

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

The Knights of St. Louis elected oficers this week.

George S. Hogan, of Hogan Bros. & Co., left for New York last week on a business trip.

SS. Peter and Paul's church will hold a fair to increase the fund for the new hall, after Easter.

Mrs. Katherine J. Dowling is again a candidate for the position of librarian at the Central library.

Sunday, April 8, Bishop McQuaid will confirm a class of children and adults at St. Bridget's church.

The usual Lenten services were held in the city churches Wednesday and Friday evenings.

An enjoyable musical and literary entertainment was given Thursday evening in the school hall of the church of the Holy Cross, Charlotte, by the Criterion dramatic company.

Sister Agnes, who has been book-keeper at St. Mary's hospital for fifteen years, has left this city for the mother home at St. Louis. Her departure is much regretted by hosts of friends who appreciate her services to the cause of charity in this city.

Thursday morning at seven o'clock in the chapel of the convent of the Sisters of Mercy on South street, Bishop McQuaid, in the presence of several members of the clergy and sisters of the convent, invested Sister Benedict with the black veil.

Grand Deputy E. J. Ernst received the sad intelligence Friday morning that his brother-in-law, Jacob Zing'sheim, of Hamilton, Ont., had died. Mr. Ernst left for that city Friday.

Mr. Zing'sheim was well known in this city. County Clerk Shedd has looked up the law in regard to the appointment of notaries and found that Monroe county is entitled to 500. It now has 342. Those wishing to secure appointment among the 158 additional notaries should make application to the governor through the senator or assemblyman from this county.

During the coming summer the Rochester railway company will complete its electric system by equipping the Park avenue, North Clinton street, St. Joseph street and Bronson avenue lines with electric cars. The Park avenue line will be the first to be improved in this way, and the others will be attended to as rapidly as possible. The contracts for the equipment for the new lines have just been let, and to other companies than those which furnished the present rolling stock.

Deaths and Funerals.

The funeral of Edward Rombaut, who died at his residence, 79 Vienna street, last Saturday morning, aged 54 years, took place from Our Lady of Victory church, Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Sarah D., wife of John E. Finnerty, died last Saturday morning at the family residence on South avenue, opposite the almshouse, aged 23 years. Funeral was held Monday at 9 a.m. from St. Mary's church.

Mrs. Anna A. Claffey, wife of Hubert J. Claffey, of Fahy's dry goods house, died in St. Mary's hospital last Saturday afternoon, aged 29 years. Funeral took place Monday at 9 a.m. from the Immaculate Conception church.

Miss Catharine Purcell died Thursday morning at her residence, 237 Tremont street, aged 46 years. Her father, James Purcell, survives. Her sister, Agnes Emma, died on New Year's day, aged 45 years, and her mother, Mrs. Honora Purcell, died Jan. 11, aged 76 years.

On March 14, Cecelia, daughter of James P. and Maggie F. Gilfoyle, aged seven months and fifteen days, died at the family residence, 6 Meyer park. Funeral took place Wednesday morning. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gilfoyle deeply sympathize with them in their sorrow and affliction.

The funeral of Frank Renner, the locomotive engineer who was killed Thursday night near Port Byron, took place Tuesday morning from SS. Peter and Paul's church. The floral emblems were unusually elaborate. Among the pieces was a floral locomotive seven feet in height, which was sent here by the engineers of Syracuse. The bearers were A. J. Welton, C. Turks, M. McCarthy, George Delevan, and M. E. McCarthy.

Pure! Pure! Pure!

Are the goods sold at the Culross bakeries, 30 and 499 State street. This feature and their general excellence account for the amount of goods sold by this firm.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

How it Was Observed in Rochester—The Concerts.

At St. Patrick's Cathedral the day was appropriately observed. At 10 o'clock solemn high mass was impressively celebrated by Rev. B. J. McQuaid, assisted by Rev. James J. Leary and Rev. J. H. Hartley, deacons of honor; Rev. John G. VanNess, deacon of the mass; Rev. C. O'Laughlin, sub-deacon; Very Rev. Mgr. H. DeRegge, master of ceremonies. Other priests in the sanctuary were: Rev. Dr. James F. O'Hare, Rev. Dr. Francis X. Sinclair, Rev. Dr. Edward Hanna, Rev. Fridolin Pascual, Rev. Joseph Wirth, Rev. A. A. Notebaert, Rev. Herman Renker, Rev. J. E. Hartley, Rev. Wm. Gleason, Rev. T. C. Murphy, Rev. M. J. Hargather, Rev. Theophilus Szadziuski, Rev. Wm. Harrington and Rev. John B. Ege.

The altar was beautifully decorated with lilies and other flowers. Palms surrounded the base of the pulpit. The music was furnished by the mixed and sanctuary choirs. Th. Gaugler's Twelfth Mass was sung. Prof. Eugene Bonn presiding at the organ.

