We are always pleased to receive items of news from our subscribers, but would request those sending them to sign their names, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. We insist upon this because on several occasions apparently innocent communications have caused us much trouble.

Catholic Literary.

The Catholic Literary met at 139 East avenue, Monday. The exercises of the evening opened with quotations from Dickens by the members. A sketch of the great novelist's life was read by E. Finn; Miss Kate Trant read selections from Dickens' works; a vocal solo was sung by Miss McGahan; a sketch of Bishop-elect Gabriel, of Ogdensburg, was read by Mr. Finn. The constitution of the society, as amended by the committee appointed for that purpose, was read by Mr. Marakle. The meeting closed with answers to questions given out at the last meeting. The Literary will meet again on Monday evening, Feb. 22. As this is Washington's birthday, an entertainment appropriate to the occasion will be given. All the quotations will be of a patriotic character.

St. Boniface Organ Fund Society.

The above named organization is composed of the ladies and gentlemen connected with the choir of St. Boniface church. Its object is not only to elevate the standing of the choir, but at the end to raise a suitable sum for purchasing a new church organ. With this end in view its members propose to inaugurate periodical musical and literary entertainments and also to raise such sums by subscription as may tend to advance the good cause. The society has been organized under most auspicious circumstances, has elected a full board of managers and trust that it will meet a ready response from all friends. The officers for this year are: President, Charles E. Gaenzler; vice-president, Miss Julia Beikrich; recording secretary, Peter M. Beyer; financial secretary, Peter Roth; treasurer, Frank Klueh; musical director, Prof. Frank Kreckel.

Birth-Day Party.

About forty friends of Clement Hudson, of 326 North Avenue assembled at his residence last Tuesday evening and proceeded to help him celebrate his 52nd birth-day. Mr. Hudson was the recipient of a number of presents, and was completely surprised. Progressive eucher was indulged in and Miss Mary Savard and William Bohse were awarded first prize. Miss Amelia Plant and William Graves were given the booby. Miss Sophia Plant was thought by the gentlemen to wear the homeliest apron. Jerome Koster played some excellent selections on the violin, and Miss Bohrer gave some very good instrumental music on the piano. A lynch was served and the party broke up about midnight with wishes that Mr. Hudson would continue to enjoy good health for many years to come.

A Sad Death.

A death that has caused much sorrow among those who knew her was that of Mrs. Charles P. Kirley, which took place at the family residence No. 43 Culver Park, last Tuesday morning. Mrs. Kirley was but 23 years of age, and had been married scarcely a year. She was formerly Miss Catherine Lee, of Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, and after her marriage to Mr. Kirley in her Michigan home, came to Rochester to live. In this city she made scores of friends by the amiability of her disposition. She was a convert to our holy religion, having received instruction in Catholic doctrine and been baptized. She was a member of Corpus Christi parish. Besides her husband she leaves an infant daughter less than two weeks old. Her funeral was held from Corpus Christi church Thursday morning at 9:30.

Memorial.

The following Memorial was adopted by Branch 138 C. M. B. A. of Lima, N. Y.:

For the second time the conquering hand of death has been felt within the circle of our association. It has closed the mortal career of one whose christian life shines vividly even in death. Deeply we mourn the loss of Brother Patrick Hughes, who in all the relations of life was our fitting example. A fervent catholic, a devoted husband and father, a sincere friend rests from earth's fitful scenes.

Summoned by the master's call and sanctified by the blessings of religion, he has met heaven's decree with unwavering fortitude. To those dear ones whose sorrow now seems insupportable, we extend our sincere sympathy, and we trust that the heavenly resignation of our friend and associate will lighten the burden of their grief and comfort them in their bereavement. The expressions of condolence will form a part of the records of our Branch and a copy sent to the family of the deceased, and be published in the Lima Recorder and in the official organs of our Association.

M. B. FITZGERALD, } Committee. F. J. EICHENGER, }

A Correction.

In announcing the marriage of Miss McGahan at the Cathedral last week we erroneously stated that the bride was a daughter of Mrs. McGahan Wallace and a sister of Frank McGahan, of Howell street. Such is not the case. The young lady is a former resident of Bradford, Pa.

Conolly-O'Hare.

Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock the marriage of Henry Conolly to Miss Margaret E. O'Hare was celebrated at the church of the Immaculate Conception. James Conolly acted as best man, and Miss M. Gaffney, of Batavia, was the maid of honor. Mr. Conolly is a member of the firm of Conolly Brothers, and a prominent young business man of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Conolly left on an eastern trip.

PAROCHIAL HIGH SCHOOL.

