Just now at the foot of our venerable altars,
The church with her children bends low;
With faith that ne'er dims and a trust that ne'er falters,
Adores Him, who all good doth bestow.

Although His sweet presence forever is with us,
In God,s holy temples on earth,
Refreshment and sweet benediction to give us,
This lesson to teach,—Human Worth.

With gratitude meet, and with love pure and tender,
This season the church sets apart,
A special devotion and homag : to render;
Which springs from the true Christian heart.

Sublime, is the church that received such a dower;
That makes it so holy and grand,
The presence of Jesus, the great God of power,
Through whom, ever firmly 'twill stand.

AROUND THE GLOBE.

The Superior General of the Franciscans, Most Rev. Louis of Parma, wishing to honor in an especial manner the memory of Columbus, one of the glories of the Third Order, has just announced to the members of the order that the Columbus centenary will be celebrated at the College of St. Anthony, Via Merulana, Rome, by a special celebration. Poetical and musical compositions are being prepared for the occasion.

A correspondent writing from Dublin says: "The clay cast of Miss Redmond's statute of the great temperance preacher is just completed. On Saturday the Father Mathew Memorial committee visited the studio of the distinguished sculptress, and expressed themselves in the highest terms of praise of the work. The figure is about nine feet high. The likeness is excellent, and the face wears a kindly expression which characterized the good priest. He is represented in Capuchin habit with his right hand raised above his head as if invoking a blessing."

The latest advices from Rome announce that the general chapter, which is to elect a successor to the lamented Father Anderledy, will not be held in that city until a later date than previously announced, in order that it may be held under more favorable conditions than are now obtainable. Two places are mentioned as the probable scene of the chapter, the German College and the Borromeo Palace, and the belief is still strong that the honors of the election will fall to the eminent Spanish Jesuit already named as the probable successor of General Anderledy.

In connection with the approaching reception into the church of a number of Protestants by Dr. Vaughan, archbishop of Westminister, Mr. T. F. Woodlock, a London writer, sends a list of recent converts of note: Lady Somers, wife of Lord Somers (not countess of that ilk, as inaccurately stated by the World); Baroness Sherborne; Mis Ivered of Wadhurst Castle, Sussex; Mr. J. L. Pearson, the ecclesiastical architect; Mr. Paul Lawrence Husskisson, grandson of the well remembered economist and statesman of that name; Mr. Gilbert Firebrace, Marshall, Furness (Lodge, Southsea; Major Walter Cotton, R A. I; Mr. John Long, the Firs, Walberton, Sussex (late Tenth Hussars); Mr. Neville Taylor of Rock Abbey; Mr. Lawrence Kip, grandson of a Protestant bishop; Mr. Waugh, son of Rev. Benjamin Waugh; Messrs. Colcman and Durant, members of the Anglican brotherhood, and Mr. Donald Arbuthnot, son of Hon. Donald Arbutnot. The two great universities have recently contributed some "recruits to Rome," one of whom has left the Isis to enter the learned Order of St. Benedict. Seven or eight clergymen of the establishment who have submitted to the old church are now preparing for the Catholic priesthood and among recent accessions occur the names of Rev. Howell Lloyd, M A., a gifted member of the Cambrain Archæological Society; Rev. Howell Pattison Lewis Blood, M. A., rector of West Bergholt, Colchester; Rev. Besant, M. A., of St. Michael's Shoreditch; Rev. Hugh Lean, M. A. a nephew of Rev. Mr. Oakes, chaplain of Percy House, Oxford; Rev. Herbert [illegible]

THE POPE'S JUBILEE.

Programme for the Episcopal Jubilee of Pope Leo the Thirteenth.

The following is the programme for the Jubilee celebration of the holy father, Pope Leo XIII., presented by the Central Executive Committee to his holiness, who has approved of it.

1. The national pilgrimages to Rome on the occasion of the episcopal jubilee of the holy father will commence at the end of October, 1892, and will terminate in 1893 To the 'Cercle de Saint Pierre" will be entrusted the duty of receiving the pilgrims on their arrivals at the Eternal city.

2. On the feast of the Epiphany, 1893, the children of the citizens will lay their offering at the feet of the Vicar of Jesus Christ.

3. Towards the end of January the Executive Central committee will render homage to his holiness, offering the works and gifts of Catholic Italian writers, collected by the "Cercle Romain de Sebastien."

4 On the 11th February, feast of Our Lady of Lourdes, the "Cercle de l'Immaculate Conception" will in its turn lay the homage of prayer at the feet of his holiness.

5. From the 13th to the 18th of February there will be sermons and other devotional exercises in some of the churches in Rome, in order to prepare the faithful to celebrate worthily the solemnity of the jubilee. The 'Societe Paimarie des Interets Catholiques" will watch over the careful execution of this part of the programme, and the "Societe Primaire de Saint Charles," for the propagation of good literature, will, on this occasion distribute gratuitously a large number of copies of the biography of his holiness.

