Officers of the Federation, composed of 19 different societies, are: president, William Wittmann; 1st vice president, Marshall Yost (also general chairman); 2nd vice president, Kilian Schmitt; secretary and program chairman, Friedrich Grasberger; treasurer, Robert Hochreiter.

Pope Replies To Nikita, Polish Chief

Vatican City—(RNS)—Pope Paul VI has sent messages to the leaders of Communist Russia and Poland stressing the Roman Catholic Church's concern for international peace.

Both communications were in reply to congratulatory messages received by the new pontiff from Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Aleksander Zawadski, president of Poland's Council of State and titular head of that country.

The message to Mr. Khrushchev was given wide publicity by Tass, Soviet news agency in Moscow, and that to Mr. Zawadzki, by the official Polish Press Agency in Warsaw.

The Pope's messages were seen here by some observers as a continuation of the late Pope John XXIII's efforts to improve Vatican contacts with leaders behind the Iron Curtain the majority of Catholics under Communist rule. A major step in this direction was taken by John XXIII last March when he granted an audience to Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of the Russian newspaper, Izvestia, and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev.

This Pony Digs King's English

Hokkaido, Japan — The Maryknoll parish in Shizunai here — the closest thing to Kentucky's Blue Grass region in Japan—is renowned for its stables and fine horses.

The ranch which for many years raised the pure white horses on which the Emperor traditionaly rode is here. So are the biggest stables of Japan's top race horse owners.

Recently, a temperamental English thoroughbred made an important man out of Father John L. Lavin, M.M., of Swoyerville, Pa., pastor of the parish. The horse refused to respond to the commands of its new Japanese owners.

Being the only English speaking person nearby, Father Lavin was called upon to calm the homesick horse by whispering words of assurance in his best British accent.

Disc Notes

From Paul Contestable

Jackie Wilson and Linda Hopkins combine for an outstanding rendition of some of the most popular gospel music on a new Brunswick record. The stirring hand-clapping music will surely set your foot to tapping in this impressive performance on Shake a Hand. Excellent support is also given by the chorus and orchestra conducted by Alan Jacobs on two songs and by Dick Jacobs on the remaining ten. Compelling from the beginning to end the record includes Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho, He's Got the Whole World in His Hands, Shake a Hand, When the Saints Go Marching In, Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen, Yes Indeed, Old Time Religion, Everytime I Feel the Spirit, Dry Bones, Down By the Riverside, Do Lord, and Swing Low, Sweet Chariot. A fascinating collection of songs with a topnotch performance. Fine use of stereo.

A fine recording, New Thresholds in Sound was produced by RCA Victor to show off its new Dynagroove recording technique. With the orchestra conducted by Sid Ramin, a showcase of sound was recorded with excellent utilization of stereo. Impressive sound throughout. You'll play this one often both for yourself and for your friends. Twelve fine songs were selected for this showcase including April in Paris, Swance and Bewitched.

Steve Lawrence sings some Winners on his new release for Columbia. The "winners" aren't all his (Andy William's Moon River, Frank Sinatra's All the Way, etc.) but Steve more than does justice to all of them including his own "winner"—Go Away Little Girl. Other songs include Who's Sorry Now?, Kansas City and Lollipops and Roses.

Colpix Records will rush out new James Darren single, which couples "Grand Luna Italiana" and "Gegetta." The tunes are from the forthcoming film, "Gidget Goes to Rome," a Jerry Bresler Production for Columbia Pictures. The songs figure prominently in the picture in which Darren is starred.

Colpix execs are especially excited about "Grande Luna Italiana" and expect that the tune will become as popular as "Volare" and "Al Di La." The Darren in that the song is sung in Italian, exactly as it is done in the movie.

The singer's new single release follows his current hit album, Teenage Triangle, in which he is featured with Shelley Fabares and Paul Petersen. That trio is teamed with The Marcels and the Stu Phillips Orchestra and Chorus in Bye Bye Birdie, one of the albums in Colpix' summer release.

Boys From Syracuse Next At T&C Musicals

Rodgers' and Hart's fastest and funniest musical, The Boys From Syracuse, will be Town & Country Musicals' presentation July 16-21, in the air-conditioned East Rochester High School Theatre.

Based on Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors, the ageless plot involves two sets of twin brothers, Antipholus of Syracuse and his slave, Dromio, arrive in Ephesus and are mistaken for another Antipholus and Dromio. What follows is best described by New York Times critic Brooks Atkinson as a "beautiful feast of rollicking mummery." The musical score includes such all-time greats as "This Can't Be Love", "Falling in Love with Love" and "Sing for Your Supper."

THE TWO Antipholuses will be played by Tom Ulrich, who was The Narrator in Town and Country Musicals' The Fantasticks and Ray Gilbert, who has had a wide variety of leading roles in musical comedies, Shakespearean and other dramas and on several major TV programs. The slave twins will be Dick Latessa and Dick Kinter, who stopped every show with their performances as the fathers in The Fantasticks.

Travis Hudson will have the comedy role of Luce that was played by Martha Raye in the movie. Miss Hudson was in New Faces of 1962 on Broadway and has had leading roles in several popular off-Broadway shows.

Tickets for Town & Country Musicals may be purchased at the theatre box office; phone reservations may be made by calling DUdley 1-1001. The next show will be Carnival, July 23-Aug. 4.