Rev. Dr. Edward J. Hanna delivered a scholarly and eloquent sermon. Dr. Hanna spoke substantially as follows:

"God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ," Gal. vi.

Far away in the bosom of the deep, its rock-bound coast indented with bays and magnificent ports lies a Green Isle. It holds no place in the great congress of nations, and is not heard of except when in its struggle to obtain freedom it writes under the iron heel of its oppressor. But Erin holy, Erin evangelizing, Erin the teacher of the nations of Europe, Erin upholding in every clime 'neath the sun the cross and the crown, has her name written in letters of gold upon the proudest page of history.

Fourteen centuries have passed since to this land of the West was brought a youthful prisoner; sold as a captive slave he was sent to herd cattle on the bleak mountain side of the north, and there in hunger, thirst cold, and nakedness, he passed his days and his nights with nought to comfort him but the faith and hope of Christians, and the ardent love of Jesus Christ. He, after seven years, escaped from captivity and returned to his childhood's home, to a mother's fond embrace, to scenes dear to him beyond measure.

But lo! while he sleeps, voices are wafted over the western sea, voices calling him to come and walk with the people he had left.

"For still in her darkness does Erin lie sleeping. Still doth the pure light its dawning delay."

He obeyed the inspiration, and began his long years of preparatory studies. His preparation completed, he turned toward Rome, the New Jerusalem, and the Holy Zion of the new dispensation, and by Celestine, Christ's Vicar, was he commissioned to announce the Gospel tidings to the Irish nation.

O day, blest in the annals of time, when Patrick, as Bishop, landed on Ireland's shore! O day, memorable in the history of Jesus' spouse, when Patrick, with the Gospel of Christ on his lips and the green shamrock in his hand, stood on Tara's height, midst the priests and the kings and the wise men of Erin.

O thrice, and four times, hallowed the day when Patrick raised aloft the standard of the Cross, the mark of Ireland's proud destiny; that Cross of Christ in which Ireland was to glory, that Cross which was to be the emblem of her Faith, of her trials, of her tears and sorrow, and which was finally to lead to victorious triumph.

"God forbid that I should glory save in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Patrick's praise, Patrick's glory, is the story of Catholic Ireland, and the story of the Cross and Jesus crucified.

The Concerts.

At Cathedral hall the concert was given by the Cathedral choir under the direction of Prof. Eugene Bonn. Choir was assisted by Mrs. J. B. O'Connor, soprano; Miss Anna McWebster, violinist; five young ladies of Nazareth academy; Robert E. Burleigh, cornetist, and the Polyhymniae. Cathedral hall has a capacity of about fifteen hundred and it was crowded to the utmost Thursday evening. To say that the entertainment was heartily enjoyed is putting it mildly. The entire programme was greeted by a continuous round of applause from beginning to end, greatly to the credit and evident satisfaction of Director Bonn.

At City hall the concert was given by the choir of St. Bridget's church under the direction of T. T. Brinn. The hall was so crowded that many who failed to gain admittance left and sought entrance at Cathedral hall, where the other concert was in progress. The programme at City hall was received with equal enthusiasm and both entertainments were a complete success.

The Shamrock.

Thou Erin's Isle, To sport awhile, As Love and Valor wandered, With Wit, the sprite, Whose quiver bright A thousand arrows quivered, Where'er they pass, A triple grass Sings out with dew-drops streaming, As softly green, As emeralds seen, Thro' purest chrysal gleaming, Oh! the Shamrock! The green immortal Shamrock! Chosen leaf of Bard and Chief Old Erin's native Shamrock.

Says valor, "See, They spring for me, Those leafy gems of morning!" Says Love "No, no, For me they grow, My fragrant path adorning!" Says Wit, "Perceive! The triple leaves, And cries: 'Oh! do not sever A type that blends Three god-like friends, Love, Valor, Wit, forever!' Oh! the Shamrock! The green, immortal Shamrock! etc.

Thou Gentle Girl, Thou gentle girl, as fair as pearl, no care thy heart oppresses, But glow of noon and rose of June are hid in its recesses. A daisy show'r on tree and flow'r hath in the night descended, Now every spray with bloom is gay, and buds sweet are blended. Sweetheart, I ween, love's arrow's keen, have pierced thy heart and hold it; Thine eyes of blue bear token true, thy bud of love's unfolded.

The Minstrel Boy, The Minstrel-boy to the war is gone, In the ranks of death you'll find him; His father's sword he has girded on, And his wild harp slung behind him, "Land! O! song!" said the warrior-bard, "Tho' all the world betrays thee, One sword, at least, thy rights shall guard, One faithful harp shall praise thee!"

C. R. B. A.

The second meeting of Branch 18 C. R. B. A. was held Tuesday, Mar. 15, at their room in new hall of the French church, Pleasant street, and to say that the meeting was a success would be putting it very light, for it was a grand success, and was indeed very encouraging to the members of this newly organized branch, for not only were the members in full attendance, but several new ones were initiated into the Council, and according to the doctor's report, several have been examined during the past week.

