Laymen's Retreat League Members Meet

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING of the Leaders and Past Presidents of the Diocesan Retreat League took place Sunday afternoon, June 7 at Notre Dame Retreat House. Thomas Hughes, President, presided. More than 150 men from throughout the Diocese attended. Focal point of the meeting was to inform the Retreat Leaders of the Diocese of the details involved in moving to Canandaigua Lake. They in turn were to pass on the information to their Retreat Groups in their respective areas. Father Michael Downing, C.SS. R., described the new location aided by colored pictures of the 55 acres. Father Downing gave the reason, advantages and details of all the transactions involved in the move. Edward Ribson, architect, described the preliminary plans for the new Retreat House. James Bryant of Foley Associates gave the general plan for the fund drive among the retreatants and their friends.

YOU CAN FORGET ABOUT MESSY DEFROSTING

WITH YOUR NEW NO-FROST REFRIGERATOR-FREEZER

WITH A NEW NO-FROST REFRIGERATOR FREEZER

SEE YOUR APPLIANCE DEALER

If you have to defrost your refrigerator you know it's the messiest of all kitchen chores. Just think of the time you spend chipping away at chunks of slow melting ice . . . the pans of hot water you use to hasten the defrosting process . . . the inevitable puddles of water on your floor . . . the cumbersome task of wrapping frozen foods in newspaper and trying to keep them as cold as possible.

Today's no-frost refrigerator-freezers eliminate these defrosting problems forever because frost or ice never form in the freezer or refrigerator sections.

And you'll be able to store up to 20 additional frozen food packages in the freezer section—there's never any ice to rob you of valuable space. Labels are readily identifiable without a layer of frost. Frozen food packages won't stick together. And what a joy it is to remove a tray of ice cubes without wrestling, hammering, and pounding.

Today's no-frost refrigerator-freezers offer a lot more, too. Many are equipped with automatic ice-makers and butter conditioners. Modern, thin-wall insulation on many models give more storage space in the same floor space as older models. Adjustable shelves, vegetable crispers, meat keepers, egg racks, and spacious door storage are some of the many features found on today's no-frost refrigerator-freezers.

Your appliance dealer has the model best suited to your family's needs. See him today.