6. On the 16th, 17th and 18th of February the Italian pilgrims will be received in the audiences, according to the rules which will be published on this subject.

7. On the 19th, the anniversary day of the episcopal consecration of Leo XIII., the holy father will celebrate mass in the baslica of the prince of the apostles All the pilgrims in the city as well as all the Catholic inhabitants, will have the advantages of assisting at this ceremony.

8. On one of the days proceedings the Presidential committee of the associatiation of the Catholic congres, and the Central executive commission of the jubilee celebrations will offer to the holy father the abole for his mass.

9. On the 20th, 21st, and 22nd, of February the Central committee will celebrate a solemn Triduum in thanksgiving in the church of Saint Laurent-in-Panisperna, where Leo received episcopal consecration During these three days solemn pontifical ceremonies will be held in this church, and ceremonies will be delivered by eloquent preachers.

10. The same Central committee will give a meal to 100 poor old men, to whom it will also distribute clothes and prepare them to receive holy communion in the church of Saint Laurent-in Panisperna. One of the Roman Catholic societies will undertake these charges. The members of the same society will, on the Sunday preceding the jubilee solemnly, visit the principal parochial churches, in order to distribute to the children attending the catechism classes, pictures, blessed medals, and many thousands of religious leaflets and books given by the society of Saint Paul, with the object of diffusing Catholic literature.

11 The Federation Piana and all the other Catholic associations will make it their duty on this happy occasion to pay the holy father their tribute of filial affection.

12 The scientific and literary academidians of Rome will hold from time to time during the duration of the pilgrimages solemn seances in honor of his holiness.

13. A complete catalogue of all the special works inaugurated and founded in Italy in the interests and for the welfare of youth and of workmen, on the occasion of this jubilee, will be presented to the pope. These works will be a lasting and useful monument raised for the glory of Leo XIII.

14. Other projects are under the consideration of the Central committee in order to give all the splendor and solemnity possible to this demonstration of love, and of the devotedness of the Catholic world to the august person of his holiness.

Rev. J. L O'Neil, O. P., who edited the Rosary since it was first issued, has been called away to other labors.

THE FARIBAULT TRANSFER.

An Interview with the Rt. Rev. Bishop on this Important Question

The New York World of last Monday published the letter addessed to the Bishops of this province by the Pope together with extracts from Archbishop Ireland's memorial to the Pope in regard to the schools at Faribault and Stillwater. The World also published the following interview with Rt. Rev. Bishop McQuaid.

"Although I have not yet officially received a copy of the Pope's letter," said Bishop McQuaid to a World reporter yesterday, "I am aware that it has been received. Why I was at first disposed to doubt the authenticity of the letter, was that in the first place, it reached quarters in this country outside the Province of New York, where of course it ought to first be received. In the next place the copy of the letter which I saw contained a statement dealing with the fear of persecution which I had reason to believe inaccurate.

"Now, I have not the slighest hesitation in talking plainly on this unfortunate subject. This is exactly how the matter stands far as we, the Bishops of New York, are concerned. We did hold the meeting referred to in the letter from the Pope. At that meeting we prepared the statement which has called forth the letter from His Holiness. We just dealt with two points—first, in reference to the danger of religious persecution; second, we asked that whatever decision would be rendered in the controversy, the cause of parochial schools should not be endangered. We had heard from one of our colleagues that both Archbishop Ireland and Cardinal Gibbons had communicated this threat of persecution to Rome.

"This same policy was adopted some years ago when Rome was threatened by certain ecclesiastics with a loss of Peter's pence if the the Pope declared against the Knights of Labor. In view of this, the Bishops of this province thought it their duty to make the representations to Rome we did not make in our letter.

A LIBEL ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

"We felt that the mere suspicion of anything bordering on persecution of Catholics in this country was a libel on the character of the American people and that Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland were not the only Americans in the hierarchy of the Catholic Church of America. We felt too, that it was time to check the impulsiveness and the imprudence of the Archbishop of St Paul in many of his extreme propositions and movements.

"This question is for Catholics here one of dollars and cents. No one here questions the right of Catholics to give a religious education in religious schools to their own children. The State, however, takes our money and refuses to give back a share of it for the maintenance of our schools because of religious education in these schools.

"We claim that our rights rest where our money goes. The American people are beginning to realize that a grievous wrong is being inflicted on the Catholics of the country by its members being obliged to support two sets of schools—the State schools and parochial schools.

"The foolish disturbance at Faribault and Stillwater, the silly language of the parish priest of Faribault untruthfully characterising our parochial school as un-American, has thrown back the cause of Catholic education in the United States for another quarter of a century.