An Academy to Complete the Plan of Catholic Education.

Bishop McQuaid has a project on foot for establishing an academy or normal school which shall be under the charge of the church and which will enable children, passing direct from the parochial schools to the academy and thence to college, to obtain a complete education without getting beyond the reach of the Catholic Church.

When questioned regarding the project, the bishop said the report was true and outlined the plan. He said further: "We already have, in the Nazareth academy, such an institution for girls. It is recognized by the state board of regents, and is allowed by them to conduct a regent's examination. It is, therefore, on exactly the same footing in their eyes as is any other academy or high school. It is taught entirely by Sisters, and I consider them fully competent to do the work. In our new normal school, when we shall get it, the Sisters will also be the instructors. At Nazareth academy the girls receive a complete education, one which carries them just as far as does the high school. There are three departments: the elementary, the academic and the boarding, and I understand that the number of pupils is about 160. As yet boys are carried no further than the parochial schools. Our new school will be designed to do for them what Nazareth academy now does for the girls. It will afford all the advantages of the high schools, and perhaps some others. Thorough instruction will be given in the languages and mathematics. Our plans are not yet fully formulated. Indeed, I make it a rule not to decide just what to do until I have the money to do it. But I may say that we expect to erect a new building, perhaps more than one, but one at any rate to commence with, for our normal school. I am afraid though that it will be two or three years before we are able to commence operations. Just now I am very much pleased with the progress of the work on my seminary. Men are now at work on the outside doors, and when they are finished the building will be all ready for use, except the steam heat. I have two other buildings to put up, however, and so, between both schemes, you see, I am pretty busy."

Amusements.

COOK OPERA HOUSE. Charming Lydia Thompson appears at the Cook Opera House the first half of next week, commencing Monday evening. Miss Thompson is supported by her own company and appears in a triple bill of comedietas each evening. She is so well known that it is unnecessary to comment upon her success as an actress, except to say that since her appearance in pure comedy, she has met with even greater success than was showered upon her when she was the burlesque queen of two continents. From all the cities where she has appeared this season, in this new departure of hers, come nothing but words of praise for herself and company. After years of demonstration of her ability to lend refinement to parody, and succeed in every part she has ever undertaken she has now shown that in comedy she is perfectly at home and capable of much finer work than in burlesque. In London the press sang her praises, in all the provinces the people packed the places of amusement where she has appeared, and Miss Thompson has succeeded in receiving the same reception here in every one of the larger cities where she has appeared. Her repertoire is a large one and is comprised of some of the most laughable comedies found in the English and German languages. The company is an exceptionally strong one, and the members have abundant opportunity to display whatever talents nature has endowed them with.

The latter part of the week the Duff Opera company will appear, at popular prices.

H. R. JACOB'S ACADEMY.

The attraction at this house for the next week is "His Nibs, The Baron," a comedy of the "Mr. Wilkinson's Widows," "All the Comforts of Home," and "Confusion" order, excepting that it is possibly more democratic in action, allowing a greater opportunity for the introduction of the later day farce comedy features than any of the above. The complex humor of the play, brought about by the mixing of a German Baron and his valet with his intended bride and his maid, serve as an entertaining vehicle for the many ludicrous situations, unexpected mishaps and laughable complications that make up the three acts of merriment. Incidentally, and in keeping with the action of the play, a number of novelties and specialty introduction songs, dances, operatic elections, concerted evolutions, etc., are given by the company, which is said to be an exceptionally versatile one—representatives from the entire field of stage accomplishment being in the cast. The scenic and mechanical effect used in the play are new and

ROBINSON'S MUSÉE THEATRE.

One of the strongest shows of the season is announced for the coming week at Robinson's Musée Theatre. The principal attraction in the Curio Hall will be Kentucky Frank, scout, guide and trapper, with Little Fawn, Queen of the Prairies, the noted Leather-Workers. Wilson, the Human Balloon, absolutely without an equal. The Musical Damm Family Orchestra, and other startling novelties. The wax figures of the Two-headed Boy and Double-Headed Baby continue subjects of much curious interest, from the fact that visitors are able to see the complete union of the two beings, and learn accurately just how the body appeared when nude to the waist. McNulty and his Punch and Judy show remains. The performance in the theatre will be given by Healy and Costello's Specialty Consisting of the American novelty team, the Martinetti Brothers in their triple parterre act; Alice Montague, and J. Royer West, instrumentalists; Kitty and Bobby Emmett, Irish character, vocalists and dancers, and the Shedman Brothers' Kuno-Dromo, trained dogs, the best on earth.
