End Asked To Algeria War

Paris — (RNS) — Roman Catholic politicians issued an appeal here for an immediate negotiated peace to end the six-year-old war in Algeria.

The appeal urged the nations of the French Community to hold a round table conference to negotiate with the Algerian rebels the "guarantees of a frank and democratic application" of the political self-determination President Charles de Gaulle has promised in Algeria.

It also demanded that both sides agree to stop executions of captured soldiers and recognize them as prisoners of war.

Gift To Build Nurses Home

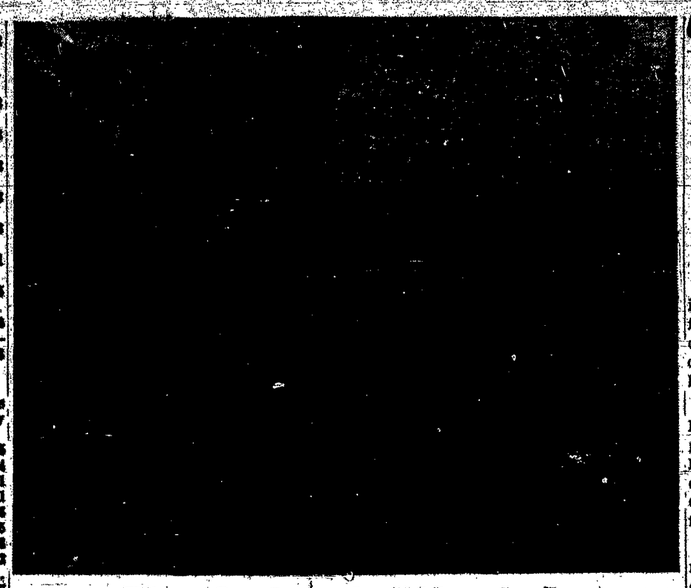
Tulsa — (RNS) — Newly-opened St. Francis Hospital here announced receipt of a $285,000 gift for the construction of a school of nursing.

The gift was made by F. W. Dye of Dallas, a co-founder and former principal owner of the Western Supply Company here and a former Tulsa resident.

The 300-bed hospital is operated by the Sisters, Adorers of the Most Precious Blood, and marks the entry of this relatively small Catholic order to the Tulsa area. It was an $8 million gift of the William K. Warren Foundation, which has offered to underwrite its operation.

Catechism In State Schools

Buenos Aires — (RNS)—The Tucuman provincial parliament in northern Argentina has passed a law introducing Roman Catholic religious instruction in primary schools throughout the province. Attendance at the religious classes is optional.



This Curtain Is 'Wooden'

Berlin—(RNS)—Camouflaged as a chimney, a Communist observation post (circle) lurks like an evil eye over the wooden fence that knives through the ill-fated village of Gross-Glienicke, separating East from West Germany. All this was once one farm in an idyllic weekend resort of Berliners. Today, the land and buildings on the near side of the fence belong to a West Berlin farmer. His neighbor on the other side is a member of a Communist "agricultural production cooperative." They belong to the same community, but live in two different worlds.

St. Thomas In Japanese

Kyoto — (RNS) — The Summa Theologica of St. Thomas Aquinas has been translated into the Japanese language after 15 years of work by scholars here.

The volume is published under the name of Saburo Takada, professor of the history of ancient and medieval philosophy at Kyoto University. Collaborators in the project include Prof. Toburyu Yamanouchi, president of Kyoto University, Prof. Augustin Akira Yamada and Father Pierre Shigeru Komatsu, O.P.

Apathy Said Problem Of Church Press

Yakima — (NC) — Apathy is the one basic problem confronting the Catholic press today, the president of the Catholic Press Association asserted here.

Father Albert J. Nevins, M.M., CPA president, told delegates to the two-day Pacific Northwest regional convention of the CPA: "By and large, our Catholic people are insensitive to the problems of the world."

HE ADVOCATED a sense of mission among Catholics in general and Catholic journalists in particular to recognize the call of the world for justice and charity. Father Nevins said Catholics must know and believe they have a mission to all men. He added: "A Christian becomes his brother's keeper whether he wants to or not. The Catholic cannot divorce himself from this mission and remain a Catholic — he is Christ reborn."

Father Nevins scored the "heresy of personalism," which encourages self interest and blinds a person to the starvation and want around the world. It is up to Catholic editors to awaken the conscience of the Catholic people to "the voices of the whole human race."
