McQuaid Faculty Edges All-Stars Five 53-51

The wins are coming harder each year for McQuaid's Faculty Five—but they're still coming. It took the Profs two overtime periods to turn back the Senior All-Stars, 53-51, in McQuaid's annual Mission Night, last Saturday.

Last year they managed it in only one extra period, and two years ago the victory came in the closing [illegible] of regulation time. [illegible] that rate, next year's contest will probably go all the way into sudden death.

Saturday's marathon was the second half of a doubleheader played before a crowd of over 3000 at McQuaid. The opener saw the Senior Freshmen top the Senior Italians, 33-69.

A pair of Erie's stepsons, Mike Bolide and Dick Kleisley, led the winners with 12 and 8 points while Ron Canzano's 11 topped the losers.

IN THE FEATURE game, McQuaid's varsity coach, Ken Jones, put on a scoring show with 20 points, 10 of them coming after the seniors had taken a 25-16 halftime lead. But it remained for the Math Department to provide the four points that turned the trick in the second overtime.

A line-drive jumper by Mr. Leo Gurney, S.J., balanced foul shots by Tom Meighan and Jim Corey to leave the score knotted at 51-51 with only six seconds to play. Corey's long unhanded shot in and out, giving the Profs a final shot, and the Math combination of Tom Seymour passing and Frank Nocenzi hooking produced a layup from underneath just as time ran out.

Meighan's 17 points led the seniors, with good support coming from Terry Dwyer, 8; Chuck Tist, 7, and Corey, 7.

CYO In The News

EASTER DAY CAMP

Peter Todd, CYO Day Camp Director, is still taking applications and registrations for the coming Easter Day Camp, to be run at the Catholic Youth Organization, 50 Chestnut St. The Camp will run from April 15 until April 19, from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m. every day.

THIS YEAR for the first time, a special program is being planned for the older boy camper, ages 12-14. This new program will be a sort of leadership program for the youngsters, teaching them some of the responsibilities of leadership, etc.

A well rounded program is completely planned for the camper. A camper will enjoy movies, a cookout, crafts, nature knowledge, a visit to a campsite by an Indian Chief, who will teach the youngsters signs and tricks. The camper will also enjoy the benefit of the CYO swimming pool, along with instructions by qualified instructors.

If a camper registers by Saturday, April 6th, he will still get in on the special pre-registration fee of $6.00. If a person registers after this date he must then pay the registration fee of $8.00. So, don't delay, register as soon as possible.

FUN DAY

Sunday afternoon, March 31, over 60 fathers and sons participated in a combined Father and Son Fun Day at the Catholic Youth Organization.

The participants participated in numerous activities in both the gym and pool.

In the gym the sons were able to demonstrate to their fathers what they had learned so far this year in gymnastics, basketball, etc.

In the pool, the members enjoyed a free swim and a few simple games and stunts, along with a chance for the youngsters to show their "pops" how well they can swim.

BANK VOLLEYBALL

Last week Lincoln Rochester Savings bank took three games from Rochester Savings Bank in the CYO Bank Volleyball League. In the same event 2 First Federal rallied to take three games from Central Trust which ended a tie for third place between the two teams.

Mission Bouts Saturday

By WMIR JOHNSON

Twenty-four of the city's top teenage boxers will descend upon the Community War Memorial Saturday evening, April 6.

The purpose of their visit: to win an Aquinas Mission Bout championship, one of the most coveted prizes in the large and happy kingdom of boys who participate in amateur boxing in the Rochester area.

For the finalists, who fought their way through several individual battles, the Bouts mean considerable fame. The odds against winning from the beginning of the season are terrifyingly long, yet there has never been a dearth of entries.

ALWAYS DOMINANT in the young contender's thoughts is body-building: road-work and rope-skipping to condition the legs; pushups and bending exercises to harden the stomach muscles; squeezing a rubber ball in spare moments to strengthen the hands; shadow-boxing to improve timing and agility.

At the Aquinas Mission Bouts fans see boys battling harder for the school crown than some professionals who have fought for the championship of the world. Spectators see contestants beautifully conditioned and boxing under rules of safety precaution that have precluded any serious injury in the more than a quarter-century history of the bouts. In the Mission Bouts one sixx boys fight their heart out for pride and the pure sport of it.

Boxing has been a popular sport at Aquinas since the school began. The association with the Missions began in 1937 and has been an annual feature of the Aquinas sports program ever since.

Highlights of the night will include the Mike Marron-Art Telarico fight in the junior welterweight class. Telarico, last year's paperweight champion, will challenge Marron's junior welterweight title won last year. Terry Coyle, who was decisioned a year ago, will go after Ernie LaBella for the light heavyweight crown. For sheer speed and action the Vic Lynd-Mike Aman battle in the welterweight class looms as a thriller.

The outstanding fighter of the night will be presented with the handsome, three-and-a-half lost Hickok trophy by Ray Hickok.

On the Dewey Avenue campus they credit Frank "Hunk" Vadas with having established the ideal atmosphere of sportsmanship, safety and freshness for the bouts. Officials for the bout are Frank Duggan and Jay Stalker, judges; Abe Ruff, Sam Cappa and John Mastrella, referees; Bob Kleisley, timer; and Dr. Michael Crind, attending physician. Rev. John Neary, C.S.B., a former Mission Bout champion, is program chairman.

Guardian Angels Students Win

Second annual Spelling Bee between Good Shepherd and Guardian Angels School was held last Thursday, March 28.

THE CONTEST, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, Our Lady of the Genesee Council 4812, was won by Guardian Angels.

Janet Regalsis was the winner of the $25 Savings Bond offered as First Prize. Her name will be inscribed on the Award Plaque which is retained by Guardian Angels. Mary Benjamin, also of Guardian Angels, was runner-up.

Thanks were extented to John Nugent, Grand Knight of the Sponsoring Council, who was Master of Ceremonies; Eugene Eckert, Pronouncer, Father Albert Galen, C.S.B., Aquinas Institute; James Bowes, S.J. and Robert Bradley from McQuaid Jesuit High School who were Judges.

COMETS WIN

Last week the Brighton Comets defeated the Minute Men to take 1st place honors in the CYO House League Basketball Tournament with a score of 51-26.

Ron Cameron led the champions with 13 points followed by Mike Yeager with 12 and Mike Moore with 11.

Earlier this season the Comets took the league championship by losing only one game out of ten and that was to the Minute Men. The second place Minute Men were led by Brian Fitzpatrick's 10 points.

The Rim Scrapers also were victorious in their struggle for 3rd place rights as they downed the Brighton Bolts in a close 36-35 match. Dennis Wrights and Ray Pettis led the Rim Scrapers. Dennis had 13 points and Ray 12. Jim Toney led the Bolts with 14 points.

Syracuse Plans Own Seminary

The Syracuse diocese will soon have its own preparatory seminary, Bishop Walter A. Foery announced last week.

The former pastor of Holy Rosary Church, Rochester, and head of Catholic Charities, said the new seminary will be dedicated in honor of St. Thomas Aquinas.

Syracuse students now attend St. Andrew's Seminary, Rochester, and are expected to continue their studies at St. Bernard's Seminary even after the new Syracuse school is established. No dates were given for the construction of the new school.
