: but there is no indication of what action will be taken from national committee." "What about the national outlook?"

"It is too far ahead to say much about it. I have no doubt that if Secretary Blaine is a candidate he will receive the Republican nomination. Mr. Cleveland seems to be in the lead on the Democratic side. Pattison. Lam told, is being favorably discussed by eminent Democrats outside of Pennsylvania. He is popular, has a clean record and would be a strong candidate."