Lace and Heavy Curtains Of every description; fine fabrics for upholstering purposes; odd things in silk and cotton goods; rare color effects in tapestries for hangings or walls; extra qualities Bagdad portieres; novelties in rope portieres and fringe valances; velours, corduroys, printed velvets, Japanese crepe curtains, corah silks, embroidered shikis silks; special designs in fret and grille work; new styles in screens; a complete line of lace curtains in all makes and qualities. Ladies Should Attend the Opening.

The Kenyon Hat & Fur Co have long been known as leaders in fur garments, and have now taken a new departure, being about to start a cloak department in which may be found all the leading styles of sacques, jackets, wraps, etc., of medium and fine quality. This establishment has an excellent standing in our midst and it is, we are sure, with satisfaction that many of our lady readers will note the fact. The opening will take place Tuesday, March 22, and we trust our readers may be well represented.

In Memoriam.

The following resolutions have been adopted by Branch 98, C.M.B.A.: Whereas—God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our association our worthy brother, Patrick Washington, and

Whereas—We recognize our loss is his gain, and that he has only gone before, we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things for the best.

Resolved—That we extend his bereaved family in their great affliction our heart-felt sympathy, and commend them to Him, and be it further Resolved—That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, also entered in the minutes of the association, and published in the official organs.

Our Lady of Victory.

The following circular has been addressed to the members of the congregation:

At a meeting of the congregation held Feb. 14, 1892, the undersigned were appointed a committee to carry out the wishes of said meeting. The object was to devise ways and means of making up last year's deficiency, caused by expenses of an extraordinary nature. The opinion of each one present was asked and it appeared that a large majority favored a subscription as the best method of raising the funds needed, thereby obviating the necessity of having a fair, the work of which would, to a great extent, fall upon our pastor, whose health has already been considerably impaired by his arduous exertions for our spiritual and temporal welfare. During his term with us he has most assuredly done his share of the work and we think that it now becomes the duty of the members of the congregation to shoulder part of the labor and to testify of their devotedness to the church and their appreciation of our pastor's energetic and intelligent administration by their individual and generous efforts, and we trust that each member who is in receipt of a salary will subscribe something towards the liquidation of the deficiency. We, therefore, take the liberty of sending you a blank for subscription, which please return to Louis C. Langie, 321 East Main street. Hoping you will assist in making this movement a success, we are

Your humble servants, JOSEPH LEMIEUX LOUIS C. LANGIE HENRY LA CASSE SEVERE GENDREAU JOSEPH H. SAVARD.

At the above mentioned meeting, the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That we double our Sunday contributions as suggested by our pastor.

2. That a special subscription be made to cover last year's deficiency.

3. That a letter explaining the object of the meeting, together with a blank for subscription, be sent to each member of the congregation.

Amusements.

COOK OPERA HOUSE.

The is probably no comedian in the world who makes more noise than George Monroe, and the noise is not all without fun, by any means. Since Neil Burgess went into the farm life drama, there has been no male impersonator of eccentric feminine character who has met with such wide success as Mr. Monroe. It would be folly to say that art has anything to do with his extraordinary Aunt Bridget, and there probably never was such a wholesome, rollicking, unctuous and altogether remarkable creature as the woman he portrays; but its comicality appeals to certain persons with irresistible force. The special admirers of Mr. Monroe are very staunch in their support, and they go to see him many times during an engagement. His company of comedians and comediennees are unusually strong in their respective parts, and the singing is way above the average farce-comedy companies. The scenery of the second act is very realistic and the costumes are very attractive.

"Aunt Bridget's Baby" will occupy the boards of the Cook next week.

H. R. JACOB'S ACADEMY.

During the last act of "Dangers of a Great City," in Toronto, and while the final Tableau was on, the mechanical contrivance upon which Miss Austen was being hoisted gave way precipitating her to the stage. She was caught in the arms of one of the company, and thus saved from a serious accident. This mishap was destructive to the mechanical contrivance, and in consequence the management have been obliged to cancel one week of one night's stand and go to Rochester their next week stand, thus giving them an opportunity to remedy the breakage and render the effect more secure. Their engagement at The Academy Music begins Monday, March 21st, for one week and every day Matinee.

ROBINSON'S MUSEE.

Following constitutes the menu of attractions at the Musee this week: The human paradox, Chevalier Cluquet, the swordswallower, assisted by Mlle. Cluquet; the Damm Family or chestra; Prof. Dick's educated fleas remain over; McNulty's Punch and Judy; Alf Young, the wire king; Perry, the train-rober. In the theater—a great show headed by the electric 4, John Callen, Joseph Sparks, Belle Levarde and Lillian Melbourne, and others equally talented and versatile.