"In demanding our rights we can never submit to a compromise on principle. According to the agreement entered into with the State school authorities at Faribault and Stillwater where, such a compromise has taken place.

"Aside from the inaccurate statement in the Pope's letter about the threats of persecution—the inaccuracy of which by the way is demonstrated in Archbishop Ireland's memorial, the extract from which I have just seen—that letter of His Holiness more strongly than anything that has yet appeared, condemns all 'neutral schools,' that is all schools from which God and the Christian religion are excluded in their teaching, and in it the decrees of the Council of Baltimore with regard to the necessity and urgency of thorough Catholic instruction, whenever possible, are more strongly brought out.

IS IT A NEUTRAL SCHOOL?

"Much of this controversy hinges upon the question, what really is the system of the Faribault school? Is it a 'neutral school' or not? If not a 'neutral school' to what extent does religion enter into it, and what right has the parish priest to exercise his canonical office of religious instruction with regard to children attending there?

"Another question is: Are the Catholic people of Faribault able to support a Catholic school, or are they simply unwilling ts support it? These are questions that will have to be answered.

"Some of the statements in the extracts from Archbishop Ireland's memorial are, indeed startling. His strictures on Germans I leave others to deal with. But I must say that, according to the Archbishop's story, the Far West, where he must have got his inspiration, is a far more benighted and bigoted place than I had supposed it to be. He has made it appear that Catholics, just because they are Catholics, have suffered in political matters on account of their religious views.

"Probably there is no city in the United States in which a smaller number of Catholic children frequent State schools than in the city of Rochester, and yet there is no city in which Catholics obtain more political preferment."

A GRATIFYING HARMONY.

On last Memorial Day at Rochester, Bishop McQuaid said the Catholic boys of the parochial schools were escorted to the platform where President Harrison and Governor Flower were to speak by the uniformed Catholic Knights of the city, while the boys of the public schools were escorted by the officers of the local Free Masons' lodges, showing a harmony chat was alluded to glowingly by the President and the Governor in their speeches.

On page No. 33 of the "copy" of Cardinal Gibbon's appendix to the memorial appears the threat referred to by Bishop McQuaid as having been made by the Cardinal. Here it is: "Your Holiness will permit me to conclude this letter by adding that the silence of the Holy See in this question has been clearly and will be still more interpreted as a virtual condemnation of the conduct and the views of the great Archbishop of St. Paul. If this opinion were shared by the American people, as would assuredly be the case in time, I fear that the national sentiment would become vehemently excited, and that harassing measures would be proposed for Catholics in the school question. Attempts in this direction have been made in the past; they have failed thus far, but it is important not to strengthen them by creating or fostering prejudices against us."

MONDAY—Br. 93, 121, 134.
WEDNESDAY—Br. 88.
FRIDAY—Br 87.

NOTES.

Branch 139 initiated one member and received two applications at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The representatives of the Roman Catholic Uniformed Union who attended the convention of the Knights of St. John in Toronto last week, have returned well pleased with their trip.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Central Council of the C. M. B. A. will be held in the rooms of branch 81 next Thursday evening.

An appeal has been sent out in behalf of Bro. John W. Quirk of branch 25, Dunkirk, N.Y. whose back was broken by a fall from a freight train about a year ago, and who now lies in a helpless condition at his home.

C. M. B. A. RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

As there is a movement on foot to organize a relief organization in this city in connection with the C. M. B. A. the following from the C M. B. A. Journal of Montreal will not be out of place.

In every issue of the JOURNAL we have endeavored to impress on our members in many branches in Canada, he necessity of organizieg a Relief Branch, in connection with their C. M. B. A. Branch. We have done our utmost to point out the great benefits realized by such an action.

The Relief Association has through its energetic offiers, sent time and again, circulars, constitutions and printed forms of all kinds, explaining its benefits, to every Branch in Canada and has gone to a considerable amount of expense to the Association in order to make the objects and benefits of the Order known to the members of the C. M. B. A.

The benefit of the Relief Association is so apparent, that it should require but little extra work on the part of any officer or member, to work up a branch with the members of any C. M. B. A. Branch. The number of members required to organize a branch should be found without trouble in every branch, and could be secured if only some member undertook to start the movement in his locality.

In another column of this JOURNAL will be found the report of the Convention of an organization—an organization similar to the C. M. B. A. We would advise every member to read it carefully. Within its lines can be found a lesson that should prove beneficial for all time to come, of the loss that has been sustained, by the neglect of our Branches, in not availing themselves of what has been within their reach for the past 3 years: the Relief Association.

