Noted Speaker To Observe Ithaca Group's 10th Year

Ithaca — Rev. John S. Maloney, administrator of Immaculate Conception Parish, extends a welcome to all parishioners and other interested persons, to attend a special observance on Sunday, Oct. 30, commemorating ten years of Missionary work of the Missionary Helpers of the Sacred Heart in Ithaca and the surrounding area.

Mrs. Mary Read Newland, Catholic author of note, will be guest speaker on the program to be held in Parish Hall at 4:00 p.m. Mrs. Newland, mother of seven children, has written three widely-read books entitled "We and our children," "The Year and our Children" and "The Saints and our Children."

THESE BOOKS were written with the hope that they might help parents to bring up their children in an atmosphere of good Catholic home life, where the truths of the Catholic faith are not only known but practiced.

Mrs. Newland's topic will be "Teaching Religion in the Home."

Following the program in Parish Hall, Mass will be celebrated at 5:15 p.m. in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The sermon will be delivered by Very Rev. Donald M. Cleary, pastor of the newly-established parish of St. Catherine of Siena in Ithaca, and Catholic Chaplain at Cornell.

OPEN HOUSE will be held in Parish Hall after the Mass. The many exhibits on display showing the work of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine will present an opportunity for all to learn more of the aims and accomplishments of the Confraternity. Refreshments will be served. Copies of Mrs. Newland's books will be available for purchase, as well as religious books for children.

U. of R. Seminar Given By Father Miller

Rev. Robert G. Miller, C.S.B., Professor of Philosophy at St. John Fisher College, addressed a graduate seminar in psychiatry last week at the University of Rochester on the subject "Actual and Possible Relations between Psychiatry and Religion".

Father Miller analyzed the philosophical and psychological positions within the Freudian, Jungian, Adlerian and Existentialist School of psychiatry in the light of a contemporary Catholic philosophy and psychology.

IN ADDITION, Father Mills developed the positions that even a valid psychiatry is no substitute for religion, that religion is not a mere means for even a valid psychiatry, but that each in its own area complements and supports values of the other.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 23, Father Miller also addressed the Protestant Fellowship Forum at the University of Rochester on the subject "The Nature of Knowledge." With Father Miller on the panel for the Forum were Prof. C. P. Turbayne of the University's philosophy department and Prof. R. C. Lewontin of the University's biology department.

The three addresses and subsequent discussion among the panelists and audience concerned the nature and value of knowledge at the philosophical, empirical and theological levels.

THE THREE panelists have all been researching and publishing on this topic for some years. A booklet on this subject, "Linguistic Analysis and Metaphysics," is now being published by Father Miller and is expected to appear next month.

Newman Club Leaders Meet At Oswego State

The Spirituality of Leadership was the theme of the 1960 Newman Club Fall Leadership Conference of the Empire State Province, hosted by the Oswego State University College of Education on Oct. 21, 22, and 23.

Students attending were able to explore the significance and responsibilities of leadership through a program planned under the direction of Rita Anderson, student chairman, and Father Robert Hall, Oswego chaplain.

Discussion groups and speeches fulfilled the objectives of information, instruction, and inspiration. Father Hall's keynote address on Friday evening was followed on Saturday by several discussion groups. New York State Assemblyman Edward Crawford led the first discussion group on "The Psychology and Tools of Leadership."

By defining types of leadership, he pointed out the desirable characteristics of a leader. Above all, he stressed that personal conduct of a leader must be beyond reproach so that he can make and carry through intelligent decisions, to inspire those who follow.

The next discussion group, "Planning and Presentation" by John Fisher of the Oswego State English Department, emphasized that spiritual responsibilities of leadership are the most important. These responsibilities may be concerned with leading a Newman Club, informing Non-Catholics about Catholicism, or recognizing moral issues in problems such as birth control.

The final discussion on "Leadership and Spirituality" was led by Rev. Moritz Fuchs from St. Paul's Church in Oswego. Father Fuchs stated the virtues of generosity, humility, perseverance, self-control, justice, courage, and prudence, which should be practiced by all responsible Catholics to become fit for leadership. "Only responsible Catholics," are made through the National Newman Club Federation outlines a Newman Club program on this basis.

FATHER DAVID Walter from Holy Family Church in Fulton spoke at the dinner Saturday on "The Spirituality of the Laity." The Communion Breakfast on Sunday saw the closing of the Conference with the talk by Father William Brown, Holy Immaculate Church in Fulton, on "Practical Application of the Spirituality of the Laity."

The Ideas set forth at this Fall Leadership Conference will be followed with a technique and problem session at the Spring Leadership Conference sponsored by the University of Rochester Newman Club.

Health Discussion At St. Louis

Sister Mary Amadeus, R.S.M., principal of St. Louis School in Pittsford, discusses nutrition and health education materials with Miss Virginia Ritter, executive director of the Dairy Council of Rochester Area, Inc.

Annually the Dairy Council of Rochester offers materials without charge for teachers to use in their classroom teaching of nutrition, health education, science, social studies, and arithmetic.

THIS YEAR, Miss Virginia Ritter, executive director, will visit each principal in the elementary schools to deliver materials they have ordered, assist them with their Special Milk Program forms, and offer additional assistance in the form of films, displays, and animal feeding demonstrations.

The Dairy Council provides a pair of rats to stay in the classroom 6 weeks. One rat gets a balanced diet including milk, the other rat gets the same diet except for the beverage. Each week a nutritionist visits the classroom and leads a discussion on the importance of good nutrition to good health.