Ninety-three Courts in Canada of this organization within a few years organized in localities where reports stated nothing further could be done in increasing C. M. B. A. membership. Yet, the Courts of this organization spring up as if by magic, and at the organization number more than the C. M. B. A. Branch, after perhaps five or more years of existence Can any member refute our statement, when we say that the weekly payment of the sum of $5 00 per week for 12 weeks, proved the attraction to young and old, and has led to the great success achieved?

We cannot retrace our steps, but we can provide for the future. Let each branch take this matter up at once. No more time should be lost and perhaps the C. M. B. A. may be able with its superior advantages, to regain the lost ground.

The Relief Association has now been before our membership 3 years last March. Its record, objects and benefits have been given in full. Every member in Canada should be fully informed as to its workings.

After 3 years disbursements, and with but a very small membership, it has accumulated over $500.00.

LYONS C. B. L.

Lyons Council 185 is flourishing three applications at last meeting and three or four for the next.

Henry F. Myers will leave Lyons July 13th for New York, to attend the State council of the C. B. L, as delegate from the Lyons council, No. 185.

CATHEDRAL SCHOOL.

Graduating Exercises held Tuesday evening of this Week.

The graduating exercises of Cathedral school were held Monday.

The graduating class who were presented by Rev. J. P. Kiernan were as follows: Francis T. Murray, William J. McGill, Francis R. Burgess, Thos J. Naylor, Francis D Culkin, Edward J. Schwab, Nellie Cleary, Elizabeth G. Coughlin, Stella M. Powers, Celia M. McNamara, Frances I. Beninik, Agnes O'Connor, Frances T. Murphy, Mary C. Meagher, Christopher C. Nuget, Henry F. Kondolph, John M. Potter, Charles J. Ennis, Michael J. Kreger, Agatha G. Noonan, Mary T. Phoney, Elizabeth R. Speed, Ella T. Burke, Florence A. McGuire and Agnes T Lucas.

Rev. Father Kiernan in presenting the class, reviewed and highly praised its work during the year, and went on to speak of the school and its courses of study. The average standing of the class of '92 was 90 per cent. Bishop McQuaid then began the presentation of dipolmas and medals. The A. B. Hone scholarship medal was awarded to John M. Potter, the sacred history medal, offered by Rev. Father Hartley, to Edward Gouhn, and the catechism medal to Catherine Naylor, Miss Francis Murray won by her excellent standing the prize for the tenth grade. The other grade prizes were won as follows: ninth grade, Henry Kondolf, and Elizabeth Coughlin; eighth grade, Louis Eldeman and Miss Josephine McKay; seventh grade, Edward J. Walsh and Miss Alice Quinn; sixth grade, Francis O'Reilly and Miss Georginia Marcille; fifth grade, Thos. and Catharine Naylor; fourth grade, Antonia Fromen and Augusta McIntyre; third grade, John Masseth and Miss Helen Dowling; second grade, Raymond Quirk and Mary Murphy; first grade, A Homer McGrath and Florence Malone; first grade, B. W. O'Neil and Elizabeth Slattery.

Bishop McQuaid addressed the class of '92. He congatulated them upon "the success and honor obtained and the prospects held out for future success in life." He said: "Some of the most important years of your whole life time have come to an end. No great work has been done by you, or work that will give you a name in history. Yet in these few years you have made a foundation on which may be built a structure of great eminence. We look forward to your greater progress and higher advancement, but always on the same foundation of religious principle and religious conduct. We congratulate you for your noble work in the presence of your parents, relatives and friends who have gathered here. When you do well our honor as well as yours is upheld. You are to us as dear as the apple of our eyes. We hope that you will have at heart the honor and glory of this school."

At the close of the address the class knelt and received the Bishop's blessing.

Mt. Morris.

Miss Clara King of Cohocton spent a few days last week with Miss Ida Kelley in this village.

Miss Julia Toole of Rochester visited friends in this village last week.

Daniel Dolan and George O'Mara of Genese attended the graduates' reception in the Seymour Opera House last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Donovan and family visited relatives in Buffalo last week.

M J. Noonan and M. E. Gore attended the convention in Chicago.

Miss Kittie Egan spent Sunday in Rochester.

Ithaca.

Following is a list of the pupils who have passed regents' examination from the parochial school, class of '95: Thomas McCarthy. Robert Dunlarey, James Shea, Charles Bawhuson, Charles McCarthy, John Reity, James Handlen, Thomas Bolger, Michael Gibbons, John Knight, Margaret Hickey, Clara Brost, Rose Kavanaugh, Helena Serventi, Elizabeth McMally, Margaret Kelly and Elizabeth Dunn. The parochial school closed Friday, after a very successful year.

The musical to be given by the pupils of the music class, takes place Thursday evening in the school hall. We wish them success.

Fairport.

Miss Lilian Kelly and Miss Nellie Conway of Rochester came to Fairport Saturday on their wheels, visited at the home of [illegible] Hyde.
